No. 584
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Secretary for Justice for a decision in respect of the book Die 64 besten Sextositen by Andre de Dienes, published by Stephenson Verlag, Flensburg, Germany, and in respect of the book Nude Photography by Andre de Dienes published by Seven Seas Publishing Pty. Ltd.

Miss Bryson appeared on behalf of the applicant. There was no appearance of the publisher’s representative in New Zealand. No submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

Both these books by Andre de Dienes consist of photographs of the female nude taken in the open air; the former has no contextual and blatant poses more evidence of prurience than of aesthetics. Perhaps in the two books now before us the balance is the other way. Certainly arbitrary selection of pages for display would not be in the public interest. Taking each book as a whole we think a restriction makes an age restriction desirable.

The Tribunal classifies these books as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

No. 585
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Freewheelin’ Frank by Frank Reynolds, published by Grove Press Incorporated, New York.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher’s representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

This is a paperback edition, published in 1968, of what purports to be an autobiographical account of membership of the San Francisco gang of bikies known as Hell’s Angels. The gang secretary, Frank Reynolds, tells his story to the American author and playwright, Michael McClure. We have not found an answer to the question of whether the anti-social behaviour is any or all of the three.

The Tribunal has classified a number of novels set in the same kind of environment. We refer to three of these, published by the New English Library Ltd. of London. In decisions No. 330 and 350 the novels Chopper, England’s King of Angels and The Bikers were classified as indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years of age. The third novel, The Run, was, in decision No. 582, classified as indecent. Freewheelin’ Frank is more appropriately classified with the first two than with the third. In fact it has a greater ring of truth and more penetrating insight into the unrestrained and violent emotional storms that drive gang members into such anti-social behaviour than any of the three. We feel that it would be wrong to deny access to it by mature readers, but the possibility of emulation by the immature for the sake of “kicks” makes an age restriction desirable.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

No. 587
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher’s representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

This long novel is centred on an American psychiatrist (same name as the author, oddly enough) who hits on a new form of therapy—using a dice to determine one’s actions. Six possible courses of action are decided on, the die is cast, and whichever course it indicates is carried out. It is not running your life purely by chance, of course, because you control the six alternatives, and they can be innocuous or dangerous. The plot becomes highly involved, with the die almost elevated into a new religion, at times there is a fairly strong sexual content.

The novel has some literary skill, and the basic idea is developed in a quite entertaining way. It does not appear to the Tribunal to be one which is likely to cause harm, nor to offend many. The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

No. 588
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Secretary for Justice for a decision in respect of the book The Lure of Lesbos by Jago Jones published by Franklin Publishing Co.

Miss Bryson appeared on behalf of the applicant. There was no appearance of the publisher’s representative in New Zealand. No submissions were made.
In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the magazine Modern Sunbathing published by Seven Seas Publishing Pty. Ltd.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

There are some characteristics of this magazine which do not usually belong to a nudist magazine: almost all the photographs are of young women; some are decorated, some posed provocatively. But there is no distortion, no appeal to prurience, no perversion or crudity. The articles are slight but harmless.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

In submissions made on behalf of Alister Taylor Publishing Ltd., Mr Taylor described this book as a massage instruction manual, likely to sell at about $4.25; well-designed, containing photographs which illustrate the steps in the techniques explained. Mr Taylor claimed that “photographs of fully nude persons appear only when absolutely necessary”; in fact this has been absolutely necessary everywhere except in the brief appendix. As the submission rightly went on to point out, however, nudity is not regarded by the Tribunal as indecent.

Mr Taylor further submitted that “the book has no sexual content”. Apart from the circumstance that all the photographs are of young man/young woman activity (which superficially gives impression of sexual content), there is a section of the book entitled “Erotic Massage”. But again, sexual content does not in the view of the Tribunal constitute indecency.

Mr Taylor made offer of expert witnesses to support the validity of the book as “teaching a skill which has a clear medical and personal benefit”. The Tribunal thinks this evidence unnecessary as the point is obvious.

Mention was also made of the high reputation of the publishers (Straight Arrow Books), of the large sales of the book in America, and of the pending British edition by a “very well-established and conservative publisher”. We regard these points as interesting but not strictly relevant.

This book appears to fulfill the author’s intention to provide a “book of pleasure” in which the techniques of massage are described in order to teach a method of rediscovery of “touch, the oldest and truest form of communion”. There is nothing objectionable in content, tone, format, or photography.

Mr Taylor made an application for costs which was considered by the Tribunal. It was decided not to make an order for costs.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

In our opinion, according to the best of our information and the explanations given to us and as shown by the said books, the balance sheet and the statement of profit and unappropriated profits, together with the notes thereto, are properly drawn up so as to give respectively a true and fair view of the state of the company’s affairs as at 30 September 1972 and of the results of its business for the year then ended.

According to such information and explanations the accounts, the balance sheet, and the statement of profit and unappropriated profits give the information required by the Companies Act 1955 in the manner so required.
