Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for decisions in respect of the following books: Glory by Bruce Emery, Mated Voyage by James Harvey, Nephew of Nippon, Vol. 1, by Peter Nagis, What The Teacher Taught by Charles Morton, A Party for Laura Lee by L. L. H., Hot Set by F. D. Phillips, The Ballad of Bubblegum Park by Danny, all published by Venice Publishing Corporation, California.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr. Campbell appeared on behalf of the importer. No submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

In the first four of these novels incidents of sexual depravity and exploitation abound. In the other three the incidents are neither as numerous nor as extreme but the treatment of the sexual behaviour of the characters has a similar persistent appeal to prurient excitement.

All seven books deal with sex in a gross way and they have nothing else to offer.

The Tribunal classifies these books as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

27 September 1972.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Only a Boy, anonymous, published by Collectors Publications, California.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

This is a cheaply produced, poorly printed, slim paperback of under 60 pages containing firstly, an anonymous account of a young boy's seduction by a woman over twice his age, and secondly, a short work, in question and answer form, called The Whores Catechism by one Mary Wilson. Neither work has any literary or artistic merit and while sexual urges provide the motivation behind the action of the story, with homo-sexuality a prime interest, there is not the gross obsession with physical detail which typifies spurious portrayals of this kind of life. The book has no relevance to the story but is apparently intended to give credence and acceptability to the purposes of the publishers in resurrecting the book.

The publishers claim that the book has interest and merit as an authentic account of life in an earlier period.

The novel relates the sexual exploits and aberrations of an English earl in the time of the American Revolution. The historical setting is simply a vehicle for the presentation of depraved sexual practices as exciting aristocratic living. The fact that the book has been translated into modern English (to quote the publishers) robs it of any claim to scholarly interest as a period work.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

27 September 1972.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Intimates by Ricki Francis, published by Scripts Publications, Australia.

Mr. Moody appeared on behalf of the applicant. There was no appearance of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. No submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

This novel, described in the foreword as a "classic French work of erotic realism," has no redeeming features to commend it. It is a crude and debasing account of the sexual exploits of a young French businessmen and a few people in his circle. The characters are brought into the story for prurient purposes only—as vehicles for prurient obsessions—and the book is degrading.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book For Me And My Friends
by David Rottenberg, published by Grove Press Incorporated, New York.

There was no appearance on behalf of the applicant. Mr.
Campbell appeared on behalf of the importer and made submissions.

Decision of the Tribunal

This is an unpleasant and unwholesome book. The young people, and it depicts their world as meaningless, frustrated, and empty. In the descriptions of episodes in the youthful "narrator's" life, there is an indication of some understanding of the difficulties of the young in trying to cope with the growing-up process, but the obsession with sex (and in part drugs) is so great as to make the purpose of the book appear to be freely available.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

Decision of the Tribunal

Section 16 of the Act provides that the Tribunal shall announce its decisions and give reasons for them in writing.
These two books depict sex in a manner that is injurious to the public good. They warrant no further comment.

The Tribunal classifies these books as indecent.

No. 551 Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

This hardback book is a selection of articles, cartoons, and photographs from an American newspaper called Screw, The Screw Reader. If sold in New Zealand it would retail at a price in excess of $13.

The book is written in a racy and flippant style and its contents cover every form of sexual activity and perversion.
Many of the photographs, cartoons, and drawings are objectionable and depraved and the same can be said of a large part of the text. Taking into consideration the matters referred to in section II (1) of the Act, the Tribunal is of the opinion that it would be injurious to the public good to allow this book to be freely available.

Mr. Campbell informed the Tribunal that the book had not been ordered by his company but he suggested that it might be of interest to clinical psychologists. The Tribunal cannot see any professional value in the book.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.
27 September 1972.

No. 552 Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

This paperback book claims to recount case histories of young girls who are attracted to the "big city" to stardom as models, but instead fall into the clutches of sexual perversions and professional pornography racketeers. The cases are sordid and some depraved. The credentials of the writer are not given and there is no evidence of the authenticity of the case histories. The book has nothing to commend it.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 553
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book Variations in Modern Marital Behaviour by John F. Trimble, Ph.D., published by Venice Publishing Corporation, California.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Campbell appeared on behalf of the importer. No submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

This is a book purporting to deal objectively and helpfully with marital practices. Its author is described as a well-known marriage counselor in Washington and much of the writing is responsible enough. There is, as so often in such books, a wealth of case histories reported in great detail, often with insufficient commentary. In addition, there is in this book a lack of balance in that the variations seem to be largely anal, bestial, and group activity. It could be interpreted as approving and encouraging forms of behaviour not at present acceptable here to law or to society. Dr Trimble has already written a bestseller on The Group Sex Scene and this popularising of his specialist knowledge may lead him to recount the more lurid and bizarre stories. Premature reading of such could well have a corrupting influence on those without sufficient experience to provide the necessary perspective.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

No. 554
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book My Love Life by Frank Harris, published by Boone Enterprise, France.

There was no appearance of the applicant nor of the publisher's representative in New Zealand. Accordingly no submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

In 1967 (decision 50) the Tribunal considered the five-volume My Life and Loves by Frank Harris and classified it as not indecent. The content of this present book (published in Nice in 1931) is similar. Harris is the same shrill enterprising Don Juan with the same literary and political connections; besides his sentimental reminiscences he gives some picture of the society of the time, especially in its literary and political aspects. The main preoccupation of the author is his sexual exploits but although these are frank and repetitive they do not exhibit cruelty or perversion, and the tone in which they are recounted is never objectionable.

The Tribunal classifies this book as not indecent.

No. 555
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the book The Sons of Priapus by Krystofalus Voyager, published by Greenleaf Classics Incorporated, California.

There was no appearance of the applicant. Mr Campbell appeared on behalf of the importer. No submissions were made.

Decision of the Tribunal

This worship of every phallic pleasure through the brotherhood of Priapus, the Greek god of fertility, is the nub of this modern novel. The settings are in Rome and the islands of Greece and as the title suggests, the practice of homosexuality is the chief occupation of the characters. Their perverted and depraved practices are described in detail and it is not in the interest of the public to allow this book to be available for general reading.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

OCTOBER TIIE NEW ZEALAND GAZETTE 2091

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

This book is one of a series dealing with sexual life including, if the advertisement on the cover is any guide, the sadistic perversions.

The text is not clinical or academic but consists of a slight story of two young lovers enjoying a day on the beach. This "story" is the occasion for profuse illustration in photographic plates (both in colour and in black and white) of all the nuances of erotic delight. While there is nothing corrupting in these pictures there seems very slight justification for spelling out in such explicit form the intimacies of sexual desire and satisfaction. There comes a point where stimulus to the imagination passes over into the stultifying of it, which perhaps happens here.

The tone, however, is sincere and natural enough; the only ground of objection could be the illustrations of oral sex, but these are few.

Because of the adult nature of its content some restriction should be placed on the sale and display of this book.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

27 September 1972.

Indecent Publications Tribunal

I, Eric Alderson Missen, of Wellington, Secretary for Justice, give notice that I have applied to the Indecent Publications Tribunal for a decision as to whether the book Die 64 Besten Sexfotos by Andre de Dienes, published by Stephenson Verlag, Flensburg, Germany, is indecent or not, or for a decision as to its classification.

E. A. MISSEN, Secretary for Justice.
