WHEREAS the above-named Elizabeth Gertrude Lister-Kaye died in England on 26 March 1923; and whereas probate of her last will and codicil thereto was duly granted to the Public Trustee of New Zealand by the Supreme Court at Wellington; and whereas the said will provided, inter alia, that the residuary estate should be held by the Public Trustee after the fulfilment of certain prior trusts upon trust for the relief of destitute women of good education and respectable character in Wellington, and directed that the income arising from the said residuary estate should be paid by the Public Trustee to a committee consisting of the Anglican Bishop of Wellington and the two eldest Anglican clergymen in Wellington to be applied by them for the purposes aforesaid; and whereas the Public Trustee has made application to the Supreme Court for approval of a scheme varying the mode of administering the aforesaid Trust by providing that the Public Trustee shall pay the income from the aforesaid residuary estate to the Wellington City Mission (Church of England) Trust Board, to be applied by it for the purpose of the Trust, instead of paying it to a committee consisting of the persons mentioned above.
