

POLICE OFFENCES AMENDMENT BILL

EXPLANATORY NOTE

THIS Bill provides for two amendments of the Police Offences Act, 1927.

Clause 2 makes it an offence for any person (not being a member of the crew or a passenger or other person authorized to be on board) to remain on a ship after being ordered to leave the ship by the master or an officer of the ship or by any constable, or to return to the ship or persist in attempting to re-enter the ship after having been ordered to leave. This provision replaces section 43 of the Statutes Amendment Act, 1949, under which regulations could be made for the same purpose.

Clause 3: Section 3 (cc) of the Police Offences Act, 1927, makes it an offence to discharge any firearm without reasonable cause in or on any public place or so near thereto as to endanger, annoy, or frighten the passers by. It is not an offence under this paragraph to discharge a firearm in any place which is not a public place, even though property may be damaged or persons endangered. The purpose of this clause is to make it an offence under this section to discharge any firearm without reasonable cause to the damage or danger of any person or property, whether the event occurred in a public place or elsewhere.

This PUBLIC BILL originated in the HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, and, having this day passed as now printed, is transmitted to the LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL for its concurrence.
