6. Were all securities lodged by the clients for sale and securities purchased for clients and paid for by them held unencumbered?
7. Did the market value of assets (excluding value of seat) as shown by the books, exceed the member's commitments at balance date?
8. Were the assets taken into account readily realizable?
9. Does the statement of assets include private assets not usually included with business assets?
10. Are there any contingent liabilities and, if so, of what amount?

(Nota.—Under this heading, a full report must be furnished of any oversold position.)

11. Are there any other matters or circumstances which in the auditor's opinion, affect the financial position of the member?
12. Has all necessary information been available to enable this certificate to be given?

Rule 131: Production of members' books, &c.

The committee of an exchange, in addition to the powers conferred by rule 98, shall have full and absolute power at any time to call upon any member to produce forthwith, for inspection by themselves or their duly appointed representatives, all books, letters, telegrams, or copies thereof, and other documents relating to his business of a sharebroker; and they may also require members and their clerks to appear before the committee or their duly appointed representatives at any time, and to give such information as may be required in connection with such business.

Rule 109 (a): Add the following:—

1. A member shall not be a shareholder in, or a director of, any limited liability company which—

2. A member shall not knowingly transact business for or on behalf of any such company.

3. A member shall not knowingly transact business for or on behalf of any registered sharebroker who is not a member of a stock exchange affiliated to the Stock Exchange Association who, in the opinion of the committee, undertakes to sign certificates referring to the matters referred to in the rules of the association permitted under the rules of the association.

4. A member shall not without the consent of the committee of his exchange act as broker or underwriter for a company in conjunction with anyone other than a member of a recognized stock exchange acting in a similar capacity.

5. A member shall not permit his name to appear as a broker, or underwriter in connection with the flotation of any company or any issues of shares or other securities where it is advertised that such issues are underwritten or co-underwritten or in any way organized by others than members of recognized stock exchanges, unless such underwriters or co-underwriters or organizers have been approved by the committee of his exchange.
