Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963 and in the matter of an application by Transworld Publications Ltd., of London, in respect of a paperback edition of Another Country by James Baldwin.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE Tribunal has been called upon to consider an application made by Transworld Publications Ltd., of London—with the consent of the Minister of Justice—in respect of a paperback edition of the book Another Country by James Baldwin—whether it is indecent or not, or alternatively for a decision as to its classification.

The application was made some time ago but the hearing had been adjourned, pending the outcome of an appeal to the Supreme Court regarding a paperback edition of Lady Chatterley's Lover in respect of which the Tribunal—by a majority—had declined to impose a restriction limiting circulation to persons over 18 years of age. The Supreme Court (in a majority decision) rejected the appeal.

At the hearing before us Mr R. A. Heron, on behalf of the publishers, made brief submissions. No submissions were made on behalf of the Secretary for Justice.

Our decision in respect of the hard-back edition of Another Country—given in March 1964—was that the book, presenting as it does a powerful and forceful picture expressed sincerely and honestly, was not indecent. We made the observation that the dust cover was simple and dignified and that the price at which the book was sold—26s.—was a relevant consideration. In fact the book had been on sale for some time, and about 1,400 copies had been sold. We said too, that “were it to be published in a cheap edition with a suggestive cover our view might well be otherwise”.

The book as now submitted to us is a cheap edition—it is to be retailed at 6s. 3d.—but the cover is neither lurid nor suggestive. It is simple and dignified. Just as we held that the hard-back edition did not call for condemnation as indecent, so too, we hold the same opinion regarding the paperback edition now submitted to us.

We are not disposed to make any order restricting distribution and hold accordingly that the book is not indecent in terms of the Indecent Publications Act 1963.

[L.S.] K. M. GRESSON, Chairman.
