Amendments to the Rules of Southland Acclimatisation Society

PURSUANT to section 29 of the Wildlife Act 1953, the Minister of Internal Affairs hereby gives notice that he has approved amendments to rules 4, 8, and 9 of the rules of the Southland Acclimatisation Society, and those rules shall hereafter read as follows:

MEMBERSHIP

4. (1) Membership of the society shall be divided into the following classes:

(a) Life members.

(b) Ordinary members.

(2) Life members of the society shall be those members who, having been recommended by the Council, are elected as such at any general meeting of the society by reason of special services rendered to the society or in the interests of wildlife and fisheries. All nominations recommended by the Council shall be sent out with the notices calling the general meeting. Provided that all members who are registered as life members of the society at the date of the adoption of these rules shall continue to be life members of the society.

(3) Any person who has attained the age of sixteen years and who—

(a) Is the holder of a licence under the Wildlife Act 1953 to hunt or kill game in the district or a whole season licence, under Part II of the Fisheries Act 1908, to fish for acclimatised fish in the district issued by the society during the financial year; and

(b) Makes written application to the Council of the society for membership, such application showing thereon the full name and residential address of the applicant and being also signed personally by him, shall be enrolled as an ordinary member of the society without payment of any other fee and, subject to the provisions of rules 6 and 7 hereof, shall continue to be a member of the society during that financial year, and in the case of the holder of a licence to hunt or kill game, until the commencement of the open season in the next financial year in which there is an open season in the district for the species of game in respect of which the licence was issued or, in the case of the holder of a licence to fish for acclimatised fish, until the 1st day of December in the next financial year in which there is an open season in the district for the species of fish in respect of which the licence was issued.

(4) No person shall be entitled to vote at meetings or in postal ballots of the society until he is a member in accordance with the provisions of this rule or is appointed a member of the society under section 27 (1) of the Wildlife Act 1953.
