The Oil Fuel Emergency Regulations 1939.

GALWAY, Governor-General.

ORDER IN COUNCIL.

At the Government Buildings at Wellington, this 4th day of September, 1939.

Present :
HIS EXCELLENCY THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL IN COUNCIL.

PURSUANT to the Public Safety Conservation Act, 1932, there being a Proclamation of Emergency now in force under that Act, His Excellency the Governor-General, acting by and with the advice and consent of the Executive Council, doth hereby make the following regulations.

REGULATIONS.

PRELIMINARY.

1. (1) These regulations may be cited as the Oil Fuel Emergency Regulations 1939.

(2) These regulations shall be read together with and deemed part of the Supply Control Emergency Regulations 1939 (hereinafter referred to as the principal regulations).

2. In these regulations, unless inconsistent with the context,—

"Controller" means the Oil Fuel Controller appointed under these regulations ; and includes any person for the time being authorized to exercise or perform any of the Controller's powers or functions :

"Oil fuel" includes motor-spirits, power kerosene, lighting kerosene, Diesel oil, fuel oil, and lubricating-oil, as hereinafter defined :

"Motor-spirits" means any petroleum distillate or similar hydrocarbon that distills completely at a temperature below 225° C. and is suitable for use as fuel in internal-combustion engines ; and includes motor benzole and power alcohol :

"Power kerosene" means any petroleum distillate of which less than 50 per cent. by volume distills at a temperature below 160° C., and which is suitable for use as fuel in internal-combustion engines performing heavy duty, such as those of motor-lorries and tractors :

"Lighting kerosene" means any refined petroleum distillate that distills completely at a temperature below approximately 320° C., has a closed test flash-point above 115° C., and is suitable for use as an illuminant :
