

3. The fund shall be vested in the Society. The Council of the Society shall have control thereof and shall invest the same in any securities proper for trust moneys.

4. The revenue from the fund shall be applied by resolution of Council or its Standing Committee to the payment in part or in whole of the cost of preparing or printing geological maps or other scientific illustrations accompanying papers accepted for publication in the Society's Transactions.

5. Each geological map or other scientific illustration published entirely or in part through the support of the fund shall bear the endorsement "Published with the support of the Benson Fund of the Royal Society of New Zealand".

6. The Council of the Society at its General Meeting may resolve that any part of the unexpended revenue from the fund shall be added to the capital thereof.

FXI President's Fund:

1. The President's Fund, established in 1964, by Dr C. A. Fleming, shall consist of a capital sum, the revenue derived from which shall be made available to the President to support the duties and responsibilities of his office.

2. The fund shall be vested in the Society. The Council of the Society shall have the control thereof and shall invest the fund in such investments as it may in its absolute discretion think fit and it may vary and transpose such investments from time to time without being in any such case in any way liable for any loss that may result therefrom.

3. The net annual revenue of the fund, calculated during the Society's financial year ending 31 March after deduction of administrative expenses together with any unexpended revenue from previous years, shall be paid by the Secretary to the President in whole or instalments on the request in writing of the President who is in office during the following year.

4. Revenue from the fund may be used by the President at his sole discretion to support in whole or in part any one or more of the following activities undertaken in his capacity as President or for any other activities that he deems necessary or desirable for the performance of his office and for the furtherance of the charitable objects of the Society.

(a) For hospitality or entertainment.

(b) For travelling expenses for himself or for his deputy both in New Zealand and overseas to deliver addresses, attend scientific meetings, conferences, formal celebrations, or meetings for presentation of the Society's awards.

(c) For stationery, postage, circulars, invitations, business cards, secretarial services.

(d) For the support of any unbudgeted activities of the Society that will in his judgment further the promotion of science in New Zealand.

5. Payments under the above rules shall require no resolution of Council or its Standing Committee and the receipt or endorsement of the President shall be sufficient discharge to the Council for each such payment.

6. The terms of these rules, and the disposal of both capital and revenue in the President's fund, may be varied by resolution of the Council at its annual meeting by the unanimous vote of all councillors present at that meeting after notice of motion duly given under clause 11, section 2, of the Royal Society of New Zealand Act 1933.

Dated at Wellington this 7th day of September 1964.

MARGARET E. MARSH, Secretary.
