PART I.

COMPULSORY ATTENDANCE AT PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

3. Subject to the provisions of the principal Act, every child between the age of seven years and the age of thirteen years is hereby required to attend some public school at least six times a week, morning attendances and afternoon attendances being separately counted:

Every child between seven and thirteen to attend school.

Provided that this section shall not apply to any child whose place of residence is more than two miles from the nearest public school, the distance being measured by the shortest road:

Provided also that the parent of any child may apply for and receive a certificate from the Board of the district in which such child resides exempting such child from attendance in whole or in part at school, upon satisfying the Board of the existence of any one of the following grounds, namely:—

Exemptions.

- (1.) That the child is under efficient and regular instruction elsewhere :
- (2.) That the child is unable to attend school by reason of sickness, danger of infection, temporary or permanent infirmity, or other unavoidable cause : 5
- (3.) That the road between the child's residence and the school is not sufficiently passable :
- (4.) That one of the Inspectors or the headmaster of any public school has, by writing under his hand, certified that the child has reached a standard of education prescribed by any regulations under the principal Act as the standard of exemption : 10

And every such certificate of exemption shall state the ground of exemption, and shall be in force for a period of one year, or for a shorter period, as may be named in such certificate ; and during the period named in such certificate the holder thereof shall be freed from the operation of the provisions of this Act in respect of the child named therein. 15

Definition of

4. For the purposes of this Act, "parent" includes guardian, and the householder in whose family a child resides. 20

5. If any child, required by this Act to attend a public school, does not attend such school, the Education Board of the district in which such child resides may give the parent of such child notice in writing, in the form or to the effect of the Schedule hereto, calling upon such parent to send such child to school ; and if such parent, after receiving such notice, refuses or neglects to send such child to school, such parent may be summoned before any Resident Magistrate, or any two Justices of the Peace, who may order such parent to send such child to a public school. 25

Penalty for disobeying order of Justices.

6. Any parent neglecting to obey an order made under section five of this Act, or who, after obeying the order for a time, ceases to obey it, shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding forty shillings, and the payment of such penalty shall be no bar to further proceedings in case of further neglect. 30

Penalty on parents for inconstant attendance of children.

7. When any child required by this Act to attend a public school has been enrolled in the register of a public school, and does not attend at least six times a week, the parent of such child shall be liable to a penalty of two shillings for every week in which such child shall have attended less than six times : Provided that proceedings for the recovery of any penalty incurred by reason of insufficient attendance during any part of any month cannot be instituted except during that month or during the next following month. 35

Proceedings for penalties.

8. All proceedings for orders to send children to school and for recovery of penalties under this Act may be had and taken in the manner prescribed by "The Justices of the Peace Act, 1882." 40
