The Electric Radiators Order 1943

PURSUANT to the Supply Control Emergency Regulations 1939* and the Electricity Emergency Regulations 1939†, the Electricity Controller doth hereby order and direct as follows:—

1. (1) This Order may be cited as the Electric Radiators Order 1943.

(2) This Order shall come into force on the 2nd day of July, 1943.

2. In this Order, unless the context otherwise requires,—

“Electric radiator” includes any new or used electric space-heating appliance or equipment:

“Hospital” includes any institution, private hospital, or separate institution within the meaning of the Hospitals and Charitable Institutions Act, 1926‡; and also includes any Red Cross, Plunket, or first-aid rooms or other premises used by any organization for the purpose of giving medical advice or treatment:

“Owner”, in relation to any electric radiator or radiator element, includes any person having the radiator or element in his possession or control or on order by him:

“Public supply of electricity” means any system of electric lines for the distribution of electricity which is connected whether directly or indirectly and whether continuously or not with any Government system of supply:

“Radiator element” means any new or used element capable of being used in any electric radiator:

“Supply authority” means the licensee in respect of a public supply of electricity.

3. No owner of any electric radiator or radiator element shall sell or otherwise dispose of the radiator or element to any person unless at the time of the sale or other disposition the owner receives from that person a written permit granted in accordance with Regulation 6 of the Supply Control Emergency Regulations 1939 and with the provisions of this Order.

4. Every owner of any electric radiator or radiator element who sells or otherwise disposes of the same shall—

- (a) At the time of the sale or other disposition, endorse or cause to be endorsed on the permit received by him pursuant to this Order a statement, signed by or on behalf of the owner, to the effect that an electric radiator or, as the case may be, a radiator element, has been sold or otherwise disposed of to the person named in the permit, and specifying the nature of the appliance or equipment so sold or disposed of and the date of the transaction; and

- (b) Forward the permit to the chief executive officer of the supply authority by whom the permit was granted, in accordance with such directions as that officer may from time to time give with respect to the forwarding to him of such permits.

5. (1) Every application for a permit under this Order shall be made to the chief executive officer of the supply authority in whose area of supply the electric radiator or radiator element to which the application relates is intended to be used.

(2) In considering any such application the chief executive officer shall grant the same only if he is satisfied—

- (a) In the case of an application relating to an electric radiator, that the refusal of the application would, by reason of the sickness or infirmity of the applicant or of some member of his family, or of some other person on whose behalf the application is made, or by reason of other circumstances, cause substantial hardship to any such person;

- (b) In the case of an application relating to a radiator element, that the element is required for the immediate replacement of an element actually used in an electric radiator and that the element has become totally unfit for further use and cannot be effectively repaired.

(3) Every permit granted under this Order shall be signed by the officer granting the same or by some person authorized by him in that behalf, and shall specify the name of the person to whom it is granted and the nature of the appliance or equipment authorized to be acquired.

6. This Order shall not apply with respect to the acquisition of any electric radiator or radiator element for the purposes of any hospital.

Dated at Wellington, this 30th day of June, 1943.

F. T. M. KISSEL, Electricity Controller.
