- (2) The clean slate scheme applies—
 - (a) to all sentences, whether imposed before or on or after the commencement of this Act; and
 - (b) to all specified orders, whether made before or on or after the commencement of this Act.

7 Who is eligible under clean slate scheme

- (1) An individual is eligible under the clean slate scheme if—
 - (a) he or she has completed a rehabilitation period since the date on which a sentence was last imposed, or a specified order was last made, as a result of a conviction for

- an offence, or he or she is an individual in relation to whom an order has been made under section 9 or section 10(2); and
- (b) no custodial sentence has ever been imposed on him or her; and

 - (e) in the case of a court having imposed a sentence of a fine or reparation on the individual, the amount owing has been paid in full or has been deemed to have been remitted; and

8 Effect of further conviction on eligibility

- (1) If, at any time after becoming an eligible individual (either under section 7(1) or as a consequence of an order made by the court under section 9, section 10, or section 12), an eligible individual is convicted of an offence, he or she is no longer an eligible individual.
- (2) An individual referred to in subsection (1) again becomes an eligible individual if he or she—
 - (a) completes a rehabilitation period beginning on the day after the date on which he or she was sentenced for, or the specified order was made in relation to, that conviction or is an individual in relation to whom an order has been made under section 9 or section 10(2); and
 - (b) is otherwise eligible under section 7(1) to have the clean slate scheme apply to him or her.

 - (b) that offence has subsequently been abolished and the act that constituted the abolished offence no longer constitutes an offence; and
 - (c) he or she is no longer subject to the non-custodial sentence.
- (2) If an application is made to a District Court under subsection (1), a registrar must make an order that an individual need not complete a rehabilitation period for the purposes of section 7(1)(a) if the applicant provides evidence of the matters in subsection (1)(a) to (c).

- (4) The court may order that the conviction for the specified offence must be disregarded for the purposes of section 7(1)(d).
- (5) In considering an application under this section, a court must balance the interests of individuals in concealing their criminal records against the wider public interest in the safety of the community (recognising that an awareness of an individual's previous convictions is appropriate in certain cases).
- (6) Subject to any rules of court, a court may call for and receive as evidence any statement, document, information, matter, or thing that, in the court's opinion, may assist it to deal effectually with the application.
- (7) On an application under subsection (1) or subsection (3), the court must either make the relevant order under subsection (2) or subsection (4) or decline to do so.

- (5) On the hearing of an appeal under this section, a court may confirm, reverse, or modify the decision appealed against.

 - (a) the name of the applicant or appellant;
 - (b) any particulars leading to the identification of the applicant or appellant.
- (2) The particulars referred to in subsection (1) may be published in a report or account if the court orders that they may be published.
- (3) In deciding whether to permit the particulars referred to in subsection (1) to be published in a report or account, the court must have regard to—
 - (a) the interests of any individual (including, without limitation, the applicant or appellant); and
 - (b) the public interest.

- (4) Every person commits an offence if the person contravenes subsection (1) and is liable on summary conviction,—
