Note—At stations where departures from normal have an asterisk, the temperature record has been maintained for less than 10 years, the rainfall record for less than 20 years. Rainfall normals have been revised and now refer to the standard period 1921-50. Where observations are not available for the whole period, or where the site of the rain gauge has been changed, the normals are partly interpolated.
NOTES ON THE WEATHER FOR DECEMBER 1963

General: December was a dry, windy month over the greater part of the country. In Northland it was the third successive month of dry weather and in many areas pasture growth was poor, with declining dairy production. Conditions were also very dry in Nelson and Marlborough.

Some sheep were lost in Canterbury due to heavy rain with cold temperatures on the 20th.

Rainfall: Over the greater part of the country rainfall was less than three-quarters of the average value. The greatest deficits were recorded in Marlborough and Nelson.

By contrast, on the East Coast rainfall was two to five times the average value. It was also somewhat above average in Bay of Plenty and eastern Waikato, Northern and Central Hawke’s Bay; and on Banks Peninsula and the North Canterbury coast. On Banks Peninsula and about Christchurch some exceptionally heavy rain fell around Christchurch, and there were considerable falls also in Bay of Plenty, Waikato, and Northland.

For the next four days pressures remained low over the east with south-westerly winds over New Zealand. Storms were reported in some districts, mainly light. A ridge of high pressure brought mainly fair weather on Christmas Day.

For the last six days of the month westerly conditions predominated, with pressures very low to the south and high to the north. The West Coast and Taranaki received considerable rain, and many other districts reported some rain. However, the weather was mainly fair on the 27th and 28th, under the influence of an anticyclone over the Tasman Sea.

Some sheep were lost in Canterbury due to heavy rain with cold temperatures on the 20th.

On Banks Peninsula and about Christchurch some exceptionally heavy rain fell around Christchurch, and there were considerable falls also in Bay of Plenty, Waikato, and Northland.

A trough which crossed the South Island on the 12th and 13th was accompanied by rain, except in Marlborough and Nelson. During the next three days the trough was almost stationary over the North Island, with some rain in most districts. There were considerable falls in Bay of Plenty.

During the 17th and 18th another trough of low pressure moved rapidly over the South Island to become stationary over the North Island, and a depression developed on it and moved on to Northland. Many districts received some rain. However, the rain became more general during the 19th and 20th with a deep depression to the east and a cold front crossing the country. Very heavy rain fell around Christchurch, and there were considerable falls also in Bay of Plenty, Waikato, and Northland.

Application Under Sections 33 and 35 of the Charitable Trusts Act 1957

Please take notice that on Wednesday, the 18th day of March 1964, the Trustees of the Massey Memorial Scholarship Fund will make application at the Supreme Court House, Auckland, to a Judge of the Supreme Court for approval of a scheme whereby the trustees of the fund would be extended and varied and a varied mode of administration of the fund would be prescribed.

The fund is at present administered under the terms of a Trust Deed dated the 3rd day of February 1930 and the terms of that Deed are now so completely out of touch with present day conditions that the administration of the fund has become impossible and impracticable and inexpedient.

The scheme which the trustees have submitted for approval would allow for the award of scholarships to senior pupils of the Pukekohe High School who are carrying on to University or Agricultural College or similar institution to study one or more of the following subjects, namely, agriculture, horticulture, forestry, plant breeding, veterinary surgery, or any other subject closely allied with agriculture. The applicants would be considered on the following grounds: ability, character, personal circumstances, examination results, proposed course of studies, and potential value of the award to the agricultural industry of New Zealand.

And further, take notice that the application that has been filed by the trustees and the scheme that they seek to have approved and the report on such scheme by the Attorney-General are all open for inspection by the public at the Supreme Court House in Auckland, free of charge.

And further, take notice that any person may appear at the Supreme Court, Auckland, on the above day, to oppose the trustees' application and that if any person desires so to appear in opposition to the proposed scheme he or she must give written notice of his or her intention so to do to the Registrar of the Supreme Court and to the trustees, care of their Solicitors, Messrs Gismon, Jackson, and Partners, 99 Queen Street, Auckland, and to the Attorney-General, care of the Crown Law Office, Wellington, not later than the 10th day of March 1964.

The application will be heard on Wednesday, the 12th day of February 1964, at 10 a.m., at the Warden's Court at Cromwell, and all objections thereto must be filed in the Register's office and notified to the applicant whose address for service is at the offices of Messrs Stevens Gilbert, and Co., Solicitors, M.L.C.
