No. 367-368

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Lure of Postures by Sha Kokken, M.D., published by Ikeda Publishing Co., Tokyo, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Black Velvet by Joseph Chadwick, published by New English Library, London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

This is yet another novel on the theme of sex and slavery in the Southern States before the American Civil War; in this one, a Northerner who inherits a plantation comes, sees, and learns a lot, while the plantation is moved away from the main story. Sex and slavery have a prominent place in the book, which is not likely to have any corrupting influence on adult readers. The frank description of some of the scenes, however, makes the Tribunal to restrict the book.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

No. 369

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

In this book the attitudes and beliefs which permeate Henry Miller's imaginative and biographical writings are given more direct expression in a series of reflections on sex and its meaning in life. The Tribunal considers that The World of Sex should be treated in the same way as the other works by Henry Miller that have been submitted and that it is not indecent.

The Tribunal classifies the book as not indecent.

No. 370

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

This paperback novel is the story of a men's club in New York. The initiation ceremony is the making of love to a girl in an airborne aircraft. The story is absurd and the book is devoid of literary merit but the Tribunal does not consider there should be any restriction on it.

The Tribunal classifies the book as not indecent.

No. 372

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Commissioner of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Koka Shastra by Alex Comfort, published by Tandem, London.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

The Koka Shastra, being the Ratirahashya of Kokkoka and other Mediaeval Indian writings on love, translated and with an introduction by Alex Comfort is a Tandem paperback edition of a work first published by George Allen and Unwin Ltd. in 1964.

Approximately half of this book consists of the first English translation of Kokkoka's 12th century Ratirahashya (secrets of Rati, wife of the love god—the Koka Shastra, or Koka's book) and various other texts. The rest of the work comprises a 30-page preface by W. G. Archer dealing with the discovery of the Ratirahashya by Sir Richard Burton's associate, F. F. Arbuthnot, and its place in Hindu erotic literature, also the translator's own 52-page introduction. Small diagrammatic illustrations of various coital positions are included: these are in no way offensive.

The texts are highly erotic but could not possibly be described as pornographic. The work could offend only persons whose minds were disturbed or persons who consider sexual congress offensive or shameful in any circumstances. The introductions are scholarly and cannot be faulted on the score of taste: the works themselves are largely poetical distortations on romantic love in the circumstances prescribed and accepted by the society of the period. The pieces chosen reveal both wisdom and essential innocence in that society.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 373

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Commissioner of Customs for a decision in respect of the magazine Playgirl, New Series, No. 6, published by Man Junior Magazine Pty. Ltd., Sydney.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr R. A. Heron, solicitor, appeared on behalf of the publishers and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

This is a fairly well established girlie magazine published in Australia. It is competently done but without any great pretension to artistic merit. While positive virtue of the magazine is slight we do not see anything about the publication which could bring it fairly within the ambit of the Act, and certainly its distribution should not constitute an offence.

Guidelines were set for this kind of publication in our classifications 93-103—the "Waverley decisions"— gazetted on 25 July 1968. These have not been altered.

The Tribunal classifies this issue of this magazine as not indecent.

1. Following receipt by the Minister of Customs of a report from the Emergency Protection Authority, the Government has accepted the recommendation of the Authority that, pending inquiry and report by the Tariff and Development Board, a temporary duty equal to seven-eighths of the amount by which the f.o.b. value is less than $1.30 per lb be imposed, in addition to the duties already in force, on imports of copper and copper alloy nails from all sources except on those being the manufacture or produce of Australia. In this connection the Tariff provisions in respect of the goods in question, which prior to acceptance of the E.P.A. recommendation were as set out in Schedule A to this notice, have been temporarily amended, effective on 15 October 1971, in the manner indicated in Schedule B. At the same time the goods, which prior to acceptance of the E.P.A. recommendation were provided for in Tariff items 74.14.03 and 74.14.09, were exempted from import licensing.

2. In accordance with the provisions of the Tariff and Development Board Act, the Minister of Customs has requested the Board to inquire into and report on what form of protection, if any, is necessary in respect of copper and copper alloy nails at present temporarily classified in Tariff item 74.14.12.

3. The Board will, in accordance with its normal procedures, conduct a public hearing in the Boardroom, First Floor, Law Society Building, 26 Waring Taylor Street, Wellington, on Tuesday, 8 February 1972, commencing at 10.30 a.m.

4. Any person who intends to tender evidence should lodge, in typewritten form, 14 copies of public evidence and 12 copies of confidential evidence, to be presented under oath at the public hearing, at the Board’s office no later than Friday, 21 January 1972. In preparing this evidence the “Notes for Guidance of Witnesses” prepared by the Board may be of assistance. Copies of these notes may be obtained from the Board’s office.
