Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Beauty Trap by Jeanne Rejaunier, published by New English Library, London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is the story of three beautiful models, their pilgrimage to New York and their struggle for fame and fortune. The "trap" is in having to live the life expected of a beautiful model—a life of easy virtue. The story is a long one and somewhat tedious.

The Tribunal classifies it as not indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Some Like it Black by Elgin Jones, published by Ace Books, New York.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THIS is a story of a one time negro football star and athlete who left the game early because of an injury. Tough, handsome, and aggressive he went to Mexico to write his story. But there he drank, loved, and fought hard—until he met and loved a negress who restored his sense of values.

There is an emphasis on sexual perversion and cruelty and taking the book as a whole we consider that a restriction is justified, as it could be harmful to young persons.

The Tribunal classifies the book as indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years of age.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

THE author permits himself to be described by his publishers as "possibly the greatest male lover in modern history". This book is the sequel to another book entitled Women.

The theme is described in a sentence on the first page: "I am a middle-aged bachelor and when I lie awake upon my lonely bed I keep company with the ghosts of women I have known". The publishers' further claim that the author reveals sexual secrets that few have ever discussed before is not justified by the contents of the book, which is erotic but not perverse, not ill written but far from memorable, and not the sort of book against which, we believe, the statute requires us to take action.

The Tribunal classifies the book as not indecent.
