

No. LXXXVIII.

ROXBURGH
RESERVES ACT 1876
AMENDMENT.

AN ACT to amend "The Roxburgh Reserves Act, 1876."
[10th December, 1877.]

Preamble.

WHEREAS it is desirable to amend "The Roxburgh Reserves Act, 1876," and to provide that Daniel Charles Dalton shall be entitled to claim from the Corporation of the Town of Roxburgh a part of the reserve hereinafter mentioned, on the terms hereinafter mentioned:

BE IT THEREFORE ENACTED by the General Assembly of New Zealand in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Short Title.

1. The Short Title of this Act shall be "The Roxburgh Reserves Act 1876 Amendment Act, 1877."

The Corporation shall make valuation or sell.

2. The Corporation of the Town of Roxburgh shall, within six months after the passing of this Act, appoint some competent person to value the buildings and all other improvements effected prior to the passing of this Act, by Daniel Charles Dalton, upon that portion of the reserve described in the Schedule to "The Roxburgh Reserves Act, 1876," now occupied by him, and shall either pay to him the amount of such valuation within the six months aforesaid, or, subject to such conditions as the said Corporation shall fix, sell the said portion of the said reserve by public auction, at an upset price equal to three pounds per acre, together with the value of the said buildings and improvements; and on the receipt by the Corporation of the amount of the valuation of such improvements shall pay the same to the said Daniel Charles Dalton.

Power of sale as is conferred by Act of 1876.

3. The Corporation of the Town of Roxburgh shall have the like power of sale with respect to the said portion of the said reserve as is conferred on them by "The Roxburgh Reserves Act, 1876," and this Act shall be read as part of the said Act.
