A BILL INTITULED

AN ACT to regulate the Licensing of Auctioneers.

- 5 BE IT ENACTED by the General Assembly of New Zealand in Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—
1. The Short Title of this Act is "The Auctioneers Act, 1890."
 2. In this Act, if not inconsistent with the context,—
 - 10 "Auctioneer" means any person who sells or attempts to sell by auction, or offers for sale or resale by auction, property of any kind whatever, or any interest or supposed interest in any property:
 - 15 "Clerk" means the Clerk of any local authority, and includes the person who may be appointed by the Governor to receive fees and issue licenses in all parts of the colony where the Governor is the local authority:
 - "District" means any portion of the colony under the administration of a local authority as herein defined:

Title.

Short Title.

Interpretation.

“Local authority” means and includes the Council or Board of any borough or town district, and the Council of a county; and, within any county where “The Counties Act, 1886,” is not in force, and also in all parts of the colony not included in any borough, town district, or county, means the Governor: 5

A town district, for the purposes of this Act, shall be deemed not to form part of the county wherein it is comprised:

“Public notification,” “public notice,” “publicly notify,” 10 respectively mean the insertion of a notice in one or more newspapers having general circulation in the district or place affected by the matter contained in such notification or notice:

“Sales by auction” or “sell by auction” means the selling 15 of property of any kind whatever, or any interest or supposed interest in any property, by outcry, by the auctioneer saying, “I’ll take,” and commencing at a higher figure and going to a lower figure, by what is known as Dutch auction, knocking-down of hammer, candle, lot, parcel, 20 instrument, machine, or any other mode whereby the highest, the lowest, or any bidder is the purchaser, or whereby the first person who claims the property submitted for sale at a certain price named by the person acting as auctioneer is the purchaser, or where there is a 25 competition for the purchase of any property or any interest therein in any way commonly known and understood to be by way of auction.

No person to sell by auction unless licensed. Penalty.

3. No person, except as hereinafter mentioned, shall sell by auction unless he shall be the holder of an auctioneer’s license as hereinafter provided; and every person offending against this provision shall be liable to a penalty of not less than ten pounds and not exceeding one hundred pounds for every such offence. 30

Application for certificate.

4. Any person holding an auctioneer’s license at the time of the passing of this Act shall, on the expiry of the said license by effluxion 35 of time, be entitled on application to receive from the local authority of the district in which he resides or has his place of business a certificate for the issue of a new license; and any person who for the first time is desirous of obtaining an auctioneer’s license shall lodge with the Clerk of the local authority in the district within which 40 such person resides or has his place of business a notice, in the form in the First Schedule hereto, that he intends at the first meeting of such authority to apply for a certificate for an auctioneer’s license.

Local authority to hear application.

5. At such meeting of the said local authority such application shall be dealt with and granted, unless the members of such local 45 authority, by resolution of a two-thirds majority, decide that the applicant is not a fit and proper person to receive such license.

Certificate.

6. If such application be granted, the Chairman, Acting Chairman, or Mayor of the said local authority, as the case may be, shall sign a certificate in the form in the Second Schedule hereto, and hand the same to 50 the Clerk of the local authority, and, upon payment to the said Clerk of the sum of forty pounds as license-fee, he shall issue to such applicant

a license in the form in the Third Schedule, signed by such Clerk, and bearing the date upon which application was made therefor, or, at the option of the applicant, the date of such issue, which license shall, for the period of twelve months therein specified, authorise the person 5 therein named to sell by auction in any part of the colony, subject to forfeiture as hereinafter provided.

License.

7. In all parts of the colony not within any county, borough, or town district, and in all counties where "The Counties Act, 1886," is not in operation, or not wholly in force, or is suspended, the 10 Governor may appoint persons to grant auctioneers' licenses, and may prescribe the mode of applying for and issuing such licenses.

Governor to provide for issue of licenses in some parts of the colony.

8. All sums received as license-fees or registration-fees under this Act shall be paid by the Clerk receiving the same into the General Account of such local authority.

License and other fees to be paid to local authority.

15 All sums as aforesaid received in any part of the colony not included within any provincial district shall be paid into the Public Account; and after deducting therefrom all expenses and costs as aforesaid incurred in such part of the colony shall form part of the Consolidated Fund.

Exception.

20 9. Every Clerk or person appointed by the Governor to issue auctioneers' licenses shall, within ten days after the issue of any license by him, publicly notify that the same has been so issued in the form in the Fourth Schedule hereto.

Issue of license to be notified.

10. Every auctioneer's license in force at the commencement of 25 this Act, issued under any of the Acts and Ordinances hereby repealed, shall be deemed to have been issued under and be subject to the provisions of this Act, and shall remain in force until its expiration by effluxion of time or forfeiture: Provided also that every auctioneer holding a license at the time of the passing of this Act shall be entitled
 30 to obtain from the Clerk of the local authority a new license, without reference to the local authority, on expiry of such license by effluxion of time.

Existing licenses.

11. In case of the illness of any licensed auctioneer, or of his absence or intended absence from the district in which his principal
 35 or sole place of business shall be situated, he may give notice in writing to the Clerk who has issued such license that he intends to appoint some other specified person to sell by auction as his substitute for a period in such notice mentioned, not exceeding six months; and such substitute may, if approved of in writing by the Clerk by whom
 40 such license was issued, be registered by the Clerk who has issued such license upon payment of a registration-fee of ten shillings, and may act as such substitute accordingly, and shall whilst so acting be deemed the holder of such license and licensed auctioneer within the meaning of this Act.

Licensed auctioneer may appoint substitute.

45 12. No licensed auctioneer who shall have appointed another person to sell by auction as his substitute shall sell by auction until twenty-four hours after he shall have delivered to the Clerk by whom his license was issued a notice in writing that he intends to resume business personally as an auctioneer, and upon the expiration of such 50 period of twenty-four hours his substitute shall cease to be a licensed auctioneer, and his right to sell by auction shall absolutely cease and determine.

Auctioneer not to sell after appointing substitute until after notice.

In case of death or bankruptcy of auctioneer, license may be transferred.

13. If any licensed auctioneer shall die or be adjudicated a bankrupt his executors or administrators, or the Official Assignee in Bankruptcy of his property, as the case may be, shall be entitled to transfer the auctioneer's license to any other person, with the previous consent in writing of the local authority having jurisdiction in the district in which such license was issued, and after paying to the Clerk who issued the license a registration-fee of ten shillings, and delivering to the said Clerk a notice in writing of such intended transfer, describing the name, occupation, and principal or sole place of business of the intended transferee, and immediately after such transfer the transferee shall be deemed to be the holder of such license, and a licensed auctioneer within the meaning of this Act. 5 10

Auctioneer may hold a wholesale license under "The Licensing Act, 1881," but not a publican's license.

14. Notwithstanding anything contained in "The Licensing Act, 1881," a wholesale license within the meaning of the said Act may be granted to any licensed auctioneer, subject otherwise to the provisions of the said Act; but no person holding a publican's license thereunder shall be competent to become a licensed auctioneer. 15

Night auctions prohibited, saving as to cattle-sales.

15. No auctioneer shall sell by auction any property except between the hours of six o'clock in the morning and seven o'clock in the evening of the same day; saving that any auction sale of live stock which shall have been commenced at any time not later than two o'clock in the afternoon of any day may be continued until eight o'clock in the evening of the same day, but not any later. 20

Account-sales to be rendered within one month.

16. Every auctioneer shall, within one month after receiving a demand in writing from the vendor of any property sold by auction by him so to do, render an account of the proceeds of the sale of such property, and on failure to do so shall be deemed to have committed an offence against this Act, and shall be liable for each such offence to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds. 25

Penalty.

Misappropriation, larceny; falsifying accounts, misdemeanour.

17. Any auctioneer who— 30
 (1.) Fraudulently converts to his own use the proceeds of any property sold by auction by him, or any part of such proceeds, or fraudulently omits to pay such proceeds or any part thereof to the person entitled thereto, shall be deemed guilty of larceny: 35
 (2.) With intent to defraud, renders any account of the proceeds of any property sold by auction by him, knowing the same to be false in any particular, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanour, and on conviction thereof shall be liable to imprisonment for any time not exceeding two years, with 40 or without hard labour.

Penalty on unlicensed person pretending to be an auctioneer.

18. Any person, not being a licensed auctioneer, who shall have any words written, painted, or inscribed, or which may have been written, painted, or inscribed, and not thoroughly obliterated, over or about his house, window, or premises, which shall lead to the belief or supposition that such person is an auctioneer, or who shall place or cause to be placed any placard, board, writing, matter, or thing in the public view, to the intent that it may be believed or supposed that such person is an auctioneer, or that any property of any kind whatever or any interest therein is to be sold by auction by such person, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding one hundred pounds. 45 50

19. If any person acting as a licensed auctioneer does not at the time of any sale by auction, or within forty-eight hours thereafter, on demand of any police officer or constable, produce and show to such officer or constable a proper license granted or deemed to be granted to him under this Act, such person shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds. Penalty for not exhibiting license on demand.
20. If any licensed auctioneer shall exercise his business at any time or in any manner contrary to the provisions of this Act, he shall for every such offence be liable to a penalty not exceeding ten pounds. Penalty for selling contrary to Act.
21. Every person who shall forge, counterfeit, or alter, or cause to be forged, counterfeited, or altered, any license, or any signature to any license, or shall use or tender in evidence any such forged, counterfeited, or altered license, or signature, knowing the same to be forged, counterfeited, or altered, shall be guilty of felony, and being convicted thereof shall be liable to be imprisoned for any term not exceeding two years, with or without hard labour. Forging licenses, felony.
22. Every person shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding fifty pounds for every separate offence who shall let out or hire or lend any license granted to him, or shall, except as hereinbefore provided, trade with or under colour of any license granted to any other person whomsoever, or of any license in which his own name shall not be inserted as the name of the person to whom the same is granted. Penalty for lending or hiring, &c., a license.
23. In all proceedings against any person for having acted as an auctioneer without a license, such person, unless he shall produce his license or bring other satisfactory proof of his having been licensed at the time at which the offence was committed, shall be deemed to have been unlicensed. Onus of proof of license on person charged with offence.
24. If any auctioneer holding a license under this Act shall be convicted of an offence under this Act, and thereafter be convicted within twelve months of a second or any subsequent offence of any kind under this Act, the convicting Magistrates or Justices may, if they think fit, in addition to any other penalty, cancel his license. Licenses may be cancelled.
25. All offences under this Act, except under sections seventeen and twenty-one, may be heard and determined, and all fines and penalties may be recovered in a summary way before a Resident Magistrate or any two or more Justices of the Peace, and shall be paid into the Public Account, and form part of the Consolidated Fund. Summary jurisdiction as to certain offences.
Fines to be paid into Public Account.
26. Nothing in this Act contained shall be deemed to take away or limit any civil remedy which any person may have against an auctioneer in respect of any matter which is constituted an offence under this Act. Saving of civil remedies.
27. Nothing in this Act contained—
(1.) Shall extend to any sale made by order of the Governor or of any Collector or Sub-Collector of Customs, or to any sale ordered by virtue of or in obedience to any writ or process issued by or out of any Warden's Court or other Court of law or justice, nor to any sale of any animals sold under the law relating to public pounds, nor to any sales of Crown lands, or of the leases or occupation-licenses of any such lands; Sales exempted from Act.

(2.) Shall be construed to repeal any enactment authorising particular sales to be conducted without an auctioneer's license.

Illegal sales not validated.
No charge to be made by other than a licensed auctioneer.
Acts and ordinances repealed.

28. Nothing in this Act contained shall be taken to render legal and valid any sale which before the commencement of this Act was contrary to law, and no person other than a licensed auctioneer shall make any charge whatever for selling by auction.

29. The several enactments enumerated in the Fifth Schedule hereto are hereby repealed.
