

(23.) AUCKLAND SADDLERS.

Before the Board of Conciliation, in the Northern Industrial District.—In the matter of an industrial dispute between J. Hill and others, and the Auckland Saddlers, Harness-makers, and Bridle-cutters' Industrial Union, and of a reference thereof for settlement.

The Board, having heard evidence in the above case, have been unable to bring about a settlement, and refer the matter to the Court of Arbitration for settlement.

A. H. COLLINS, Chairman.

Auckland, 11th November, 1899.

[In this case the recommendations of the Board were not lodged with the Clerk of Awards.]
