No. 804
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

Mr Downey appeared on behalf of the applicant, Marketing Services (N.Z.) Ltd., and presented written submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

ISSUES of this magazine have been before the Tribunal on several previous occasions, the most recent being Vol. 2, No. 2, in December 1970. The Tribunal found this to be indecent. Mr Downey, in his written submission, drew an analogy with Penthouse in that decisions on early issues of that magazine finding it indecent, had given way to an age restriction when later issues had been before the Tribunal, and that this change reflected contemporary community standards. It must be observed, however, that Penthouse is a magazine which has fair measure of varied literary content as well as its illustrative material, and that each issue must be judged as a whole.

Girls of the World, by contrast, consists entirely of a series of photographs of unclothed or partially clad women, nearly all in contrived and provocative poses. Its literary content is confined to captions, of dubious merit, to some illustrations. It is even less likely to be of artistic merit, and in terms of the criteria laid down in section 11 of the Act, the Tribunal finds Girls of the World, Vol. 5, No. 7, to be indecent.

18 April 1974.

R. S. V. SIMPSON, Chairman.

No. 805-810
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs and made submissions. Mr Alister Taylor appeared on behalf of the importer and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

In earlier decisions the Tribunal has considered numerous comic books from the underground press and applied the same criteria in assessing this further batch.

The first four books deal with sex and violence in a way that is, in places, grossly offensive and likely to be injurious to impressionable readers. The fifth book is a more substantial publication and has a somewhat different cover from the comic books it anthologises. In content, however, it is entirely comparable, and some of the material in it is unacceptable for circulation in this country. The sixth book the Tribunal has seen, but what there is is sufficiently explicit and crudely sensational to require rejection of the book for circulation among younger readers.

As the Tribunal has pointed out on several occasions, an age restriction is not possible for any picture-story book likely to be read by children. Section 11 (3) of the Act requires the Tribunal to decide whether such a book is acceptable for free circulation or not acceptable for any circulation. The latter view must be taken of each of these comic books.

The Tribunal classifies these six books as indecent.

3 May 1974.

L. M. GREIG, Deputy Chairman.

No. 811
Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the comic La Vida De Dor Noviar by Martin Vinaver, published by John Muir Publications, New Mexico.

Mr Murray appeared on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs and made submissions. Mr Alister Taylor appeared on behalf of the importer and made submissions.

DECISION OF THE TRIBUNAL

This is a picture story book, the coloured illustrations and captions in which are claimed as the work of a 13-year-old boy, born in France and living in Mexico. The original is in Spanish, with French and English translations. It is quite expensively produced.

Mr Alister Taylor for the importers claimed that the illustrations had high artistic merit for a 13-year-old artist, and that the work was a social document of value in depicting Mexican society through his eyes.

We reject this assessment of the work. It is gross, cruel and brutal, and depicts matters of sex in a manner that is injurious to the public good. We have no means of verifying whether the publication is genuine but we doubt its honesty of purpose.

Although some may contend that at $4 per copy the price charged would put it beyond the reach of young readers, it is designed particularly to appeal to them in its format. In our view it could encourage in the young and the impressionable codes of conduct and behaviour that are not in the public interest.

The Tribunal classifies this book as indecent.

L. M. GREIG, Deputy Chairman.
