Schedule 1

r 3(1)

Warrant issued under section 27 of Prostitution Reform Act 2003 for inspector to enter home

To [full name], an inspector under section 25 of the Prostitution Reform Act 2003

I am satisfied, on an application made on oath, that there are reasonable grounds for believing that—

- (a) a business of prostitution is being carried on in the home situated at [address of home]; or
- (b) the home situated at [address of home], or part of that home, is the only practicable means through which to enter premises where a business of prostitution is being carried on.

*Delete whichever is inapplicable.

- 1 This warrant authorises you to enter the home at the address specified above for the purposes of determining whether or not a person is complying with section 8 or section 9 of the Prostitution Reform Act 2003.
- 2 During an inspection, you may—
 - (a) conduct reasonable inspections; and
 - (b) take photographs and measurements and make sketches and recordings; and
 - (c) require any of the following persons to provide information or assistance reasonably required by you:
 - (i) a person who operates the business of prostitution, or an employee or agent of that person;
 - (ii) a sex worker or client of the business of prostitution; and
 - (d) take copies of the information referred to in paragraph (c).
- 3 This warrant also authorises you to seize and retain anything that you have reasonable grounds to believe is evidence of the commission of an offence against section 8 or section 9 of the Prostitution Reform Act 2003.
- 4 You may take any person acting under your direct supervision into the premises to assist you with the inspection.

Notes1 General

This is a reprint of the Prostitution Reform (Form of Warrants) Regulations 2003. The reprint incorporates all the amendments to the regulations as at 1 October 2012, as specified in the list of amendments at the end of these notes.

Relevant provisions of any amending enactments that contain transitional, savings, or application provisions that cannot be compiled in the reprint are also included, after the principal enactment, in chronological order. For more information, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/reprints/>.

2 Status of reprints

Under section 16D of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, reprints are presumed to correctly state, as at the date of the reprint, the law enacted by the principal enactment and by the amendments to that enactment. This presumption applies even though editorial changes authorised by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 have been made in the reprint.

This presumption may be rebutted by producing the official volumes of statutes or statutory regulations in which the principal enactment and its amendments are contained.

3 How reprints are prepared

A number of editorial conventions are followed in the preparation of reprints. For example, the enacting words are not included in Acts, and provisions that are repealed or revoked are omitted. For a detailed list of the editorial conventions, see <http://www.pco.parliament.govt.nz/editorial-conventions/> or Part 8 of the Tables of New Zealand Acts and Ordinances and Statutory Regulations and Deemed Regulations in Force.

4 Changes made under section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989

Section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 authorises the making of editorial changes in a reprint as set out in sections 17D and 17E of that Act so that, to the extent permitted, the format and style of the reprinted enactment is consistent with current legislative drafting practice. Changes that would alter the effect of the legislation are not permitted. A new format of legislation was introduced on 1 January 2000. Changes to legislative drafting style have also been made since 1997, and are ongoing. To the extent permitted by section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989, all legislation reprinted after 1 January 2000 is in the new format for legislation and reflects current drafting practice at the time of the reprint.

In outline, the editorial changes made in reprints under the authority of section 17C of the Acts and Regulations Publication Act 1989 are set out below, and they have been applied, where relevant, in the preparation of this reprint:

- omission of unnecessary referential words (such as “of this section” and “of this Act”)
- typeface and type size (Times Roman, generally in 11.5 point)
- layout of provisions, including:
 - indentation
 - position of section headings (eg, the number and heading now appear above the section)
- format of definitions (eg, the defined term now appears in bold type, without quotation marks)
- format of dates (eg, a date formerly expressed as “the 1st day of January 1999” is now expressed as “1 January 1999”)

- position of the date of assent (it now appears on the front page of each Act)
- punctuation (eg, colons are not used after definitions)
- Parts numbered with roman numerals are replaced with arabic numerals, and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- case and appearance of letters and words, including:
 - format of headings (eg, headings where each word formerly appeared with an initial capital letter followed by small capital letters are amended so that the heading appears in bold, with only the first word (and any proper nouns) appearing with an initial capital letter)
 - small capital letters in section and subsection references are now capital letters
- schedules are renumbered (eg, Schedule 1 replaces First Schedule), and all cross-references are changed accordingly
- running heads (the information that appears at the top of each page)
- format of two-column schedules of consequential amendments, and schedules of repeals (eg, they are rearranged into alphabetical order, rather than chronological).
