EXPLANATORY NOTE

This note is not part of the rules, but is intended to indicate their general effect.

These rules make a number of corrections to certain forms prescribed by the Protection of Personal and Property Rights Rules 1988, relating to the jurisdiction of the Courts to make personal orders. The general rule is that a personal order may be made only in respect of a person who is at least 20, or who is under that age and married (or formerly married). An order appointing a welfare guardian may also be made in respect of an unmarried minor who has no parent or guardian in regular contact with him or her.

Issued under the authority of the Regulations Act 1936.

Date of notification in Gazette: 3 November 1988.

These rules are administered in the Department of Justice.
