(3.) Every such estimate shall include not only the amount of recurrent annual expenditure, but also the amount of capital expenditure necessary for the purchase of land, the erection of buildings, or for any other purpose contemplated by this Act, save that with the consent of the Minister the amount of any such capital expenditure incurred in any year may be apportioned and extended over a period of years.

(4.) Any such estimate may include the amount of any deficiency in the revenue of the Board for the preceding year.

- (b.) Every such return shall be accompanied by a statutory declaration by the manager, secretary, or agent of the company that according to the books thereof, and to the best of his knowledge and belief, the return contains a true statement of the amount of such premiums.
- (c.) If any company liable to contribute under this Act makes default in transmitting such return and declaration at the time prescribed by the Minister, or furnishes an incorrect or incomplete return, such company shall be liable to a fine of five pounds for every day during which it is so in default.
- (d.) The contribution of each such company shall bear the same proportion to the amount payable by all the insurance companies liable to contribute as the amount of premiums as shown by each such return bears to the total amount of premiums as shown by all such returns.
- (e.) All such returns, and all information obtained and all extracts made in order to verify such returns, shall be kept secret by the Board and every member thereof, and by every officer and person appointed thereby; and every person guilty of the non-observance of the secrecy hereby required shall be liable, on conviction, to a fine of not exceeding fifty pounds.
- (f.) For the purpose of verifying any such return the Board may require the Audit Office to examine the books and accounts of the company making such return, and it shall be the duty of the Audit Office to make such examination accordingly and to report the result of the same to the Board, and the said company shall forthwith on demand submit such books and accounts accordingly to any duly authorised officer of the Audit Office, and for any default in so doing the company shall be liable to a fine of five pounds for every day during which such default continues.
- (g.) Every company receiving any premium by way of reinsurance in respect of property in any fire district shall be deemed to hold an insurance on that property for the purposes of this section, and shall include the amount of such premium in its return accordingly.

Interest payable on default by insurance companies.

23. (1.) If any insurance company liable to contribute under this Act fails to pay any such quarterly payment as is hereinbefore prescribed within thirty days after such payment becomes due, the amount of such payment, together with interest thereon at the rate of ten per centum per annum, computed from the expiration of such thirty days, may be recovered as a debt due from such company to the Board.

By local authority

(2.) If any local authority liable to contribute under this Act fails to pay any such quarterly payment within thirty days as aforesaid, the amount of such payment, together with interest thereon at the rate and computed in manner aforesaid, may be paid to the Board by the Minister of Finance, and deducted by him from any moneys payable to such local authority by way of subsidy under any Act, or may be recovered as a debt due from such local authority to the Board.

Contribution of local authority may be raised by rate.

24. (1.) In order to raise the amount required by section twenty-one hereof to be contributed by the local authority, it may either pay the same out of its general rate or make and levy for that purpose a separate rate on the value of the buildings in the fire district, exclusive of the value of the sites on which such buildings are erected.

(2.) No rate of any description shall be levied by any local authority on any property vested in and occupied by a Fire Board.
