Order No. 2 (1968) of the Trade Practices and Prices Commission

IN the matter of the Trade Practices Act 1958 (hereinafter referred to as "the Act"), and in the matter of a collective arrangement to sell beer and spirits at common prices operated by the Wellington District Wholesale Wine and Spirits Merchants' Association:

WHEREAS the Trade Practices and Prices Commission has received from the Examiner of Trade Practices and Prices (hereinafter referred to as "the Examiner") a report, pursuant to section 17 of the Act, relating to an investigation by the Examiner of a complaint that during the month of August 1965 the Wellington District Wholesale Wine and Spirits Merchants' Association had collectively increased the price at which whisky was sold by its members;

And whereas the Examiner reported that he had further inquired into the pricing arrangements adopted by the said Association for the sale of other spirits and beer;

And whereas the Examiner reported that he had formed the opinion that:

- (a) there existed a trade practice as defined in section 2 of the Act, in that there existed a demonstrable arrangement between members of the Association; and
- (b) the said trade practice was substantially within the categories (b) and (c) of section 19 (2) of the Act, in that the said arrangement was that members of the Association would sell beer and spirits only at prices or on terms agreed upon between them; and
- (c) the effect of the said practice was contrary to the public interest in terms of section 20 (1) (d) of the Act, in that its operation unreasonably reduced or limited competition in the sale of beer and spirits.

And whereas the Examiner reported that, in accordance with the requirements of section 16A (1) of the Act, he had notified the said Association of the aforesaid opinions and that the Association, whilst in effect rejecting these opinions, agreed to enter into consultations for the purpose of reaching agreement as to the recommendation to be made by the Examiner to the Commission as to an order under section 19 of the Act;

And whereas at the conclusion of these consultations the Examiner reported, pursuant to section 16A (3) of the Act, that agreement to the form of the order had been reached, and recommended that the Commission should make an order in the terms recommended in the report;

And whereas the Commission is satisfied that all persons who would be bound by any order pursuant to the recommendations have concurred with the recommendations, and the Commission has accordingly dispensed with an inquiry under section 18 of the Act;
