MEMORANDUM

The rates of remuneration prescribed in the award are not to be increased by the application of the provisions of the Court's general orders of 9th August, 1940, and 31st March, 1942.

Under Regulation 39c of the Economic Stabilization Emergency Regulations 1942 the Court, when amending the provisions of an award for the purpose of giving effect to a pronouncement made under Regulation 39B, is directed to have due regard to any increases in the rates of remuneration of the workers affected by the award granted since 17th March, 1945, and also to have due regard to the proper relationship with the rates of remuneration of other workers or classes of workers.

The rates of wages under the Northern Industrial District Shop Tailoresses' award (47 Book of Awards 243) were increased by varying amounts as from October, 1946, and in making this amendment the Court, in compliance with the law, has had regard to the said increases.

The Court has also had regard to the proper relationship which the rates of remuneration of the workers concerned in this amendment should bear to the rates of remuneration of other classes of workers, particularly those classes of workers which are covered by the New Zealand Clothing-trades' award.

Mr. Allerby is not in agreement, and his dissenting opinion follows.

A. TYNDALL, Judge.

DISSENTING OPINION OF MR. ALLERBY

I dissent from the rates of wages prescribed under this amendment.

The new rates do not, in my opinion, maintain the relationship with the rates of remuneration of other classes of workers which was established by the agreement of the parties themselves. This industry is a most essential one. Therefore, the minimum rates of remuneration should be such as to attract workers to the industry, and should also reflect the skill and training which are necessary before a worker can be classed as an efficient operator.

I am of opinion that in this amendment the weekly rates for all classes of adult workers should have been increased by 10s. above the existing rates, with proportionate increases to junior workers, so that a proper relationship would have been maintained with the rates of wages of other classes of workers.
