Transfers may be made on a separate document, instead of being indorsed on a scrip certificate.

3. Notwithstanding any transfer whatever of any shares not fully paid up, made after this Act comes into operation, the transferor thereof shall continue to be chargeable for six months after the transfer, but no longer, with any debt or liability incurred prior thereto; and, in so far as respects any such debt or liability, such transferor shall be deemed to be a contributory under the said Act in cases where it may be necessary to determine who are contributories. Transfers not to cancel prior liability.

4. Sections thirty-one and thirty-two of the said Act are hereby repealed. Sections 31 and 32 repealed.

Creditors and others may apply for rectification of register.

5. Besides the parties mentioned in the thirty-fifth section of the said Act as being entitled to make application for the rectification of the register of shareholders, the following persons, that is to say, any person claiming to be a member of the company, or being a creditor of the company, and any person whose name appears on the aforesaid register, may apply in the manner provided by the section for such rectification; and the Court, on any such application, may decide on any question relating to the rectification of the register, irrespective of the manner how, or the parties between whom, the question shall arise.

Final call not necessary before capital increased.

6. Notwithstanding anything contained in the said Act, it shall not be necessary that a final call shall have been made before the capital is increased: Provided that the shares issued in pursuance of any increase of capital shall be of the same nominal value as in the case of the original issue.

7. The following words towards the end of section forty-five of the said Act, that is to say, "and, as the case may be, of the increased amount of the shares," and the Fourth Schedule of the said Act are hereby repealed.
