Subpart 2—Births

Notification of births

10 Birth in New Zealand must be notified

- (1) A birth in New Zealand must be notified to the Registrar-General.
- (2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a birth on a New Zealand aircraft or a New Zealand ship that occurs outside New Zealand.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 5

11 Preliminary notice of birth in New Zealand must be provided

- (1) Preliminary notice of a birth in New Zealand must be provided to the Registrar-General within 5 working days after the birth.
- (2) If a birth takes place during or immediately before the birth mother's admission to a hospital, the occupier of the hospital must provide the preliminary notice.
- (3) In any other case, the preliminary notice of the birth must be provided to the Registrar-General by—
 - (a) a medical practitioner who is present at the birth; or
 - (b) if no medical practitioner is present at the birth, a midwife who is present at the birth; or
 - (c) if neither a medical practitioner nor a midwife is present at the birth, the occupier of the premises in which the birth takes place or to which the birth mother is admitted immediately after the birth.
- (4) The Registrar-General must notify the Director-General of Health of all stillbirths for which a preliminary notice has been provided.
- (5) In this section,—

hospital means a hospital care institution as defined in section 58(4) of the Health and Disability Services (Safety) Act 2001

midwife means a health practitioner who is, or is deemed to be, registered with the Midwifery Council established by section 114(3) of the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 as a practitioner of the profession of midwifery occupier, in relation to any premises, means the person for the time being in charge of the premises.

12 Parents must notify birth in New Zealand

- (1) Both parents of a child born in New Zealand must, as soon as is reasonably practicable after the birth,—
 - (a) jointly notify the Registrar-General of the birth; and

- (b) inform the Registrar-General whether, to the best of their knowledge, either or both of the child's parents are New Zealand citizens or persons legally entitled to be in New Zealand indefinitely.
- (2) However,—
- (a) 1 parent may notify a birth if—
 - (i) the child has only 1 parent at law; or
 - (ii) the other parent is dead, unknown, missing, of unsound mind, or unable to act by virtue of a medical condition; or
 - (iii) it is not reasonably practicable for the other parent to jointly notify the birth because—
 - (A) the other parent is overseas; and
 - (B) the other parent cannot be contacted within a period of time that is reasonable in the circumstances; or
 - (iv) requiring the other parent to jointly notify the birth would cause unwarranted distress to either of the parents:
 - (b) if both parents fail or refuse to notify the birth, a guardian of the child (or another person authorised by the Registrar-General) may notify the birth.
- (3) Each parent notifying the birth of a child under this section may specify whether they wish to appear on the child's birth certificate as the child's "mother", "father", or "parent".
- (4) For the purposes of this section, a child has 1 parent at law if—
- (a) the child is born as a result of a woman acting alone in a situation described in section 20(1) or 22(1) of the Status of Children Act 1969; and
 - (b) the donor of the ovum, embryo, or semen (as the case may be) for the pregnancy does not become the partner of the woman after the time of conception but before the birth is notified for registration.

Compare: 1995 No 16 ss 9, 10

13 Notification of birth in New Zealand must include name information

- (1) A person notifying a birth under section 12 must specify 1 name as the child's surname and 1 or more other names.
- (2) However, the notification may include only 1 name for the child if—
- (a) the religious or philosophical beliefs or the cultural traditions of a parent (whether living or dead) or living guardian of the child require the child to have only 1 name; or
 - (b) the birth is a stillbirth and the name included is to be registered as the child's surname.

- (3) A name or combination of names must be treated as if it had not been notified for the purposes of subsection (1) if—
- (a) the Registrar-General declines to include the name or combination of names under section 18; and
 - (b) the Family Court has not determined that the name or combination of names should be included.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 19

14 Who must notify birth of child found abandoned in New Zealand

- (1) A person who has charge of a child must tell a Police employee as soon as practicable if the person—
- (a) believes that the child—
 - (i) is recently born; and
 - (ii) was found abandoned in New Zealand; and
 - (b) is not satisfied that the Registrar-General has been notified of the birth.
- (2) The Police employee must notify the Registrar-General if notified of the finding of a child under subsection (1).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 7

15 Any person may notify birth that occurs outside New Zealand on New Zealand ship or New Zealand aircraft

Any person may, at any time, notify the Registrar-General of a birth that occurs outside New Zealand on a New Zealand aircraft or New Zealand ship.

Registration of births

16 Registrar-General must register birth in New Zealand if notified within 2 years

- (1) The Registrar-General—
- (a) must register a birth in New Zealand that was notified within 2 years after the birth; and
 - (b) may register a birth in New Zealand that was notified more than 2 years after the birth if satisfied the birth has not been registered.
- (2) If the birth is a stillbirth, the Registrar-General must clearly identify the birth as a stillbirth in the birth record.

Compare: 1995 No 16 ss 5, 12, 16

17 When Registrar-General may register birth that occurs outside New Zealand

- (1) The Registrar-General may register a birth that occurs outside New Zealand only—
 - (a) if the birth is notified under section 14 or 15; or
 - (b) in accordance with section 32(2).
- (2) If a birth registered under subsection (1) is a stillbirth, the Registrar-General must clearly identify the birth as a stillbirth in the birth record.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 6

18 Registrar-General may decline to register certain names

- (1) The Registrar-General may register a name or combination of names only if, after the name or combination of names is registered, the person's birth record will include—
 - (a) 1 name as the person's surname and 1 or more other names; or
 - (b) if the religious or philosophical beliefs, or cultural traditions, of the person or of a parent (whether living or dead) or living guardian of the person require the person to have only 1 name, 1 name; or
 - (c) if the birth is a stillbirth, 1 name as the child's surname.
- (2) The Registrar-General must, if the requirements of subsection (1) are met, register the name or combination of names unless the Registrar-General considers it is undesirable in the public interest for a person to have the name or combination of names.
- (3) A person affected by a decision of the Registrar-General to decline to register a name or combination of names under subsection (2) may appeal against the decision under section 30.
- (4) For the purposes of this section and sections 30 and 71, it is undesirable in the public interest for a person to have a name or combination of names if the name or combination of names—
 - (a) might cause offence to a reasonable person; or
 - (b) is unreasonably long; or
 - (c) is, includes, or resembles an official title or rank (without adequate justification).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 18(1)–(5), (8)

19 Birth record must indicate if person is New Zealand citizen by birth

- (1) When the Registrar-General registers a birth, the Registrar-General must indicate in the birth record that the person born is a New Zealand citizen by birth if—

- (a) the Registrar-General is satisfied that the person is a New Zealand citizen by birth within the meaning of section 6 of the Citizenship Act 1977; or
 - (b) the chief executive or other appropriate officer of the department for the time being responsible for the administration of the Citizenship Act 1977 informs the Registrar-General that the person is a New Zealand citizen by birth.
- (2) In deciding for the purposes of subsection (1)(a) whether a person is a New Zealand citizen by birth, the Registrar-General must have regard to all of the following information that is available:
- (a) information provided by any guardian of the person:
 - (b) the birth record of the person's parent or parents:
 - (c) information about the citizenship status or immigration status of the person or the person's parent or parents:
 - (d) whether the person's parent or parents have immunity from jurisdiction under the Diplomatic Privileges and Immunities Act 1968 or the Consular Privileges and Immunities Act 1971, or are enemy aliens (within the meaning of the Citizenship Act 1977).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 12A

20 Birth record must include parents' details

- (1) The Registrar-General must register information about the identity of the parent or parents who notify a birth of a child under section 12 in the child's birth record.
- (2) The Registrar-General must register information about the identity of a parent of the child who has not notified the child's birth if—
 - (a) 1 parent notified the birth under section 12(2)(a)(ii) to (iv) and the Registrar-General is satisfied that the information relates to the other parent of the child; or
 - (b) the information relates to a man who is the child's father and—
 - (i) the Family Court or the High Court has declared the man to be the child's father; or
 - (ii) the Family Court has made a paternity order declaring the man to be the child's father; or
 - (iii) the man has been appointed or declared a guardian of the child under section 19 or 20 of the Care of Children Act 2004; or
 - (c) the information relates to a person who requests, in accordance with any directions issued by the Registrar-General, that the information be included and the Registrar-General is satisfied that either or both of the following apply:

- (i) the person making the request is a parent of the child;
 - (ii) the other parent does not dispute the accuracy of the information.
- (3) A person affected by a decision of the Registrar-General to register, or to decline to register, information under subsection (2)(a) or (c) may appeal against the decision under section 30.
- (4) For the purposes of this section and sections 21 and 22, the only information recorded under this Act in respect of an adopted person is the information in the adopted person's original birth record.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 15

Registration of information relating to parents' subsequent marriage or civil union

21 Parents may request that birth record include information relating to parents' marriage or civil union after child's birth

- (1) A child's parents who marry or enter into a civil union with each other after the child's birth may request that information relating to the marriage or civil union be registered in the child's birth record.
- (2) The request must be made—
 - (a) jointly by both parents; or
 - (b) if 1 parent is dead, unknown, missing, of unsound mind, or unable to act by virtue of a medical condition, by 1 parent.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 17(1)

22 Registration of information relating to parents' marriage or civil union after birth

- (1) The Registrar-General must, if requested under section 21, register information relating to a marriage or civil union in a child's birth record if satisfied that the parents of the child entered the marriage or civil union after the child's birth.
- (2) A person affected by a decision of the Registrar-General to register, or to decline to register, information under subsection (1) may appeal against the decision under section 30.

Registration of nominated sex

23 Eligibility to apply for registration of nominated sex

- (1) A person may apply to the Registrar-General for registration of the person's nominated sex only if—
 - (a) the person's birth is registered under this Act; and
 - (b) the person is 16 years old or older.

- (2) The guardian of a child may apply to the Registrar-General for registration of the child's nominated sex only if—
- (a) the child's birth is registered under this Act; and
 - (b) the guardian has the child's consent.

24 Application by eligible person for registration of their nominated sex

- (1) An application by an eligible person for registration of the person's nominated sex must—
- (a) specify male, female, or any other sex or gender specified in regulations for the purposes of this paragraph as the person's nominated sex; and
 - (b) include a statutory declaration by the eligible person verifying that—
 - (i) the eligible person identifies as a person of the nominated sex; and
 - (ii) the eligible person understands the consequences of the application; and
 - (c) if the eligible person is 16 or 17 years old and has never been in a marriage, civil union, or de facto relationship, be accompanied by—
 - (i) the written consent of their guardian; or
 - (ii) a letter of support from a suitably qualified third party that confirms that the third party believes that—
 - (A) the eligible 16- or 17-year-old understands the consequences of the proposed registration of the nominated sex; and
 - (B) the eligible 16- or 17-year-old's preference is for the nominated sex to appear as their registered sex on any birth certificate issued under this Act; and
 - (d) if the Registrar-General has previously registered a nominated sex for the person under section 26, meet any additional requirements set out in regulations; and
 - (e) be accompanied by the prescribed fee.
- (2) An eligible person may apply for registration of a nominated sex at the same time as the person applies for a name change under section 69.

25 Application by guardian of eligible child for registration of child's nominated sex

- (1) An application by the guardian of an eligible child for registration of the child's nominated sex must—
- (a) specify male, female, or any other sex or gender specified in regulations for the purposes of this paragraph as the child's nominated sex; and
 - (b) include a statutory declaration by the guardian of the eligible child verifying that the guardian believes that the eligible child identifies as a person of the nominated sex; and

- (c) be accompanied by a letter of support from a suitably qualified third party that confirms that the third party believes that—
 - (i) the eligible child understands the consequences of the proposed registration of the nominated sex; and
 - (ii) the eligible child’s preference is for the nominated sex to appear as their registered sex on any birth certificate issued under this Act; and
 - (d) if the Registrar-General has previously registered a nominated sex for the eligible child under section 26, meet any additional requirements set out in regulations; and
 - (e) be accompanied by the prescribed fee.
- (2) The guardian of an eligible child may apply for registration of a nominated sex for the child at the same time as they apply for registration of a name change for the child under section 70.

26 Registrar-General must register nominated sex if requirements met

- (1) The Registrar-General must register the nominated sex specified in an application by an eligible person if satisfied that the requirements of sections 23(1) and 24 are met.
- (2) The Registrar-General must register the nominated sex specified in an application by the guardian of an eligible child if satisfied that the requirements of sections 23(2) and 25 are met.
- (3) A person affected by a decision of the Registrar-General to decline to register a person’s nominated sex under subsection (1) or (2) may appeal against the decision under section 30.

27 Effect of registration of nominated sex

- (1) A person’s birth certificate must, if it is issued after registration of the person’s nominated sex, contain the information that it would have contained if, at the time of that registration,—
 - (a) the person’s nominated sex had always been their registered sex; and
 - (b) the person’s associated name had always been their registered name.
- (2) A person’s associated name is,—
 - (a) in the case of a person who was an eligible child or eligible 16- or 17-year-old when the application to register their nominated sex was made,—
 - (i) the person’s registered name as at the time of registration of their nominated sex; or
 - (ii) if the person’s registered name has subsequently been changed, their registered name immediately following registration of the first name change after registration of their nominated sex:

- (b) in the case of any other person,—
 - (i) the person’s registered name as at the time of registration of their nominated sex; or
 - (ii) if the person’s registered name has subsequently been changed as a result of an application made at the same time as the application to register their nominated sex, the person’s registered name immediately following registration of that name change.
- (3) The birth certificate must not contain any information (other than the person’s nominated sex) that may indicate that a nominated sex has been registered for the person under this Part.
- (4) For the purposes of subsections (1) to (3), a person’s nominated sex is the nominated sex most recently registered for the person under this Part as at the date of issue of the birth certificate.

28 Registrar-General must give effect to decisions under Care of Children Act 2004

- (1) The Registrar-General must give effect to an order under—
 - (a) section 46C of the Care of Children Act 2004 (which relates to reviews of a refusal by a guardian to give consent) that requires the Registrar-General to register an eligible 16- or 17-year-old’s nominated sex in the eligible 16- or 17-year-old’s birth record; or
 - (b) section 46R of the Care of Children Act 2004 (which relates to disputes between guardians) that requires the Registrar-General to register an eligible child’s nominated sex in the eligible child’s birth record.
- (2) This section is subject to section 30 but overrides any other provision in this Part.

29 Other correction powers not affected

Nothing in sections 24 to 28 or section 30 limits or affects the power of the Registrar-General to—

- (a) correct or delete information in the person’s original birth record relating to a person’s sex (or information that a person is of indeterminate sex) under section 131(a) or (b); or
- (b) register information relating to a person’s sex under section 131(e) if no information relating to the person’s sex is registered (including because information has been deleted under section 131(b)).

Birth certificates

80 Contents of birth certificates generally

- (1) A birth certificate in respect of a person must contain all of the information that—
 - (a) is recorded in the registry in relation to the person; and
 - (b) is required by regulations to be contained in a birth certificate.
- (2) The Registrar-General must also indicate on the birth certificate—
 - (a) that the person was stillborn (if the Registrar-General is satisfied that the person was stillborn); or
 - (b) that the person is deceased (if the Registrar-General is satisfied that the person is dead); or
 - (c) that the Registrar-General has received a certificate or information relating to the death of the person outside New Zealand (if the Registrar-General has recorded the receipt of a certificate or information in relation to the death under section 50).
- (3) This section is subject to the following sections:

- (a) section 27 (which relates to the contents of a person's birth certificate after registration of the person's nominated sex);
- (b) section 81 (which relates to the contents of a person's birth certificate issued after a correction of information in the person's birth record);
- (c) section 83 (which relates to the contents of an adopted person's birth certificate).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 67

81 Contents of birth certificate issued after correction of information in birth record

- (1) A birth certificate issued in respect of a person after a clerical error in the registry has been corrected under section 131(a) must contain—
 - (a) the information that the certificate would contain if the error had never been made; and
 - (b) no other information that may indicate that a correction has been made.
- (2) A birth certificate issued in respect of a person after information in the registry relating to the person's sex has been deleted under section 131(b) must contain—
 - (a) the information that it would contain if the deleted information had never been registered; and
 - (b) no other information that may indicate that information relating to the person's sex has been deleted under section 131.
- (3) A birth certificate issued in respect of a person after information in the registry relating to the person's sex has been registered under section 131(e) must contain—
 - (a) the information that it would contain if the person's registered sex following registration of the information had always been the person's registered sex; and
 - (b) no other information that may indicate that information relating to the person's sex has been registered under section 131(e).
- (4) A birth certificate issued in respect of a person after information in the registry relating to the person's sex has been deleted or registered under section 131(b) or (e) must also contain the information that it would contain if the person's name since birth had been—
 - (a) the person's registered name at the time of the most recent registration or deletion of information relating to the person's sex; or
 - (b) if an application for a name change was made by or on behalf of the person at the same time as a request for the registration or deletion of information relating to the person's sex, the person's name following registration of that name change.

- (5) Despite subsection (4), any information relating to a name change after the most recent registration, correction, or deletion of information relating to the person's sex (other than a name change described in subsection (4)(b)) must appear on a birth certificate issued after the name change in accordance with section 80(1).
- (6) Section 27 applies instead of subsections (3) to (5) if the person's registered sex at the time the birth certificate is issued is a nominated sex registered under section 26.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 66

82 Request for adopted person's birth certificate must specify most recent names

A request made under section 78 for an adopted person's birth certificate must be made by reference to—

- (a) the name most recently registered for the adopted person under section 32 or 33 (other than a name or names derived from an adoption that has been discharged); or
- (b) a name or names later registered for the adopted person under section 71.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 63(1)

83 Contents of adopted person's birth certificate

- (1) The Registrar-General may issue an adopted person's birth certificate only to a person who requests the certificate in accordance with section 82.
- (2) The Registrar-General may issue an adopted person's original birth certificate only if section 11(4)(a) of the Adult Adoption Information Act 1985 applies (which relates to access to an original birth certificate by a social worker).
- (3) A birth certificate issued to a person who requested the certificate in accordance with section 82 must—
 - (a) contain the information that the certificate would contain if—
 - (i) the adoptive parents were the adopted person's biological parents; and
 - (ii) the name or combination of names first registered for the adopted person after the adoption had been the adopted person's registered name or names since birth; and
 - (b) include (or, as the case may be, not include) an indication that the adoptive parents are adoptive parents, in accordance with the most recently registered of the following:
 - (i) the wishes of the adoptive parents referred to in section 31(d);
 - (ii) an indication requested by the adopted person or the adoptive parents in an application under section 34.

- (4) The certificate must not contain any other information (other than any indication required by section 80(2)(b) or (c)).
- (5) In this section, adoptive parents means the adoptive parents who most recently adopted the adopted person (other than under an adoption order that has been discharged).
- (6) This section is subject to the Adult Adoption Information Act 1985.

Other certificates

84 Contents of death certificate

A death certificate in respect of a person must contain all of the information that—

- (a) is recorded in the registry in relation to the person; and
- (b) is required by regulations to be contained in a death certificate.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 69

85 Contents of marriage or civil union certificate

- (1) A marriage certificate in respect of a marriage must contain all of the information—

- (a) that is recorded in the registry in relation to the marriage; and
- (b) that is required by regulations to be contained in a marriage certificate.

- (2) A civil union certificate in respect of a civil union must contain all of the information—

- (a) that is recorded in the registry in relation to the civil union; and
- (b) that is required by regulations to be contained in a civil union certificate.

- (3) If the Registrar-General has recorded the receipt of a certificate or information relating to a divorce or dissolution of the marriage or civil union outside New Zealand under section 63, the Registrar-General must also indicate on the marriage certificate or civil union certificate that the Registrar-General has received a certificate or information relating to the divorce or dissolution.

Compare: 1995 No 16 ss 70, 70A

86 Contents of name-change certificate

- (1) A name-change certificate in respect of a person must contain the information—

- (a) that is recorded in the registry in relation to the person; and
- (b) that is required by regulations to be contained in a name-change certificate.

- (2) A name-change certificate may be issued in respect of a person only if the person's birth is not registered under this Act.

Eligibility to access information

88 Person must confirm identity to access information under this subpart

- (1) Only a person who confirms the person's identity in accordance with subsection (2) may—
 - (a) search information made available by the Registrar-General under section 89 or 90; or
 - (b) request access to information and source documents under section 91.
- (2) The person must—
 - (a) satisfy any evidence of identity requirements prescribed by regulations; and

- (b) in respect of a request under section 91, provide any means of identification that the Registrar-General reasonably requires to confirm the identity of the person making the request.

General searches

89 Registrar-General may make certain limited information available to search online

- (1) The Registrar-General may make the following information available to search on an Internet site maintained by, or on behalf of, the Registrar-General:
 - (a) in respect of a birth (including a stillbirth), the year the birth was registered and the name of the person born:
 - (b) in respect of a marriage or civil union, the year the marriage or civil union was registered and the name of the parties to the marriage or civil union:
 - (c) in respect of a death, the year the death was registered and the name at death of the person who died.
- (2) The Registrar-General may also make available, in respect of a birth, marriage, or death recorded in a pre-1998 register, the folio number for the information.
- (3) Information that is subject to a non-disclosure direction under section 103 may not be made available under this section.

90 Registrar-General may make historical information available online

The Registrar-General may make any or all of the following historical information (in addition to the limited information available under section 89) available to search on an Internet site maintained by, or on behalf of, the Registrar-General:

- (a) in respect of a birth (excluding a stillbirth),—
 - (i) the name, all registered name changes, and sex of the person born:
 - (ii) the date of the birth:
 - (iii) the place of the birth or the place where it was registered, or both:

Named person searches

91 Any person may request access to information in relation to named person

- (1) A person whose identity is confirmed under section 88 may request the Registrar-General to—
 - (a) search for information relating to a named person’s birth, death, marriage (or intended marriage), civil union, or name change; or
 - (b) provide a printout or certificate of the information; or
 - (c) permit the inspection of, or provide a copy of, a source document relating to a named person’s birth, death, marriage (or intended marriage), civil union, or name change; or

- (d) provide electronic access to a page of a pre-1998 register that contains historical information in respect of a named person.
- (2) The request must—
 - (a) specify the named person to whom the information or document relates; and
 - (b) be made in accordance with any directions issued by the Registrar-General; and
 - (c) be accompanied by the prescribed fee.
- (3) A person making a request on behalf of another person must—
 - (a) identify the person on whose behalf the request is made; and
 - (b) specify whether the person making the request is making the request in their capacity as the personal representative of the person on whose behalf the request is made; and
 - (c) provide any means of identification that the Registrar-General reasonably requires to confirm the identity of the person on whose behalf the request is made.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 74

92 Registrar-General may provide access to information or document unless restriction applies

- (1) The Registrar-General may, if satisfied that the requirements of this subpart are met, provide access to the information or document requested under section 91.
- (2) This section is subject to—
 - (a) section 93 (which restricts who may access source documents); and
 - (b) sections 102 to 110 (which provide for other restrictions on access to information under this subpart).

93 Only certain persons may access source documents

- (1) Only the following persons may inspect or obtain a copy of a source document:
 - (a) the individual who is the subject of the information contained in a source document (or the individual's personal representative);
 - (b) a person who requires access for—
 - (i) the maintenance of the accuracy of information recorded in the registry; or
 - (ii) a purpose consistent with the purpose of recording information under this Act that cannot be met by obtaining a certificate or printout.
- (2) However, a person described in subsection (1)(a) may not inspect or obtain a copy of a pre-1998 register under section 92 (but see section 94).

- (3) Despite subsections (1) and (2), the Registrar-General (or other person who has control over notices of intention to marry) may make a notice of intention to marry containing historical information available for inspection by the public for a prescribed fee (if any).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 75

94 Page of pre-1998 register accessed electronically may contain additional information

- (1) The Registrar-General may provide electronic access to a page of a pre-1998 register requested under section 91 only if the page contains historical information relating to the birth, death, marriage (or intended marriage), civil union, or name change of the named person specified in the request.
- (2) The page may also contain other information relating to that person or another person, including either or both of the following:
- (a) restricted information:
 - (b) a notation that is deemed to be deleted or expunged under section 110.

Special purpose searches

95 Non-disclosure direction does not apply to searches for certain authorised purposes

The Registrar-General may comply with a request for access to information under section 91 by any of the following persons even if the information is subject to a non-disclosure direction:

- (a) a person who requires the information for use in proceedings in a court or tribunal:
- (b) an adopted person who is searching for information about the adopted person's birth family:
- (c) an executor, an administrator, or a trustee of an estate or a trust who requires the information for the administration of the estate or trust:
- (d) a person who satisfies the Registrar-General that access to the information or a source document is required for the maintenance of the accuracy of the information:
- (e) a person who satisfies the Registrar-General that access to a source document is required for a purpose consistent with the purpose of recording information under this Act that cannot be met by obtaining a certificate or printout.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 75F(1)

96 Non-disclosure direction and access register requirements do not apply to certain searches by public sector agencies

- (1) This section applies to a request for access to information under section 91 by—
 - (a) a public sector agency, if access to the information by the public sector agency is necessary to avoid prejudice to the maintenance of the law (including the prevention, detection, investigation, prosecution, and punishment of offences); or
 - (b) a public sector agency, if disclosure of the information to the public sector agency is contemplated or authorised by any other enactment; or
 - (c) an intelligence and security agency, if it requires the information for the performance of its functions; or
 - (d) the New Zealand Police, for the purpose of notifying next of kin in the case of a person's death.
- (2) If this section applies, the Registrar-General—
 - (a) is not required to record the request in the access register under section 98(2); and
 - (b) may comply with the request even if the information is subject to a non-disclosure direction.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 75F(2)

*Searches in public interest or named person's interest97 Certain public sector agencies may request searches in public interest or named person's interest

- (1) A department or an organisation may request the Registrar-General to search for, or provide, information in the registry for a purpose—
 - (a) in the public interest; or
 - (b) in a named person's interest.
- (2) The request must—
 - (a) specify the reasons for the request (including why it is necessary or desirable in the public interest or a named person's interest); and
 - (b) in the case of a search in a named person's interest, name the person in whose interest the search is requested; and
 - (c) be made in accordance with any directions issued by the Registrar-General.
- (3) The Registrar-General may authorise a search for, or provide access to, the information requested only if the department or organisation satisfies the Registrar-General that searching for, or providing access to, the information—
 - (a) is required for a purpose consistent with this Act's purposes; and

- (b) is necessary or desirable in—
 - (i) the public interest; or
 - (ii) the interest of the person named under subsection (2)(b).
- (4) The Registrar-General may provide access to information under subsection (3) even if the information is subject to a non-disclosure direction.
- (5) In this section,—
 - department means a government department named in Part 1 of Schedule 1 of the Ombudsmen Act 1975
 - organisation means—
 - (a) an organisation named in Part 2 of Schedule 1 of the Ombudsmen Act 1975; or
 - (b) an organisation named in Schedule 1 of the Official Information Act 1982.

Access register

98 Registrar-General must keep access register

- (1) The Registrar-General must ensure that an access register is kept for the purposes of this Act.
- (2) The access register must—
 - (a) record, as a separate entry, every request under section 91(1)(b) or (c) or 97(1) for access to information or source documents relating to the registration of a person's birth, marriage (or intended marriage), civil union, name change, or death; and
 - (b) set out the following information under each entry:
 - (i) the name of the person who made the request; and
 - (ii) any information provided under section 91(3)(a) or (b) by the person who made the request; and
 - (iii) the date on which the request was made; and
 - (iv) whether the Registrar-General complied with the request.
- (3) Subsection (2)(a) does not apply to—
 - (a) a request to which section 96 (which relates to searches by certain public sector agencies for certain authorised purposes) applies; or
 - (b) a request for access to historical information or a source document containing historical information.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 75D

99 Individual or individual's representative may request copy of access register

- (1) The following persons may request the Registrar-General to provide a copy of all entries made in the access register in relation to information in the registry about an individual's birth, death, marriage (or intended marriage), civil union, or name change:
 - (a) the individual who is the subject of the information;
 - (b) the individual's personal representative.
- (2) The request must—
 - (a) be made in accordance with any directions issued by the Registrar-General; and
 - (b) be accompanied by—
 - (i) the prescribed fee (if any); and
 - (ii) any means of identification that the Registrar-General reasonably requires to confirm the identity of the person making the request.
- (3) An individual's personal representative who makes an application on behalf of the individual under subsection (1)(b) must have the written authority of, or be otherwise properly authorised by, the individual to make the request.

100 Public sector agency may request copy of access register for maintenance of law

A public sector agency may request the Registrar-General to provide a copy of all entries made in the access register in relation to any person if it is necessary to avoid prejudice to the maintenance of the law (including for the prevention, detection, investigation, prosecution, and punishment of offences).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 75E

101 Registrar-General may comply with request if requirements met

- (1) The Registrar-General may provide a copy of entries in an access register to a person only if satisfied that the requirements of section 99 or 100 are met.
- (2) The Registrar-General must adopt appropriate procedures to ensure that section 99(3) is complied with.
- (3) The Registrar-General must comply with a request by a public sector agency in accordance with section 100 as soon as practicable after the request is made.

Compare: 1995 No 16 ss 75A(5), 75E(2)

Non-disclosure directions

102 Subject of information may request non-disclosure direction

- (1) The following persons may request that the Registrar-General direct that an individual's registered information not be disclosed to the public:
 - (a) in the case of an individual's birth information, marriage information, civil union information, or name-change information, the individual or the individual's personal representative;
 - (b) in the case of an individual's death information, the individual's personal representative.
- (2) The request must be—
 - (a) made—
 - (i) on 1 or more prescribed grounds; and
 - (ii) in accordance with any directions issued by the Registrar-General; and
 - (b) accompanied by—
 - (i) the prescribed fee (if any); and
 - (ii) any means of identification that the Registrar-General reasonably requires to confirm the identity of the person making the request.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 75A(1), (2)(b), (3), (4)

103 Effect of non-disclosure direction

- (1) The Registrar-General must, if satisfied that the requirements of section 102 are met,—
 - (a) direct that the requested information not be disclosed to a person under section 89 or 92; and
 - (b) record the non-disclosure direction in the registry.
- (2) The Registrar-General may comply with a request under section 91 to access an individual's information that is subject to a non-disclosure direction only if—
 - (a) the request is made—
 - (i) by the individual who is the subject of that information; or
 - (ii) by that individual's personal representative; or
 - (iii) by a person described in section 95 or 96; or
 - (b) the information that is subject to the non-disclosure direction is withheld from the information provided or made available.
- (3) The Registrar-General must withhold any information that is subject to a non-disclosure direction from information provided or made available to any other person under section 89 or 92.

- (4) The Registrar-General must inform a person who makes a request for information that is withheld under this section—
- (a) that the information exists; but
 - (b) that the information cannot be disclosed because of a non-disclosure direction.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 75B(1), (2), (6)

104 Duration of non-disclosure direction

- (1) A non-disclosure direction is in force from the date on which the Registrar-General gives the direction and continues in force until the earlier of—
- (a) the expiry of the prescribed period; and
 - (b) the date on which the Registrar-General directs that the direction be withdrawn—
 - (i) in accordance with a request under subsection (2); or
 - (ii) in accordance with subsection (3).
- (2) An individual who is the subject of the information to which a non-disclosure direction relates or the individual's personal representative may, at any time, request the Registrar-General—
- (a) to withdraw the direction; or
 - (b) on 1 or more prescribed grounds, to reinstate the direction after it has been withdrawn or after the prescribed period referred to in subsection (1)(a) has expired.
- (3) The Registrar-General must withdraw a non-disclosure direction if—
- (a) the person who requested the direction is convicted of an offence under section 138(1)(d); or
 - (b) the Registrar-General, after making any inquiries that the Registrar-General considers reasonably necessary for the purpose of this Act, is satisfied that the request was not made on any grounds referred to in section 102(2)(a)(i).
- (4) Section 102(2) applies with any necessary modifications to a request under subsection (2).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 75B(3)–(5)

105 Registrar-General may provide limited verification of certain information subject to non-disclosure direction

- (1) This section applies if a person who is the subject of information that is subject to a non-disclosure direction makes publicly available—
- (a) any part of the information that is subject to the non-disclosure direction; or

- (b) any information corresponding to any part of the information that is subject to the non-disclosure direction.
- (2) Any person may request the Registrar-General to verify whether the information that has become publicly available matches, or is consistent with, the information that is subject to a non-disclosure direction.
- (3) The request must be—
 - (a) made in accordance with any directions issued by the Registrar-General; and
 - (b) accompanied by—
 - (i) a copy of the information that has become publicly available or any other details that are sufficient, in the Registrar’s opinion, to confirm that the information is publicly available; and
 - (ii) the prescribed fee (if any); and
 - (iii) any means of identification that the Registrar-General reasonably requires to confirm the identity of the person making the request (and if applicable, the identity of the person on whose behalf the request is made).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 75C

Restricted information

106 Access to restricted adoption information

The Registrar-General may provide a person with access to restricted adoption information only—

- (a) if satisfied that the person is—
 - (i) an executor, an administrator, or a trustee of an estate or a trust who wishes to access the information for a purpose in connection with the administration of the estate or trust (and the information is material to that purpose); or
 - (ii) a celebrant who wishes to access the information for the purpose of investigating forbidden degrees of relationship under the Marriage Act 1955 or Civil Union Act 2004; or
- (b) if satisfied that section 11(4)(a) of the Adult Adoption Information Act 1985 authorises access to the information (but in that case the Registrar-General may permit access only to the extent authorised by that section); or
- (c) if satisfied that all of the following persons are dead:
 - (i) the adopted person who is the subject of the information; and
 - (ii) the adoptive parent or parents of the adopted person; and

- (iii) the biological parent or parents of the adopted person (if information in respect of the biological parents is registered in the adopted person's birth record); or
- (d) if satisfied that 120 years has passed since the birth of the adopted person; or
- (e) in accordance with section 109 or 113.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 76

107 Access to restricted name-change information and restricted sex information

- (1) The Registrar-General may provide access to restricted name-change information in respect of a person whose nominated sex has been registered under section 26 only—
 - (a) if satisfied that the person requesting access is—
 - (i) the subject of the information; or
 - (ii) an executor, an administrator, or a trustee of an estate or a trust who seeks to access the information for a purpose in connection with the estate or trust (and the information is material to that purpose); or
 - (b) if satisfied that the person who is the subject of the information was born more than 120 years ago; or
 - (c) in accordance with subsection (3) or section 109 or 113.
- (2) The Registrar-General may provide access to restricted name-change information in respect of a person who has had information relating to their sex registered, corrected, or deleted under section 131 only—
 - (a) if satisfied that the person requesting access is the subject of the information; or
 - (b) if satisfied that the person who is the subject of the information was born more than 120 years ago; or
 - (c) in accordance with subsection (3) or section 109 or 113.
- (3) The Registrar-General may notify a government agency that has an interest in ensuring that people do not have more than 1 identity of—
 - (a) the fact that a correction or change to a person's birth information relating to sex has been registered; and
 - (b) the person's names at the time of the correction or change; and
 - (c) any new names later adopted by the person.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 77

108 Access to restricted identity information

- (1) The Registrar-General may provide access to restricted identity information only—
 - (a) if satisfied that the person requesting access is the subject of the information; or
 - (b) if satisfied that the person who is the subject of the information—
 - (i) has given the Registrar-General written consent to provide access to the person requesting the information; or
 - (ii) is dead; or
 - (iii) was born more than 120 years ago; or
 - (c) in accordance with subsection (4) or section 109 or 113.
- (2) The Registrar-General must, as soon as practicable after a person requests access to information in the registry in respect of a person for whom a new identity has been created,—
 - (a) notify the person who has the new identity that the information has been requested (if the Registrar-General has the person's latest contact details); and
 - (b) notify—
 - (i) the Commissioner of Police (if the new identity was created as a result of a request by the Minister of Police); or
 - (ii) the Director-General of an intelligence and security agency (if the new identity was created as a result of a request by the Director-General of an intelligence and security agency).
- (3) The Registrar-General may also inform the person who has the new identity and the Commissioner of Police or the Director-General of an intelligence and security agency (whichever is notified under subsection (2)) of the following information:
 - (a) the date and time of the request:
 - (b) the name, address, and contact details (if known) of the person who made the request:
 - (c) the information requested:
 - (d) the information (if any) provided to the person as a result of the request.
- (4) The Registrar-General may—
 - (a) notify a government agency that has an interest in ensuring that people do not have more than 1 identity that a new identity has been created for the person under section 77; and
 - (b) provide details about the person (such as the person's date of birth, former name, and new name) to that agency.

- (5) However, the Registrar-General may do so only with the written approval of—
- (a) the Commissioner of Police (if the new identity was created as a result of a request by the Minister of Police); or
 - (b) the Director-General of an intelligence and security agency (if the new identity was created as a result of a request by the Director-General of an intelligence and security agency).

109 Registrar-General may provide access to restricted information on court order

The Registrar-General may provide access to restricted information on the order of the Family Court, the District Court, or the High Court—

- (a) for the purposes of a prosecution for making a false statement; or
- (b) in the event of any question as to the validity of—
 - (i) any interim order or adoption order (if the order relates to adoption information); or
 - (ii) a marriage or civil union (if the order relates to new identity information); or
 - (iii) any information recorded under section 26 (if the order relates to restricted name-change information or restricted sex information); or
- (c) on any other special ground.

Subpart 2—Disclosure and sharing of information

Disclosure to public sector agencies

111 Registrar-General may disclose information under approved information sharing agreement

- (1) The Registrar-General may share any of the following personal information about an identifiable individual under an approved information sharing agreement:
 - (a) personal information recorded in the registry;
 - (b) personal information received from an overseas registration authority.
- (2) Despite subsection (1), the Registrar-General may share restricted information under an approved information sharing agreement only in accordance with section 107(3), 108(4) and (5), or 113 (as applicable).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 78AA

112 Registrar-General may disclose information to Schedule 2 agencies under information matching agreement or approved information sharing agreement

- (1) The purpose of this section is to authorise the disclosure of certain specified personal information to the agencies listed in Schedule 2 (the Schedule 2 agencies) for the purposes specified in that schedule.
- (2) The Registrar-General may disclose personal information to the chief executive of a Schedule 2 agency for the purposes of this section only if—
 - (a) the information is of a type specified in the second column of Schedule 2 in relation to the Schedule 2 agency; and
 - (b) the disclosure is for a purpose specified in the third column of that Schedule for that type of information in relation to the Schedule 2 agency; and
 - (c) the disclosure is in accordance with—
 - (i) an information matching agreement entered into under Part 10 of the Privacy Act 1993 and continued by clause 11 of Schedule 1 of the Privacy Act 2020; or
 - (ii) an information matching agreement entered into under subpart 4 of Part 7 of the Privacy Act 2020; or
 - (iii) an approved information sharing agreement entered into under subpart 1 of Part 7 of the Privacy Act 2020; and
 - (d) in the case of any personal information that is restricted information, the disclosure is in accordance with section 107(3), 108(4) and (5), or 113 (as applicable).

- (3) Nothing in this section limits section 111 or prevents the Registrar-General from entering into an information sharing agreement to share information in accordance with that section.
- (4) In this section, a reference to the chief executive of an agency means, in the case of the Government Superannuation Fund Authority or the National Provident Fund, a reference to the board of the Government Superannuation Fund Authority or, as the context requires, the Board of Trustees of the National Provident Fund.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 78A

113 Registrar-General may disclose information for law enforcement purposes

- (1) This section applies if a specified agency has reason to suspect that a particular individual—
 - (a) is, or is liable to be, detained under an enactment:
 - (b) is, or is liable to be, arrested under a warrant issued by a court or any Registrar:
 - (c) is contravening, or is about to contravene, an enactment or a court order:
 - (d) is liable to be prosecuted for an offence punishable by imprisonment:
 - (e) is, or is liable to be, detained or arrested in respect of a traffic offence:
 - (f) is endangering, or is threatening to endanger, the life, health, or safety of a person or group of persons:
 - (g) is injured or dead.
- (2) If this section applies, the Registrar-General may, despite the existence or absence of an approved information sharing agreement, share the following personal information about the particular individual with the specified agency:
 - (a) personal information recorded in the registry (including restricted information):
 - (b) personal information received from an overseas registration authority under section 114.
- (3) This section does not limit section 112 or 115.
- (4) For the purposes of this section, specified agency means any of the following:
 - (a) the Department of Corrections:
 - (b) the Department of Internal Affairs:
 - (c) the part of the Ministry of Business, Innovation, and Employment that administers the Immigration Act 2009:
 - (d) the Ministry of Justice:
 - (e) the Ministry of Transport:
 - (f) the New Zealand Customs Service:
 - (g) the New Zealand Police:

(h) the New Zealand Transport Agency.

Disclosure of information to overseas registration authorities

114 Registrar-General may share certain personal information with overseas registration authorities

- (1) The Registrar-General may supply a person's name-change information or death information to an overseas registration authority if the person's birth is registered in the State in which the overseas registration authority has jurisdiction.
- (2) The Registrar-General may decide not to supply name-change information under subsection (1) if the person who is the subject of the name-change information satisfies the Registrar-General that the name-change information should not be supplied because of exceptional circumstances of a humanitarian or another nature relating to that person.
- (3) The Registrar-General may obtain, hold, and record information from an overseas registration authority relating to a name change or death in the State in which the overseas registration authority has jurisdiction if the information relates to a person—
 - (a) whose birth is registered under this Act; or
 - (b) who is a New Zealand citizen or is legally entitled to be in New Zealand indefinitely.
- (4) The Registrar-General may supply information recorded in the registry about the dissolution of a marriage or civil union to an overseas registration authority if the person's marriage or civil union is registered in the State in which the overseas registration authority has jurisdiction.
- (5) The Registrar-General may obtain, hold, and record information from an overseas registration authority relating to a divorce or dissolution of a marriage or civil union in the State in which the overseas registration authority has jurisdiction if the information relates to a marriage or civil union that is registered in New Zealand.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 78D

115 Supply of information to overseas registration authorities must be in accordance with agreement

- (1) The supply of information under section 114 must be in accordance with a written agreement between the Registrar-General and the overseas registration authority concerned.
- (2) The agreement must state—
 - (a) the purpose of the agreement; and
 - (b) the information that can be supplied; and

- (c) the method by which, and the form in which, the information may be supplied; and
 - (d) how the overseas registration authority will use the information (including the limits on any further disclosure by the overseas registration authority); and
 - (e) the fees (if any) payable for the supply of the information.
- (3) An agreement may be varied by the Registrar-General and the overseas registration authority.
- (4) The Registrar-General must consult the Privacy Commissioner before entering into or varying an agreement.
- (5) The Privacy Commissioner may require the Registrar-General to review an agreement, and report on the outcome of the review to the Privacy Commissioner, at intervals not shorter than 12 months.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 78E

Disclosure of information to non-government organisations

116 Registrar-General may disclose death information to non-government organisations for certain purposes

- (1) The Registrar-General may disclose death information to an appropriate non-government organisation, private sector agency, or person (the other party) for the purpose of removing or suppressing the names of deceased persons from a database held by the other party.
- (2) The Registrar-General may not disclose information that is protected by section 27, 81, or 83.
- (3) No disclosure may be made unless—
- (a) there is an agreement between the Registrar-General and the other party that states—
 - (i) the purpose of the agreement; and
 - (ii) the information that can be disclosed; and
 - (iii) the method and form of the disclosure; and
 - (iv) how the other party will use the information (including the limits on any further disclosure by the other party); and
 - (v) the fees (if any) payable for disclosure of the information; and
 - (b) the disclosure is made in accordance with the agreement.
- (4) An agreement may be varied by the Registrar-General and the other party.
- (5) The Registrar-General and the other party must consult the Privacy Commissioner before entering into or varying an agreement.

- (6) The Privacy Commissioner may require the Registrar-General and the other party to review the agreement, and report on the outcome of the review to the Privacy Commissioner, at intervals not shorter than 12 months.
- (7) The other party that obtains information under this section must not intentionally do, or permit another person to do, any of the following:
 - (a) change or manipulate the information into a form different from the form in which it was provided:
 - (b) place the information on an Internet site or otherwise make it available for public search:
 - (c) use or disclose the information for a purpose other than the purpose specified in the agreement.
- (8) Subsection (7)(b) does not prevent the other party that obtains information under this section from placing the information on an Internet site that is not generally available to members of the public if the Registrar-General so agrees.

Disclosure of information under other Acts

117 Disclosure of certain information for purposes of Identity Information Confirmation Act 2012

- (1) Any information specified in subsection (2) in relation to an individual about whom an identity information check was carried out under section 9 of the Identity Information Confirmation Act 2012 may be disclosed to an agency or intermediary (within the meaning of that Act) if the check indicates that death information or name-change information is recorded for that individual.
- (2) The information referred to in subsection (1) is as follows:
 - (a) that the individual is dead:
 - (b) that name-change information in relation to the individual exists.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 78K

118 Access to information for purposes of Identity Information Confirmation Act 2012

Nothing in this Act limits access to information that is recorded under this Act if the access is for the purposes of, and in accordance with, the Identity Information Confirmation Act 2012.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 87AB

119 Information recorded under this Act may be used to update information kept under Human Assisted Reproductive Technology Act 2004

- (1) The Registrar-General may use birth information, death information, or name-change information recorded under this Act to update information kept by the Registrar-General under Part 3 of the Human Assisted Reproductive Technology Act 2004.

- (2) However, the Registrar-General may do so only if the Registrar-General is satisfied that—
- (a) the information relates to a donor, donor offspring, or donor offspring's guardian; and
 - (b) information about that donor, donor offspring, or donor offspring's guardian is kept under Part 3 of the Human Assisted Reproductive Technology Act 2004.

- (3) In this section,—

donor has the meaning set out in section 5 of the Human Assisted Reproductive Technology Act 2004

donor offspring has the meaning set out in section 5 of the Human Assisted Reproductive Technology Act 2004

guardian has the meaning set out in section 5 of the Human Assisted Reproductive Technology Act 2004.

Disclosure of statistical information

120 Registrar-General may provide information for statistical purposes or for health, historical, or demographic research

- (1) A person acting on behalf of a public sector agency, a body, or a person may request that the Registrar-General search for or provide information for the purpose of—
- (a) gathering statistics; or
 - (b) historical research; or
 - (c) demographic research; or
 - (d) health research.
- (2) The Registrar-General may search for or provide the information requested only if—
- (a) the request does not relate to particular individuals and the person will not retain any information relating to particular individuals; or
 - (b) the information relates to particular individuals who are dead or were born at least 120 years ago; or
 - (c) the Registrar-General is satisfied that, in searching for or providing the information, the public benefit outweighs the effect on individual privacy.
- (3) For the purposes of subsection (2)(c), the Registrar-General must take into account the following matters:

- (a) the number of individuals whose privacy will be affected:
 - (b) the degree to which each individual's privacy will be affected:
 - (c) whether an ethics review committee or a similar body has considered and approved the research and, if so, the persons making up the committee or body and the type of work it undertakes:
 - (d) how the agency, body, or person undertaking the research proposes to hold, use, and, if relevant, dispose of the information obtained.
- (4) The Registrar-General may impose any conditions on the holding, use, publication, and disposal of information provided under this section that the Registrar-General considers appropriate to prevent or minimise any effect on individual privacy.
- (5) Before exercising any powers under this section for the purposes of subsection (2)(b)(ii), the Registrar-General must—
- (a) consult, and invite comments from, the Privacy Commissioner; and
 - (b) take those comments into account.

Section 122: amended, on 1 September 2022, by section 107(1) of the Data and Statistics Act 2022 (2022 No 39).

Part 5 Registrar-General and registry

Subpart 1—Registry

123 Registry established

- (1) A registry called the registry of births, deaths, and relationships is established.
- (2) The registry may include information and documents in both electronic and documentary form.
- (3) The Registrar-General may—

- (a) record, amend, or delete information in the registry only as permitted by this Act;
- (b) make information in the registry available to the public only as permitted by this Act.

Subpart 2—Offices

124 Registrar-General

- (1) There must be a Registrar-General appointed under the Public Service Act 2020.
- (2) The Registrar-General is responsible for the general administration of this Act.
Compare: 1995 No 16 s 79

125 Deputy Registrar-General

- (1) One or more Deputy Registrars-General may be appointed under the Public Service Act 2020 as may be desirable for the effective and efficient administration of this Act.
- (2) Subject to the control of the Registrar-General, a Deputy Registrar-General has and may perform and exercise any of the functions, duties, and powers of the Registrar-General.
- (3) If for any reason the office of the Registrar-General is vacant or the Registrar-General is absent (temporarily or permanently) from the office for any reason, the Deputy Registrar-General has and may perform and exercise all the functions, duties, and powers of the Registrar-General.
- (4) Subsection (3) applies to—
 - (a) the Deputy Registrar-General if there is only 1; or
 - (b) a Deputy Registrar-General authorised for that purpose by the chief executive of the department of State that, with the authority of the Prime Minister, is for the time being responsible for the administration of this Act (before, on, or after the occurrence of the vacancy or absence) in every other case.
- (5) The fact that a Deputy Registrar-General exercises or performs any power, function, or duty of the Registrar-General is conclusive evidence of the Deputy Registrar-General's authority to do so.
- (6) No authority given to or act done by a Deputy Registrar-General under this section may be questioned in any proceedings on the ground that—
 - (a) the occasion for the giving of the authority had not arisen or had ceased; or
 - (b) the act was contrary to a direction of the Registrar-General.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 80

126 Registrar-General may delegate functions, duties, and powers to Registrars

- (1) There must be appointed the number of persons as Registrars as is necessary for the purposes of this Act or any other Act under which Registrars exercise functions.
- (2) Appointments under subsection (1) must,—
 - (a) in the case of persons who on their appointment will become employed in the public service, be in accordance with the Public Service Act 2020; and
 - (b) in every other case, be made by the Registrar-General specifying—
 - (i) the name of the person appointed; or
 - (ii) an office whose holder for the time being is to hold the appointment.
- (3) The Registrar-General may, either generally or particularly, delegate to any Registrar, in writing, any of the Registrar-General's functions, duties, and powers under this Act or any other Act other than any of the following powers:
 - (a) a power under section 16(1)(b) to register births notified more than 2 years after birth;
 - (b) a power under section 18(2) or 71(2) to decline to register certain names;
 - (c) a power under section 26 to decline to register a person's nominated sex if not satisfied certain requirements are met;
 - (d) a power under section 97(3) to authorise a search for, or provide access to, information requested by a department or an organisation if it is in the public interest or a named person's interest;
 - (e) a power under section 106, 107, or 108 to provide access to restricted information in certain circumstances;
 - (f) a power under section 131(b), (c), or (e) to correct errors in the registry other than clerical errors;
 - (g) a power to delegate under this section.
- (4) A Registrar to whom a duty or power is delegated may perform the duty or exercise the power in the same manner and with the same effect as if the duty or power had been conferred directly by this Act, subject to any general or special directions given by or conditions imposed by the Registrar-General.
- (5) A Registrar who appears to act under a delegation is presumed to be acting in accordance with its terms in the absence of evidence to the contrary.
- (6) Any reference in this Act or regulations to the Registrar-General includes a reference to the delegate in respect of anything delegated to that person.

Subpart 3—Functions, duties, and powers

*Registrar-General's powers of inquiry127 Registrar-General's powers of inquiry in relation to information recorded in registry

- (1) The Registrar-General may, if the Registrar-General considers it reasonably necessary for the purposes of this Act, make inquiries—
 - (a) to determine whether a registrable event has occurred; or
 - (b) to collect details of a registrable event; or
 - (c) to ensure that there is a correct record of a registrable event; or
 - (d) to determine whether any other information recorded in the registry is correct, including—
 - (i) information recorded under section 50 or 63 in relation to a death, divorce, or dissolution of a marriage or civil union that occurred outside New Zealand; and
 - (ii) any information relating to a request for a non-disclosure direction.
- (2) The Registrar-General may also require a person who provides information under this section to—
 - (a) make a statutory declaration to verify the information on a form provided by the Registrar-General; or
 - (b) provide other evidence in support of the information provided.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 82

128 Registrar-General's powers of inquiry in relation to information provided or verified electronically

- (1) The Registrar-General may, if the Registrar-General considers it reasonably necessary for the purposes of this Act, the Marriage Act 1955, or the Civil Union Act 2004, make inquiries to satisfy himself or herself that—
 - (a) any information verified electronically under any of the following provisions is true:
 - (i) sections 69(1)(a) and 70(1)(a) of this Act;
 - (ii) section 11 or Schedule 1 of the Civil Union Act 2004;
 - (iii) sections 9, 10, 23, 32B, and 42 of the Marriage Act 1955;
 - (b) an application, a statement, or a certificate approved electronically under any of the following provisions is approved by the required persons:
 - (i) clause 1 of Schedule 1 of the Civil Union Act 2004;
 - (ii) sections 9, 10, and 32B of the Marriage Act 1955.

- (2) The Registrar-General may also require a person who verifies information or a statement electronically under any of the following provisions to make a statutory declaration in support of the information or statement:
- (a) sections 69(1)(a) and 70(1)(a) of this Act;
 - (b) clause 1 of Schedule 1 of the Civil Union Act 2004;
 - (c) sections 9, 10, and 32B of the Marriage Act 1955.
- (3) The Registrar-General may also require a person who verifies information electronically under section 11 of the Civil Union Act 2004 or section 23 or 42 of the Marriage Act 1955 to appear personally before the Registrar-General to make a statutory declaration in support of the information.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 82A

129 Registrar-General's powers of inquiry in relation to statutory declarations

The Registrar-General may require a person before whom a statutory declaration referred to in section 24(1)(b), 25(1)(b), 69(1)(a)(ii), 70(1)(a)(ii), or 128(2)(a) is made—

- (a) to verify the identity of the eligible person or the guardian of the eligible person, or both, in a manner specified by the Registrar-General; and
- (b) to state whether the person is satisfied of the identity of the eligible person or the guardian of the eligible person, or both.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 21A(3A)

130 Registrar-General must decline to register certain information

- (1) If the Registrar-General is satisfied (on reasonable grounds), after making any inquiries under section 127(1) that the Registrar-General considers appropriate, that information relating to a registrable event is or is likely to be incorrect, the Registrar-General must decline to record the information.
- (2) If the Registrar-General is satisfied (on reasonable grounds), after making any inquiries under section 127(1) that the Registrar-General considers appropriate, that any of the following information is or is likely to be incorrect, the Registrar-General must decline to record the receipt of the information:
- (a) information in a certificate received under section 49 or 62; or
 - (b) information received from an overseas registration authority.
- (3) This section overrides anything in this Act to the contrary.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 83

Correction of errors

131 Registrar-General must correct errors

The Registrar-General must, after making any inquiries under section 127 that the Registrar-General considers appropriate,—

- (a) correct any information in the registry that the Registrar-General is satisfied contains a clerical error; and
- (b) delete any information from the registry that the Registrar-General is satisfied is incorrect; and
- (c) delete any information from the registry recorded under section 50 or 63 in respect of the receipt of a certificate or information relating to a death, divorce, or dissolution of a marriage or civil union outside New Zealand, if the Registrar-General is satisfied that the information received or contained in the certificate received is incorrect; and
- (d) delete any information from the registry obtained from an overseas registration authority and recorded under section 114 in relation to a name change, a death, a divorce, or the dissolution of a marriage or civil union if the Registrar-General is satisfied that the information received is incorrect; and
- (e) register any information in the Registrar-General's possession that is not registered and that the Registrar-General is satisfied is correct and should be registered (including for the purpose of replacing information deleted under paragraph (b)).

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 84

132 Birth record of child conceived through assisted human reproduction procedure must specify parents as determined under Status of Children Act 1969

- (1) Subsection (2) applies if the Registrar-General is satisfied, after making any inquiries under section 127(1) that the Registrar-General considers appropriate, that—
 - (a) a person was conceived as a result of an AHR procedure to which Part 2 of the Status of Children Act 1969 applies; and
 - (b) the person's birth record—
 - (i) does not include information about a parent of the person as determined under that Act; or
 - (ii) includes information about a person who is not a parent in terms of that Act.
- (2) The Registrar-General must amend the person's birth record by doing either or both of the following:
 - (a) adding information about a parent of the person as determined under the Status of Children Act 1969;
 - (b) deleting any information about a person who is not a parent in terms of that Act.

- (3) In this section, AHR procedure has the same meaning as in section 15 of the Status of Children Act 1969.

133 Family Court may consider proposed corrections in cases of difficulty or dispute

- (1) If the Registrar-General is uncertain as to any matter in respect of which the Registrar-General is required to be satisfied for the purposes of section 131 or 132, the Registrar-General may apply to the Family Court to have the matter determined.
- (2) Any person who wishes the Registrar-General to act under section 131 or 132 in respect of any matter may apply to the Family Court to have the matter determined.
- (3) The Family Court, when considering an application under subsection (2),—
- (a) must give every person the court thinks has an interest in the matter an opportunity to be heard; and
 - (b) may receive any evidence the court thinks fit; and
 - (c) must determine whether the Registrar-General should act under section 131 or 132.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 85

134 Health information may be used to correct records

- (1) The chief executive of the department for the time being responsible for administering the New Zealand Public Health and Disability Act 2000 may—
- (a) advise the Registrar-General of an apparent omission or error if the chief executive believes on reasonable grounds that a person's birth or death has not been registered under this Act or has been registered incorrectly; and
 - (b) provide to the Registrar-General sufficient information to enable the error or omission to be corrected.
- (2) The Registrar-General may correct birth information or death information in accordance with information provided under this section.

Review of certain provisions relating to applications for registration of nominated sex

145 Review of certain provisions relating to applications for registration of nominated sex

- (1) The Minister must, as soon as practicable after the expiry of 5 years from the commencement of sections 23 to 29,—
- (a) commence a review of the operation of the following provisions since the commencement of sections 23 to 29:
- (i) in section 4, the definitions of eligible 16- or 17-year-old, eligible child, eligible person, guardian, nominated sex, restricted name-change information, and restricted sex information:
 - (ii) sections 23 to 29 (which relate to applications for registration of a person's nominated sex):
 - (iii) section 30(1)(d) (which provides for rights of appeal against decisions by the Registrar-General to decline to register a nominated sex):
 - (iv) section 79 (relating to use of a birth certificate as evidence of sex and gender):
 - (v) section 126(3)(c) (which provides that the Registrar-General may not delegate the power to decline to register a nominated sex):
 - (vi) section 144(1)(c), (d), and (e) (which provides for regulation-making powers relating to applications to register a nominated sex); and
- (b) prepare a report on that review.
- (2) During the preparation of the report, the Minister must consult—
- (a) the Human Rights Commissioner; and
 - (b) the communities the Minister considers to be most affected by the operation of the provisions reviewed; and
 - (c) any other persons or organisations that the Minister considers appropriate.
- (3) The Minister must present a copy of the report to the House of Representatives as soon as practicable after it has been completed.

- (4) This section is repealed on the date that is 6 years after the commencement of sections 23 to 29.

3 Record of citizenship only required in birth record for persons born on or after 1 January 2006

Section 19 applies only in relation to a birth on or after 1 January 2006.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 12A

4 Registration of stillbirths that occurred after 24 July 1991 but before commencement of section 16

(1) A stillbirth that occurred after 24 July 1991 but before the commencement of section 16 is registrable to the same extent, and in the same manner, as if it had occurred after the commencement of section 16.

(2) Nothing in subclause (1) requires any person to notify the Registrar-General of a stillbirth to which this clause applies.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 13

5 Māori custom marriages

(1) The Registrar-General must not include any information relating to a Māori custom marriage entered into after 31 March 1952 in a person's birth record.

- (2) The Registrar-General must clearly identify any information in the registry relating to a Māori custom marriage entered into before 31 March 1952 as a Māori custom marriage.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 14

6 Application for registration of name change made by deed poll before 1 September 1995

Section 69(1)(a) is satisfied if the application includes—

- (a) a deed poll executed before 1 September 1995 evidencing any change in the eligible person's names; or
- (b) a copy of a deed poll executed and filed in an office of the High Court before 1 September 1995 and certified by a Registrar of the court in which it was filed.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 21A(2)(c)(ii), (iii)

7 References to information notified, recorded, or registered under this Act include information notified, recorded, or registered under former Acts or former Adoption Act

- (1) This clause applies to information recorded under a former Act or a former Adoption Act.
- (2) On and from the commencement of this clause, adoption information recorded under a former Act or a former Adoption Act must be treated as if it were registered under section 32 or 33.
- (3) A reference to information notified by a court under section 31 includes a notice under section 23 of the 1995 Act or section 21 of the Births and Deaths Registration Act 1951 or a notice of the adoption under a former Adoption Act.

Compare: 1995 No 16 ss 24, 25

8 Deaths outside New Zealand before commencement

Section 50 applies in respect of a death of a New Zealand citizen or of a person ordinarily resident in New Zealand that occurred outside New Zealand before the commencement of that section as if the death had occurred after the commencement of that section.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 52

9 Application of Act to information received before commencement about overseas deaths, divorces, and dissolutions of marriages and civil unions

- (1) The Registrar-General may do either of the following in respect of a certificate received before the commencement of subparts 4 and 5 of Part 2 as if the certificate had been received under section 49 or 62:
- (a) record the receipt of the certificate in the registry under section 50 or 63;
- (b) issue a written statement under section 51 or 64.

- (2) The Registrar-General may do any of the following in respect of information received from an overseas registration authority before the commencement of subparts 4 and 5 of Part 2:
- (a) record the receipt of the information in the registry under section 50 or 63;
 - (b) issue a written statement under section 51 or 64;
 - (c) hold and use the information under section 114.

10 Form prepared under section 53, 54, or 55 includes equivalent documents under former Acts

A reference to a form or record prepared under section 53, 54, or 55 includes a document prepared under an equivalent provision of a former Act.

Compare: 1995 No 16 ss 55, 57

11 Dissolution of marriage in New Zealand under former Act may be recorded under this Act

The Registrar-General may register any marriage information contained in an order or decree made under the Family Proceedings Act 1980 or any other former divorce enactment that is equivalent to an order described in section 60 in the record relating to that marriage.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 59(2)

12 Surnames on birth certificates in relation to births registered before 1 January 1972

Section 80 applies in relation to a birth registered under a former Act before 1 January 1972 as if the following information had been registered under this Act:

- (a) if it is recorded in respect of the birth of a person that the parents of the person were married to each other, that the person had the surname of the person's father;
- (b) in every other case, that the person had the surname of the person's mother.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 68

13 Persons other than Registrar-General may not generally publish index information

- (1) A person must not make index information obtained under section 74(2) of the 1995 Act before the commencement of the Births, Deaths, Marriages, and Relationships Registration Amendment Act 2008 or section 39B(2) of the Births and Deaths Registration Act 1951 available on an Internet site unless—
- (a) the information is in a form that could not reasonably be expected to identify any particular person; or

- (b) the person who makes the information available—
 - (i) is the subject of the information; or
 - (ii) has been granted power of attorney or given written authority to make the information available by the person who is the subject of the information; or
 - (c) the information is historical information.
- (2) Information may be made available on an Internet site under subclause (1)(b)(ii) only to the extent that the power of attorney or written authority does not prohibit making the information available on the Internet.
- (3) In this clause, Internet site includes part of an Internet site that is not generally accessible to members of the public.

Compare: 1995 No 16 s 78I

14 Name-change documents are source documents

To avoid doubt, any documents provided to the Registrar-General in support of name-change information under this Act or a former Act must be treated as source documents for the purpose of this Act (whether or not the person's birth is registered under this Act).

15 Notices of intention to marry are source documents

To avoid doubt, any notices of intention to marry provided to the Registrar-General between 1856 and 1956 under a former Act must be treated as source documents for the purpose of this Act (whether or not the marriage was solemnised).

16 Corrections

References in this Act to things done under section 131 include things done under a corresponding provision of a former Act before the commencement of this Act.

Compare: 1995 No 16 ss 52, 77

17 Regulations continued in force

The following regulations continue in force and are treated as if they were made under section 144 and may be amended or revoked accordingly:

- (a) Births, Deaths, Marriages, and Relationships Registration (Fees) Regulations 1995:
- (b) Births, Deaths, Marriages, and Relationships Registration (Non-Disclosure Direction) Regulations 2008:
- (c) Births, Deaths, Marriages, and Relationships Registration (Prescribed Information) Regulations 1995.

18 Application of this Act to person who has had nominated sex information recorded under 1995 Act

- (1) This clause applies to a person if—
 - (a) information was recorded under section 30 of the 1995 Act that the person is of a nominated sex; and
 - (b) a nominated sex has not been registered for the person under Part 2 of this Act.
- (2) The information recorded under section 30 of the 1995 Act must, on and from the commencement of Part 2 of this Act, be treated as if it were a nominated sex registered under section 26 of this Act, except that—
 - (a) sections 24(1)(d) and 25(1)(d) do not apply to an application for registration of a nominated sex by or on behalf of the person; and
 - (b) section 27 must be read as if the person's associated name were their name as at the time the information was recorded under section 30 of the 1995 Act unless—
 - (i) their name has subsequently been changed, in which case their associated name is the person's name immediately following registration of the first name change after that information was recorded; or
 - (ii) the person nominated a name in accordance with section 64(2) of the 1995 Act, in which case their associated name is that nominated name.

1 General

This is a consolidation of the Births, Deaths, Marriages, and Relationships Registration Act 2021 that incorporates the amendments made to the legislation so that it shows the law as at its stated date.

2 Legal status

A consolidation is taken to correctly state, as at its stated date, the law enacted or made by the legislation consolidated and by the amendments. This presumption applies unless the contrary is shown.

Section 78 of the Legislation Act 2019 provides that this consolidation, published as an electronic version, is an official version. A printed version of legislation that is produced directly from this official electronic version is also an official version.

3 Editorial and format changes

The Parliamentary Counsel Office makes editorial and format changes to consolidations using the powers under subpart 2 of Part 3 of the Legislation Act 2019. See also PCO editorial conventions for consolidations.

4 Amendments incorporated in this consolidation

Coroners Amendment Act 2023 (2023 No 8): section 36

Data and Statistics Act 2022 (2022 No 39): section 107(1)
