"(2.) Men commencing work at 8 a.m. shall not (unless they choose) be obliged to work for more than fourteen hours continuously, inclusive of meal-hours, except in the case of ships finishing, when they shall, if required, work on until midnight. Men commencing work after 8 a.m. but before 2 p.m. shall not (unless they choose) be obliged to work later than midnight: Provided that in either case men desiring to cease work at the expiration of the fourteen hours or at midnight (as the case may be) shall notify the foreman not later than one hour prior to the time fixed for the last engagement of labour for the day.

"B. The essence of this agreement being that the work of the employers shall always proceed in the customary manner, and shall not on any account whatsoever be impeded, it is agreed that if any dispute or difference shall arise between the parties bound by this agreement or any of them, whether as to its construction or meaning or as to any other matter whatever arising out of or connected therewith, every such dispute or difference as the same shall arise shall be referred to a committee, to be composed of three representatives of the union and three representatives of the employers, for their decision. The decision of the majority of the committee shall be binding, and if no decision is arrived at the committee shall submit the point in dispute to some independent person to be chosen by it, and if his decision is not acceptable to both parties then the matter shall be referred to the New Zealand

Waterside Workers' Federation and the employer or employers concerned, and if they are unable to arrive at a decision either party may appeal to the Court of Arbitration upon giving written notice of such appeal to the other party within fourteen days after the matter in dispute has been so referred to the New Zealand Waterside Workers' Federation and the employer or employers concerned.

"C. The temperature at which coal shall be considered 'hot' shall be fixed by agreement at as early a date as practicable—i.e., on arrival of the first cargo of hot coal after the date hereof.
