No. 385

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Secretary for Justice for a decision in respect of the book Sex Manners of the Young Generation by Robert Chartham, PH.D., published by New English Library, London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

MOST of Dr Chartham's books impart advice on sexual matters to various groups (e.g., Mainly for Women, Sex Manners for Men); this one, however, is a survey of the sexual habits and activities of a group of 441 young people between the ages of 22 and 28. Dr Chartham is concerned to show how far the attitudes of a new generation are different; although one may criticise the apparent narrowness of his random sample, more than three-quarters went to private schools, the information resulting from it is given in a straightforward way. The usual tabulations of percentages are accompanied by the author's comments and interpretation, and by brief extracts from the individual answers given. It was a serious inquiry, and the Tribunal classifies it as not indecent.

No. 386

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Secretary for Justice for a decision in respect of the magazine International Crime Detective, July 1971, published by Dell Publishing Co., Australia.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS magazine published in Australia but originating in the United States gives a series of factual accounts, illustrated with photographs, of crimes (chiefly murder) in a variety of countries, but with a fairly heavy emphasis on the United States. They are written in an easily read style, but do not appear to over-emphasise the lurid aspects of the cases any more than would accounts of court cases in newspapers with a similar preoccupation. The Tribunal classifies it as not indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 387-389

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the magazines The English Courts Naturists' Holiday Panorama, a quarterly guide for the genuine naturist, Vol. 2, No. 13, Health and Efficiency, No. 844, August 1971, Health and Efficiency, Autumn 1971.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Heron, solicitor, appeared for the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THESE three periodicals submitted by the Comptroller of Customs clearly fell without question within the first category of documents considered under the heading Naturist or Nudist Books and Magazines, in the latter part of our classifications now generally known as the Waverley decisions, delivered 15 July 1968 and gazetted 25 July 1968. A close perusal reveals nothing that offends against the Act.

We consider that the directions we have already given about documents of this kind are so clear that it should be unnecessary to submit them to us.

We declare the three periodicals not indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 390

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Sabrina by Joseph Chadwick, published by New English Library, London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

IN content and tone this book closely resembles another novel by Joseph Chadwick which was recently restricted by the Tribunal. The working out of the slaves' revenge on the owners' passionate cruelty involves scenes of sexual and other violence which could harmfully affect younger readers.

The Tribunal classifies the book as indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years of age.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.
