Annual Leave

3. (a) The provisions of the Annual Holidays Act, 1944; shall apply.

(b) One week's additional leave shall be granted to those stewards and stewardesses who have completed not less than 600 hours' flying-time during the preceding twelve months.

(c) When members are required to take annual holidays they shall be given one month's notice and shall be paid all wages and moneys (including payment for holidays) due prior to commencing their annual holiday.

Holidays

4. (a) When stewards or stewardesses are required to work on any of the following holidays—viz., New Year's Day, Good Friday, Easter Monday, May Day, Labour Day, Sovereign's Birthday, Christmas Day, Boxing Day, and Federated Cooks and Stewards' picnic day—they shall be granted a day off at their home base within one month thereafter or overtime payment, with a minimum of four hours, for work performed on the holiday.

(b) No deduction in weekly pay shall be made in respect to the above holidays if the worker is not required to work on such day.

(c) When any of the above holidays falls on a Sunday, the Monday following shall be observed as the holiday; and when Boxing Day falls on a Monday, the Tuesday following shall be observed as the holiday.

Uniforms

5. All uniforms and the maintenance thereof shall be supplied by the employer free of cost to the employee.

Meals

6. Stewards and stewardesses shall be allowed the same meals as the crew and passengers.

Accommodation

7. (a) Home Base.—A fully furnished rest-room and modern cafeteria for light lunches will be provided.

(b) Away Bases.—The employer shall supply meals and accommodation of good standard.

Medical Benefits

8. (a) Stewards or stewardesses invalidated from work with illness or accident contracted in the service of the employer shall be granted full wages (at the basic rate) until recovery, and if invalidated beyond New Zealand shall (except in case of death) be returned to the home base and wages shall continue until arrival thereat and the member is fit for duty again. All medical and other expenses incurred by such illness or accident shall be paid by the employer: Provided that the total payment under this paragraph shall not continue for longer than six months from the date when the steward or stewardess is invalidated from work.

(b) All stewards and stewardesses shall be covered by a comprehensive insurance policy (making no less provision than contained in the New Zealand Workers' Compensation Act) covering loss of life or limb or earning-capacity. The premiums of such insurance to be paid by the employer.

(c) Stewards and stewardesses shall undergo a medical examination at the employer's expense when requested to do so.

Engagements

9. Engagement of stewards and stewardesses shall be made at Auckland.

The employer shall, in the engagement of workers coming within the scope of this agreement, give first consideration to those members of industrial unions affiliated to the Federated Cooks and Stewards Industrial Association of Workers who are of required age and physical fitness and who are qualified and suitable for the particular work to be done and who have not been subject to disciplinary measures for misconduct or drunkenness.

Notice to leave

10. Any member of the stewards' staff may terminate his employment in his home base only by giving one week's notice in writing of such termination.

Discharge

11. The employer may discharge any member of the stewards' staff at his home base if he gives him in writing not less than one week's notice. If a member is discharged in any place other than his home base the member shall be returned to his home base free of cost, and wages and sustenance (including day of arrival) shall be provided up to the time he arrives thereat: Provided that if the return of the worker to his home base is delayed by his own act or default he shall not be allowed wages or sustenance during the period of delay.

Any member intoxicated and incapable of performing his duties may be instantly dismissed, and in such case wages will cease and sustenance and transport not made available.

Disputes

12. All disputes arising from or incidental to the employment of the stewards' staff shall be referred to the employer and the union, whose representatives shall immediately confer to effect a settlement. If a settlement is not reached, the matter shall be referred without delay to an independent chairman (agreed upon by the employer and union), who shall decide the question. All decisions arrived at shall be final and binding upon employer and employee.

Stewards' Staff to be Members of Union

13. (a) It shall not be lawful for any employer bound by this agreement to employ or to continue to employ in any position or employment subject to this agreement any adult person who is not for the time being a member of an industrial union of workers bound by this agreement or who is not for the time being a member of a trade-union which was registered as such before the 1st day of May, 1936, and which is bound by this agreement: Provided, however, that any non-unionist may be continued in any position or employment by an employer bound by this agreement during any time while there is no member of a union bound by this agreement and who is available to perform the particular work required to be done and is ready and willing to undertake it.

(b) For the purpose of subclause (a) of this clause a person of the age of eighteen or upwards, and every other person who for the time being is in receipt of not less than the minimum rate of wages prescribed by this agreement for workers of the age of twenty-one years and upwards, shall be deemed to be an adult.

(NOTE.—Attention is drawn to subsection (4) of section 18 of the Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Amendment Act, 1936, which gives to workers the right to join the union.)

(c) Members of the union presenting themselves for employment shall produce their union books to show that they are not more than one month in arrears with their contributions.
