Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua Claims Settlement Bill (PCO 19924/20.0) – Consistency with the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990
Our Ref: ATT395/287

1. We have considered the above Bill for consistency with the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 (the Bill of Rights Act). We advise that the Bill appears to be consistent with the Bill of Rights Act.
2. The Bill will effect a final settlement of the Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua historical claims as defined in the Bill.¹ It provides for acknowledgements and an apology to Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua (including the recital of the apology) as well as for cultural and commercial redress. Measures for cultural redress include the issue of protocols; statutory acknowledgement and deed of recognition; declaration of official geographic names; and vesting of cultural redress properties in fee simple, with many of those properties to be administered as reserves.

Whether s 19 at issue

3. The Bill does not prima facie limit the right to freedom from discrimination affirmed by s 19 of the Bill of Rights Act through conferring assets or rights on Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua that are not conferred on other people. Discrimination arises only if there is a difference in treatment on the basis of one of the prohibited grounds of discrimination between those in comparable circumstances. In the context of this settlement, which addresses specified historical claims brought by Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua, no other persons or groups who are not party to those claims are in comparable circumstances to the recipients of the entitlements under the Bill. No differential treatment for the purposes of s 19 therefore arises by excluding others from the entitlements conferred under the Bill.
4. Clause 104 reserves a special right of access to land on which a protected site is situated². This right of access applies to Māori for whom the protected site is of special cultural, historical, or spiritual significance. It is conceivable that this clause

² Clause 91 defines Protected site as meaning “any area of land situated in the licensed land that:

- (a) is wāhi tapu or a wāhi tapu area within the meaning of section 6 of the Heritage New Zealand Pouhere Taonga Act 2014; and
- (b) is, at any time, entered on the New Zealand Heritage Lis/Rārangi Kōrero as defined in s 6 of that Act”.

raises a section 19 issue if the protected sites also have significance to non-Māori. However, the reasoning in paragraph 3 above also applies to clause 104 and on that basis, section 19 is not infringed. To the extent that section 19 might be engaged, any infringement is justified by the objective of ensuring that related claimant groups are not prejudiced by the settlement in situations where the negotiation of cultural and commercial redress has to occur in a multi-iwi setting.

Issues under s 15 – Privative clause

5. The Bill provides in cl 15 that the settlement of the historical claims is final. It excludes the jurisdiction of any court, tribunal or other judicial body to consider the settlement and historical claims, the Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua Claims Settlement Act or the Te Rohe o Rongokako Joint Redress Act 2018 and any redress provided, other than in respect of the interpretation or implementation of the Deed of Settlement, the Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua Claims Settlement Act or the Te Rohe o Rongokako Joint Redress Act 2018.
6. Legislative determination ought not conventionally to fall within the scope of judicial review.³ However, to the extent any excluded matters could be susceptible to judicial review, cl 15 constitutes a justified limit under s 5 of the Bill of Rights Act on the right affirmed by s 27(2). Excluding subsequent challenge is a legitimate incident of the negotiated settlement of claims.
7. To the extent the exclusion of subsequent challenge could be said to limit a claimant's minority rights under s 20 of the Bill of Rights Act, this would be justified on the same basis.
8. The United Nations Human Rights Committee upheld a similar exclusion under the 1992 Fisheries Settlement. The Committee found the exclusion was consistent with articles 14 and 27 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights, which are comparable to ss 20 and 27(2) of the Bill of Rights Act.⁴

9. Clause 24(3) of the Bill excludes damages and other forms of monetary compensation as a remedy for any failure by the Crown to comply with a protocol under the Bill.
10. This clause may be seen to raise the issue of compliance with s 27(3) of the Bill of Rights Act, namely the right to bring civil proceedings against the Crown and have those heard according to law in the same way as civil proceedings between individuals. However, cl 24(3) affects the substantive law and does not fall within the ambit of s 27(3) of the Bill of Rights, which protects procedural rights.⁵

Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua Claims Settlement Bill (PCO 19924/21.0) – Consistency with the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990
Our Ref: ATT395/287

1. In 2018 we considered version 20.0 of the above Bill for consistency with the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 (the Bill of Rights Act). On 5 December 2018 we advised you that the Bill appeared to be consistent with the Bill of Rights Act. A copy of that advice is enclosed for your convenience.
2. The Bill has now been updated. Version 21.0 is the current version. We are advised that the only substantive change for version 21.0 is the addition of a 'preservation clause' (new clause 15A).
3. The Bill continues to provide in cl 15 that the settlement of the historical claims is final. As we previously advised, cl 15 excludes the jurisdiction of any court, tribunal or other judicial body to consider the deed of settlement and historical claims, the Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua Claims Settlement Act or the Te Rohe o Rongokako Joint Redress Act 2020 and any redress provided, other than in respect of the interpretation or implementation of the deed of settlement, the Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua Claims Settlement Act or the Te Rohe o Rongokako Joint Redress Act 2020.
4. New cl 15A will however provide that the settlement of the historical claims will not affect specified claims of Kingi Winiata Smiler, for his own part and on behalf of the shareholders of the Wairarapa Moana ki Pouakani Incorporation, made in relation to the Mangakino Lands and Waikato River claim (claim Wai 85).
5. We do not consider there are any Bill of Rights Act issues raised by the proposed exemption for claim Wai 85.
6. This advice has been reviewed in accordance with Crown Law protocol by Helen Carrad, Crown Counsel.

Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua Claims Settlement Bill [PCO 19924/28.0] and Te Rohe o Rongokako Joint Redress Bill [PCO 20372/25.0] — Consistency with the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 – Supplementary advice
Our Ref: ATT395/287

1. On 5 December 2018 we provided advice on the consistency of the above Bills with the New Zealand Bill of Rights Act 1990 (the Bill of Rights Act). We advised that the Bills appeared to be consistent with the Bill of Rights Act. We enclose a copy of our advice in relation to each Bill.¹
2. We have been asked to review the most recent versions of these Bills, given the passage of time since the original advice.
3. The amendments for the Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua Claims Settlement Bill provide for minor and technical changes and otherwise:
 - 3.1 provide a comprehensive Explanatory note;
 - 3.2 clarify the treatment of the Ngā Rā-a-Kupe property, the Wairarapa Lake Shore property, and the Whāwhānui White Rock property in relation to provisions for cultural redress property (cl 75);
 - 3.3 introduce a new clause 84 providing for the transfer of reserve land if the trustees of a trust change.
4. The amendments for the Te Rohe o Rongokako Joint Redress Bill provide for minor and technical changes only.

Whether s 27(3) at issue

5. Since the original advice, negotiations for settlement of the claims have progressed. The proposed settlement will cut across extant litigation in the Supreme Court in which two parties (Wai 85 and Wai 429) bring appeals to enhance their ability to return to the Waitangi Tribunal to reargue their resumption claims. You have been separately briefed on these issues by Crown counsel engaged with the litigation.

¹ On 19 March 2020 we also provided supplementary advice on version 21.0 of the Ngāti Kahungunu ki Wairarapa Tāmaki nui-a-Rua Claims Settlement Bill which proposed a preservation clause (the new clause 15A) in relation to the Mangakino Lands and Waikato River claim (claim Wai 85). This clause has been removed from the current version.

6. No provision is made in either Bill for a savings provision for the extant litigation discussed above. The Bills may be seen to raise the issue of compliance with s 27(3) of the Bill of Rights Act, namely the right to bring civil proceedings against the Crown and have those heard according to law in the same way as civil proceedings between individuals.
7. However, the settlement of these claims affects the substantive law and does not fall within the ambit of s 27(3) of the Bill of Rights, which protects procedural rights. "Section 27(3) ... cannot restrict the power of the legislature to determine what substantive rights the Crown is to have. Section 27(3) merely directs that the Crown shall have no procedural advantage in any proceeding to enforce rights if such rights exist".²
8. Having reviewed the amended Bills, our advice remains the same: the Bills appear to be consistent with the Bill of Rights Act.
