Regulations

1 Title and commencement

- (1) These regulations may be cited as the Traffic Regulations 1976.
- (2) These regulations shall come into force on 1 February 1977.

2 Interpretation

In these regulations, unless the context otherwise requires,—

Act means the Land Transport Act 1998

adjustable spot lamp means a lamp to provide a narrow beam of light that may be aimed at will by the driver

Agency means the New Zealand Transport Agency established under section 93 of the Land Transport Management Act 2003

all terrain vehicle means a special purpose vehicle (with or without motor-cycle controls and equipment) that—

- (a) is principally designed for off-road use; and
- (b) has 3 or more wheels; and
- (c) has an engine capacity exceeding 50 ml; and
- (d) has a gross weight of less than 1 000 kg approved—

- (a) in relation to child restraints, means approved by the Agency or the Director under section 77B of the Act;
- (b) in relation to any other appliance, apparatus, device, system, component, equipment, or fitting, means approved by the Agency or the Director under these regulations articulated vehicle means any motor vehicle with a trailer attached, so that part of the trailer is superimposed upon the motor vehicle and a substantial part of the weight of the trailer and of its load is borne by the motor vehicle. Such a trailer shall be called a semi-trailer auxiliary headlamp means a forward-facing lamp used under certain conditions to replace the headlamps; and includes a fog-lamp, being a vehicle-lamp providing illumination in conditions of fog, snow, cloud, or other atmospheric conditions which reduce visibility breakdown vehicle means any motor vehicle designed or adapted for the lifting and towing of motor vehicles that have met with mishap; but does not include a motor car carriage includes haulage

centre line,—

- (a) in relation to any portion of a roadway not marked with a flush median, means a dotted or solid line or lines of paint or raised studs (or any combination of those lines and studs) intended to separate opposing traffic;
- (b) in relation to any portion of a roadway marked with a flush median, means the longitudinal white line that forms the left side of the flush median as viewed by a driver facing forward certificate of fitness or permit, except in the definition in this regulation of the term evidence of vehicle inspection, means evidence of vehicle inspection controlled intersection means any intersection where the traffic is for the time being controlled by a traffic officer or Police officer or by traffic control lights controlling authority, in relation to any road, means the authority, body, or person or persons having control of the road and includes any person acting under and within the terms of any delegation or authorisation given by a controlling authority cycle means a vehicle having at least 2 wheels and designed to be propelled solely by the muscular energy of the rider direction-indicator lamp means a lamp used for signalling an intention to change direction to the right or to the left

Director means the Director of Land Transport appointed under section 104A of the Land Transport Management Act 2003 driver means the driver of a vehicle; and includes the rider of a motorcycle or moped or cycle; and drive has a corresponding meaning erect includes place in position erecting authority, in relation to any road, means the controlling authority; and includes any duly incorporated association or union of motorists (hereinafter referred to as an automobile association)

evidence of vehicle inspection, in relation to a motor vehicle, means anything that is a certificate, label, or document issued under the Land Transport Act 1998, or under land transport rules, as evidence of the completion of the periodic vehicle inspection requirements in respect of that vehicle; and includes—

- (a) a certificate of fitness or permit issued under section 79 of the Act and these regulations before 1 March 1999; and

(b) a warrant of fitness issued under these regulations before 1 March 1999 flush median, in relation to any portion of a roadway, means an area marked by white diagonal lines which—

- (a) are painted along the middle of the roadway; and
- (b) are bounded by approximately parallel, longitudinal white lines—
for the purpose of separating opposing traffic footpath means a path or way principally designed for, and used by, pedestrians; and includes any footbridge

forward length—

- (a) in relation to a motor vehicle other than a trailing unit, means the distance from the rear axis to the foremost part of the vehicle or its load, whichever is the greater:
- (b) in relation to a trailing unit the front axle of which is steered by the tow-bar, means the greater of the following distances:
 - (i) from the front axle of the trailing unit to the point of attachment of the tow-bar to the towing vehicle:
 - (ii) from the rear axis of the trailing unit to the front axle:
- (c) in relation to any other trailing unit, the distance from the rear axis of the trailing unit to the point of attachment to the towing vehicle goods means all kinds of movable personal property, including animals and mails goods-service vehicle or goods vehicle means a motor vehicle designed exclusively or principally for the carriage of goods gross vehicle mass, in relation to any vehicle, means the greatest of the following masses:

- (a) the mass specified as the gross vehicle mass by the manufacturer of the vehicle:
- (b) the mass specified as the gross vehicle mass of the vehicle, or of a vehicle of that kind, by the Director by notice in writing to the owner:
- (c) the mass of the vehicle, together with the load that the vehicle is for the time being carrying, including any equipment and accessories headlamp means a forward-facing vehicle lamp displaying a beam of light substantially white or amber in colour to provide illumination of the road ahead, incorporating one or both of—

- (a) main (driving or upper) beam—a beam of light from a headlamp providing distant illumination of the road ahead when no other vehicle is approaching and no other vehicle is being followed:

- (b) dipped (passing or lower) beam—a beam of light from a headlamp to illuminate the road ahead of the vehicle when meeting or following other vehicles heavy motor vehicle means a motor vehicle (other than a motor car that is not used, kept, or available for the carriage of passengers for hire or reward) the gross laden weight of which exceeds 3 500 kg

hours of darkness means—

- (a) any period of time between half an hour after sunset on one day and half an hour before sunrise on the next day; or
- (b) any other time when there is not sufficient daylight to render clearly visible a person or vehicle at a distance of 100 m independent brake means a brake of which the entire operating mechanism or system is either—

- (a) distinct and separate from all parts or connections of any other brake or brake system, so that the independent brake cannot be adversely affected by the operation or failure of any other brake; or
- (b) common to any other brake or brake system only in parts or connections which are of such design and strength that under normal operating conditions and with a proper standard of maintenance there is no reasonable probability of failure by reason of the failure of any other brake or brake system intersection, in relation to 2 or more intersecting or meeting roadways, means that area contained within the prolongation or connection of the lateral boundary lines of each roadway:

provided that for the purposes of this definition 2 roadways separated only by a traffic island or by a median less than 10 m wide shall be deemed to be 1 roadway:

provided also that at a roundabout or rotary junction the approaches to which are marked by signs in the form of sign P 28 in Schedule 4, a vehicle having entered the central circulating roadway from an approach roadway shall be deemed to enter separate intersections as it approaches each area where its intended path of travel may conflict with the path of travel of vehicles entering from other approach roadways land transport rules means any of the following rules:

- (a) the ordinary rules and emergency rules made under the Land Transport Act 1998; and
- (b) the rules referred to in section 220 of that Act

lane, in relation to any roadway, means a longitudinal strip of the roadway at least 2.5 m wide, intended for the passage of traffic, which is separated from other parts of the roadway by a longitudinal line or lines of paint or raised studs; but does not include any flush median or any area on either side of the roadway on which diagonal lines have been marked. A 2-way road divided by a centre line is deemed to be marked in lanes left side, in relation to a vehicle, means its side to the left of the vehicle when the vehicle is facing forward level crossing has the same meaning as in section 4(1) of the Railways Act 2005 light rail vehicle has the same meaning as in section 4(1) of the Railways Act 2005

light rail vehicle lane means a length of lane containing a light rail vehicle track on a roadway that is defined—

- (a) in the case of a light rail vehicle lane that is a continuous loop, by light rail vehicle lane signs erected at any point where the light rail vehicle lane crosses any intersection:
- (b) in any other case, by—
 - (i) a light rail vehicle lane sign erected at its beginning; and
 - (ii) a light rail vehicle lane sign erected at its end; and
 - (iii) light rail vehicle lane signs erected at any point where the light rail vehicle lane crosses any intersection limit line means a line marked on the surface of the roadway to indicate the place where traffic is required to stop for the purpose of complying with a stop sign, give-way sign, or traffic signal limited speed zone means a limited speed zone declared under regulation 21(2)

local authority means a City Council, a Borough Council, a County Council, a District Council, or a Town Council local speed limit means a speed limit for motor-vehicle traffic duly imposed by a controlling authority medical practitioner means a health practitioner who is, or is deemed to be, registered with the Medical Council of New Zealand continued by section 114(1)(a) of the Health Practitioners Competence Assurance Act 2003 as a practitioner of the profession of medicine mobility device means—

- (a) a vehicle that—
 - (i) is designed and constructed (not merely adapted) for use by persons who require mobility assistance due to a physical or neurological impairment; and
 - (ii) is powered solely by a motor that has a maximum power output not exceeding 1 500 W; or

- (b) a vehicle that the Agency has declared under section 168A(1) of the Land Transport Act 1998 to be a mobility device

moped means a motor vehicle running on 2 or 3 wheels that is fitted with a motor having a power output not exceeding 2 kW and is designed to be ridden at a speed not exceeding 50 km/h under normal conditions of use motor car means a motor vehicle (other than a motorcycle or power cycle) designed exclusively or principally for the carriage of persons not exceeding 9 in number inclusive of the driver; and includes a motor vehicle which is designed principally for the carriage of passengers but which has rear doors and collapsible rear seats motor vehicle means a vehicle drawn or propelled by mechanical power; and includes a trailer; but does not include—

- (a) a vehicle running on rails; or
- (b) [Revoked]
- (c) a trailer (not being a trailer designed solely for the carriage of goods) that is designed and used exclusively as part of the armament of any of Her Majesty's Forces; or
- (d) a trailer running on 1 wheel and designed exclusively as a speed-measuring device or for testing the wear of vehicle tyres; or

87 Inspection of motor vehicles after accidents

- (1) A member of the Police who believes that a motor vehicle involved in an accident has been so damaged that it is unsafe may, by notice under section 115 of the Land Transport Act 1998, direct that the vehicle must not be operated on any road until there has been produced to any member of the Police—
- (a) fresh evidence of vehicle inspection; or
 - (b) a letter from a vehicle compliance certifier advising that fresh evidence of vehicle inspection is not needed.
- (1A) The notice may contain a provision to the effect that the vehicle may continue to be operated on the roads for the purpose only of reaching a vehicle compliance certifier and obtaining evidence of vehicle inspection; and the provision may be unconditional, or subject to any limitations (as to speed, route, or any other matter) the member of the Police giving the notice thinks fit.
- (2) It shall be an offence for any person to use a vehicle on a road contrary to the terms of any notice issued under subclause (1):
- provided that no person shall be deemed to have committed a breach of subclause (1), unless the court is satisfied that the traffic officer or Police officer had reasonable grounds for believing that in all the circumstances of the case the direction was necessary in the interests of the driver or person in charge of the motor vehicle or of any other person or of the public.
