Notice to Mariners No. 1 of 1955 (Repeating Admiralty Notice to Mariners No. 1 of 1955)

CAUTION WHEN APPROACHING BRITISH AND COMMONWEALTH PORTS

PART I

Closing of Ports; Stopping of Movement in Ports

Former Notice 1/54 cancelled.

(1) My Lords Commissioners of the Admiralty, in conjunction with the Commonwealth Naval Authorities, having taken into consideration the fact that it may be necessary to forbid all entries to certain ports under their control, this is to give notice that, the shores of the British Isles, and any port or locality in the Commonwealth, a sharp lookout should be kept for the signals described in the following paragraphs. These signals will be exhibited in some conspicuous position, in or near any approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

(2) If entrance to a port is prohibited, three red lights vertically disposed by night, or three red balls vertically disposed by day, will be exhibited. These signals may be shown in some conspicuous position, in or near any approach, which signals will also be shown by the vessels indicated in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice.

(3) If movement of shipping in a port or anchorage under naval control is prohibited, three red lights—red—red—red—green—green—green—vertically disposed by night, or a blue flag by day, will be exhibited. Signals affecting movement of shipping in parts of a port will be found in the Public Traffic Regulations for that port.

(4) In certain circumstances it is also necessary to take special measures to examine individual vessels desiring to enter ports and localities at home and abroad and to control entry generally. This is the function of the Examination Service. Where Traffic Control Vessels take the place of Examination Vessels their authority is the same.

(5) In such cases, vessels carrying the distinguished flags or lights mentioned in paragraph (7) will be charged with the duty of examining ships which desire to enter the port and of informing the local authorities.

(6) As the institution of the Examination Service will probably be unknown to vessels desiring to enter the port, vessels are particularly warned not to enter a declared "Dangerous Area." If movement of shipping in a port or anchorage under naval control is prohibited, vessels are particularly warned not to enter a declared "Dangerous Area." Approach booms depend on without permission from the Examination Officer.

By night the steamer will carry:

(a) Three red lights vertically disposed if entrance is prohibited.

(b) Three white lights vertically disposed if entrance is permitted.

The above lights will be carried in addition to the ordinary navigation lights, and will show an unbroken light around the horizon.

(7) Merchant vessels approaching a British or Commonwealth Port at which the Examination Service is in force must hoist the signal letters on arriving within visual signal distance of the port, and are not to vary for the signal "What is the name of your vessel?" to be made from the Examination Vessel.

(8) Merchant vessels approaching a British or Commonwealth Port at which the Examination Service is in force must hoist the signal letters on arriving within visual signal distance of the port, and are not to vary for the signal "What is the name of your vessel?" to be made from the Examination Vessel.

(9) Masters are warned that before attempting to enter any port when the Examination Service is in force they must obtain permission from the Examination Officer. Masters are warned that before attempting to enter any port when the Examination Service is in force they must obtain permission from the Examination Officer.

By day the vessels carrying the signals mentioned in paragraph (5), Part II, of this Notice, will fly the White Ensign and in the ports of some Commonwealth countries they may fly the national flag or an ensign authorized by that Commonwealth country.

AGRICULTURAL BOTANY

By J. S. YEATES and ELLA O. CAMPBELL.

This book supplies a long-felt want in this country by providing a simple explanation of the manner in which plants function and the conditions necessary for their growth. Wherever possible technical terms have been avoided, and those essential to a proper understanding of the subject have been fully explained. Over one hundred illustrations contribute to a clear exposition of the subject. As a result, although the book is primarily intended for use in schools and colleges, it is also suitable for farmers, orchardists, horticulturists, and home gardeners.
