The Sharebrokers Act, 1908.—Amendments to Rules of the Wellington Stock Exchange.

Head Office, Stamp Duties Office,
Wellington, 1st August, 1940.

HIS Excellency the Governor-General in Council has been pleased to approve the following amendments to the rules of the Wellington Stock Exchange.

W. NASH, Minister of Stamp Duties.

WELLINGTON STOCK EXCHANGE.

Rule 56: Alter to read:—

Any member who desires to resign his membership and forthwith to propose a candidate for membership in his stead (or to cause such a candidate to be proposed by some other member) shall lodge with the Secretary notice in writing of his resignation and at the same time submit in writing, signed either by himself or by some other member, a proposal for the election of such candidate. In the event of such candidate being rejected, the member may propose or have so proposed another candidate or candidates until some candidate shall have been elected. Pending the election of such candidate in the place of such member such member shall retain his membership and all the privileges and obligations thereof but so soon as a candidate proposed in his stead shall have been elected the resignation of such member shall thereupon take effect.

Add the following as subsection (a):—

(a) Any member who desires to cease carrying on business as a sharebroker but desires meantime to retain his membership shall adopt the following procedure:—

- (a) He shall give notice in writing addressed to the Secretary of his intention to cease carrying on the business of a sharebroker as from a date to be stated in such notice and of his desire to avail himself of the provisions set out in this rule.
- (b) If such member accordingly ceases to carry on business as a sharebroker on the date so stated in such notice he may at any time within five years from the date of such notice propose in writing or cause to have so proposed by another member a candidate for membership in his stead. In the event of such candidate being rejected, the member may thereupon propose or have so proposed another candidate or candidates until a candidate shall have been elected. If, after any member has given such notice as hereinbefore provided and before any candidate is elected in his stead, such member shall engage in business as a sharebroker either on his own account or in partnership with or in employment by any other sharebroker or shall take or claim to take any part in the affairs of the Exchange the Committee may forthwith by notice in writing end and determine the right of such member to propose or have proposed a candidate for election to membership in his stead and may by such notice terminate the membership of such member.
- (c) If a candidate shall be duly elected in the place of a member in the manner provided by this rule, such member shall thereupon be deemed to have resigned his membership. If within the above-mentioned period of five years, no candidate is proposed for membership in the place of the member giving such notice, then after the expiration of such period the Committee may at any time by notice in writing terminate the membership of such member.
- (d) Until the membership of a member shall have been terminated or until such member shall be deemed to have resigned his membership as hereinbefore set out, such member shall continue to be liable for his annual subscription and for all other obligations of membership.

Rule 61: Alter to read:—

The election of a candidate for membership in the place of a resigning or deceased member shall not be proceeded with until all claims which the Exchange or any member or members thereof may have under these rules against such resigning or deceased member or against the member proposing such candidate shall first have been satisfied.
