1995, No. 39

An Act to restructure the Department of Justice

[30 June 1995]

BE IT ENACTED by the Parliament of New Zealand as follows:

1. Short Title and commencement—(1) This Act may be cited as the Department of Justice (Restructuring) Act 1995.

(2) Except as provided in sections 5 (5), 6 (4), 10 (4), 11 (5), 12 (5), and 13 (2) of this Act, this Act shall come into force on the 1st day of July 1995.

2. Interpretation—In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires,—

“Document”—

(a) Includes a contract, deed, or conveyance; but

(b) Does not include an enactment or any instrument appointing a person to a statutory office:

“Minister” means the Minister of the Crown who, under the authority of any warrant or with the authority of the Prime Minister, is for the time being responsible for the administration of this Act:

“Proceedings” includes—

(a) An application to a court, tribunal, statutory board, or local authority; or

(b) The exercise of a statutory function or power pursuant to an enactment:

“Responsible department”, in relation to any proceedings or to any document, means any department of State that, under an enactment or with the authority of the Prime Minister, is for the time being responsible for a function or matter to which the proceedings or the relevant provisions in the document relate:

“Responsible Minister”, in relation to any proceedings or to any document, means any Minister of the Crown who, under an enactment or under the authority of any warrant or with the authority of the Prime Minister, is for the time being responsible for a function or matter to which the proceedings or the relevant provisions in the document relate.

3. Amendments to references in documents to Minister of Justice, Secretary for Justice, and Department of Justice—(1) Unless in any case the context otherwise requires, and subject to the provisions of this Act,—

(a) Every reference in any document made before the 1st day of October 1995 to the Minister of Justice shall be read as a reference to the responsible Minister:

(b) Every reference in any document made before the 1st day of October 1995 to the Secretary for Justice or to the chief executive of the Department of Justice shall be read as a reference to the chief executive of the responsible department:

(c) Every reference in any document to the Department of Justice shall be read as a reference to the responsible department.

(2) The Minister may from time to time, for the purpose of providing guidance in relation to the provisions of any document or of any class of documents, make a statement indicating the identity of a responsible Minister or of a responsible department.

(3) Any document to which a statement under subsection (2) of this section relates shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be read in accordance with that statement.

4. Benefits of licences—(1) Notwithstanding any provision or rule of law, where a right or licence has been granted or assigned to the Crown for the purposes of the Department of Justice, the right or licence may, for the balance of the term, if any, of the right or licence, be exercised for the purposes of any department of State or of any division of a department of State, if the functions of that department or division consist principally of functions which, at the date of the grant or assignment of the right or licence, were the responsibility of the Department of Justice.

(2) Notwithstanding any provision or rule of law, where a right or licence has been granted or assigned to the Crown for the purposes of a division of the Department of Justice, the right or licence may, for the balance of the term, if any, of the right or licence, be exercised for the purposes of any department of State or of any division of a department of State, if the functions of that department or division consist principally of functions which, at the date of the grant or assignment of the right or licence, were the responsibility of that division of the Department of Justice.

5. Establishment of Ministry of Justice—(1) The State Sector Act 1988 is hereby amended by inserting in the First Schedule (as substituted by section 28 (1) of the State Sector Amendment Act (No. 2) 1989), in its appropriate alphabetical order, the item “Ministry of Justice.”

(2) The Ombudsmen Act 1975 is hereby amended by inserting in Part I of the First Schedule, in its appropriate alphabetical order, the item “Ministry of Justice.”

(3) The chief executive of the Ministry of Justice shall be known as the Secretary for Justice.

(4) Notwithstanding section 35 of the State Sector Act 1988, but subject to section 6 of this Act, the person employed, at the commencement of this section, as the chief executive of the Department of Justice shall by virtue of this section be employed as the chief executive of the Ministry of Justice as if the person’s contract of employment as chief executive of the Department of Justice required the person to hold, for the term of the contract, both the position of chief executive of the Department of Justice and the position of chief executive of the Ministry of Justice.

(5) This section shall come into force on the 1st day of October 1995.

6. Abolition of Department of Justice—(1) The Department of Justice is hereby abolished.

(2) The State Sector Act 1988 is hereby amended by omitting from the First Schedule (as substituted by section 28 (1) of the State Sector Amendment Act (No. 2) 1989) the words "Department of Justice."

(3) The Ombudsmen Act 1975 is hereby amended by omitting from Part I of the First Schedule the words "Department of Justice."

(4) This section shall come into force on a date to be appointed by Order in Council.

7. Application of collective employment contracts—Where any employees of the Department of Justice whose conditions of employment are governed by an unexpired collective employment contract are transferred (in circumstances to which section 61B of the State Sector Act 1988 applies) to any Department specified in the First Schedule to the State Sector Act 1988, the unexpired collective employment contract shall be deemed, as from the date of the transfer of those employees, to continue to apply on the same terms (including the period of the contract and any terms relating to new employees)—

- (a) As if it were a contract that had been made in respect of the department to which those employees are transferred; and
- (b) As if it were binding on both those employees and on the chief executive of the department to which those employees are transferred.

8. Transfer of employees to other Departments of the Public Service—Except as otherwise provided in any employment contract, no employee of the Department of Justice who is transferred to any Department specified in the First Schedule to the State Sector Act 1988 (in circumstances to which section 61B of the State Sector Act applies) shall be entitled to receive any payment or other benefit merely because he or she has ceased by virtue of the transfer to be an employee of the Department of Justice.

9. Continuation of existing proceedings—(1) Where, before the commencement of this Act, the Minister of Justice has, in his capacity as Minister of Justice, initiated or become a party to any proceedings, the proceedings may be continued, completed, and enforced by or against the responsible Minister.

(2) Where, before the commencement of this Act, the Secretary for Justice has, in his capacity as Secretary for Justice, initiated or become a party to any proceedings, the proceedings may be continued, completed, and enforced by or against the Chief Executive of the responsible department.

10. Consequential amendments—(1) The enactments specified in the First Schedule to this Act are hereby amended in the manner indicated in that Schedule.

(2) Section 3 of the District Courts Amendment Act 1991 is hereby consequentially repealed.

(3) The enactments specified in the Second Schedule to this Act are hereby amended in the manner indicated in that Schedule.

(4) Subsection (3) of this section, and the Second Schedule to this Act, shall come into force on the 1st day of October 1995.

11. Consequential amendments to Privacy Act 1993—(1) The Privacy Act 1993 is hereby amended by repealing the Fifth Schedule, and substituting the Fifth Schedule set out in the Third Schedule to this Act.

(2) The following enactments are hereby consequentially repealed, namely,—

(a) Section 55 of the Criminal Justice Amendment Act 1993:

(b) So much of Part I of the Second Schedule to the Land Transport Act 1993 as relates to the Privacy Act 1993.

(3) The Privacy Act 1993 is hereby further amended by repealing the Fifth Schedule (as substituted by subsection (1) of this section), and substituting the Fifth Schedule set out in the Fourth Schedule to this Act.

(4) Subsection (1) of this section, and the Third Schedule to this Act, are hereby consequentially repealed.

(5) Subsections (3) and (4) of this section shall come into force on the 1st day of October 1995.

12. Consequential amendments to regulations—(1) The regulations specified in the Fifth Schedule to this Act are hereby amended in the manner indicated in that Schedule.

(2) The regulations specified in the Sixth Schedule to this Act are hereby amended in the manner indicated in that Schedule.

(3) The amendment by this section of the regulations specified in the Fifth Schedule or the Sixth Schedule to this Act shall be without prejudice to any power of amending or revoking those regulations.

(4) The Governor-General may from time to time, by Order in Council, consequentially revoke the Fifth Schedule or the Sixth Schedule to this Act or any part of either of those Schedules.

(5) Subsection (2) of this section, and the Sixth Schedule to this Act, shall come into force on the 1st day of October 1995.

13. Repeals—(1) The enactments specified in the Seventh Schedule to this Act are hereby consequentially repealed.

(2) This section, and the Seventh Schedule to this Act, shall come into force on the 1st day of October 1995.
