2. The exhibition is hereby authorised and declared to be an exhibition within the meaning of the Act.

3. Subject to the conditions set out in the Schedule hereto, the following provisions are hereby suspended in so far as they relate to work done or business conducted or services rendered in the said premises during the period of the exhibition, by or on behalf of the promoter, or by or on behalf of any exhibitor at the exhibition, or by any person employed in or about the said premises—
   (a) The Industrial Relations Act 1973 and all collective agreements or awards in force thereunder;
   (b) The Shops and Offices Act 1955; and
   (c) The Factories Act 1946.

4. No assistant under 18 years of age shall be employed in or about the exhibition after the hour of 10.30 p.m.

5. For the purposes of the enforcement of any collective agreements or awards, any provision of which has been suspended by this order, any officer of the industrial union or association concerned who is authorised in writing in that behalf by the union or association shall be entitled to interview at his place of employment any person employed in or about the exhibition or those collective agreements or awards at such time or times as may be agreed upon between the officer and the employer of that person, and for this purpose any such officer shall be entitled at any time to have access to the register of passes issued by the promoter.

6. Nothing in this notice shall be deemed to affect any provisions in any collective agreements or awards requiring workers subject to any collective agreements or awards to be members of a union.

Dated at Wellington this 4th day of February 1975.

W. W. Freer, Minister of Trade and Industry.
agent for the purposes of the accident compensation act 1972

Pursuant to section 25 of the Accident Compensation Act 1972, notice is hereby given of appointment of the following agent for the purposes of the Accident Compensation Act 1972:

P. and T. Services Limited, a company duly incorporated and having its registered office at 20 Brandon Street Wellington, for the purpose of receiving and dealing with claims in respect of seamen and related matters.

Dated at Wellington this 10th day of December 1974.

K. L. Sandford, Chairman, Accident Compensation Commission.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference by the Magistrate's Court, Wellington, for a decision in respect of the following book: John and Mimi by John and Mimi Lobell, published by Bantam Books Inc., New York.

Inspector Phelan appeared on behalf of the Police and produced written submissions. Mr Murray, as an interested party, appeared on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs and made submissions.

Decision of the Tribunal

The authors of this novel claim in their preface that they have "tried to be as honest as possible, writing everything as we lived it". Their purpose is to encourage in their readers the "ability to determine one's life for oneself".

However, what follows is a series of detailed accounts of sexual encounters with emphasis on experiment with deviant sexual practices. These are linked in a purely nominal fashion by statements about the value of extra-marital sexual experience to the married couple.

There is no evidence that the authors have attempted to examine the relationships formed in any serious way. The book thus fails to carry out its given aim and cannot be said to satisfy the criterion of honesty of purpose laid down in the Act.

The Tribunal classifies John and Mimi as indecent.

5 February 1975.

L. M. Greig, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

Mr R. A. Heron appeared on behalf of the applicant and made submissions. Mr Murray, as an interested party, appeared on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs and made submissions.

Decision of the Tribunal

This novel is similar in its range of content and its difficulty of style to other books by Burroughs, which the Tribunal has considered, most recently in decision No. 829 in September 1974. The interests of genuine students of Burroughs and of younger readers who might be harmfully affected by dwelling on the more sensational aspects of his material will both be served by allowing the book restricted circulation.

The Tribunal classifies The Wild Boys as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

5 February 1975.

L. M. Greig, Chairman.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Transworld Publishers Ltd., a company duly incorporated and having its registered office at 20 Brandon Street Wellington, for a decision in respect of the following book: The Complete Marquis de Sade translated from the original French text by Dr Paul J. Gillette, Vol. 1 and Vol. 2, published by Holloway House of Los Angeles.

Mr M. Campbell appeared on behalf of the distributors and made submissions.

Decision of the Tribunal

Writings of de Sade have been considered by the Tribunal in February 1965, November 1968, October 1969, and May 1972. In each of those cases an individual work was considered and in each case was classified as indecent or indecent except in restricted distribution.

The publication now before the Tribunal is a two-volume paperback edition described as the Complete Works of de Sade. It is clear that it is not complete in that it omits some of the writings of de Sade and the writings included are very much abbreviated. The editor's note in Volume I expresses the intention of the publication in these words: "The present edition is an attempt to strike a happy medium between the 'completes' and the 'pastiches'. It retains all Sade's crucial philosophical points all his stark language and all his extraordinary action scenes while shedding those 'vices' which have long made reading the original works such an exercise in tedium".

The Tribunal repeats its view that the writings of de Sade included in this publication are indecent and the sole question is whether there is any value in this publication for students of literature, philosophy, or psychology or psychiatry. From what has been said above, this is not a publication which could be used in any bona fide study or professional use.

The Tribunal accordingly classifies this book as indecent.

5 February 1975.

L. M. Greig, Chairman.

GENERAL PUBLICATIONS

MACHINE STRESS GRADING

(An alternative to visual grading of timber for strength)

By I. D. Whiteside

This book outlines the need for commercial machine stress grading in New Zealand.

Stress grading studies carried out by the writer in 1967 on radiata pine from Kaingaroa Forest showed that machine stress grading gave better grade recoveries over visual grading hence raised the value of a considerable proportion of the sawn output in framing sizes.

The writer firmly believes that the introduction of machine grading will hold overcome the present lack of stress grades in New Zealand. This lack of availability is thought to have been a major cause of timber not being much more widely used as a structural material in competition with concrete and steel.

An informative book for builders, building inspectors, and specifiers to prepare them for the introduction of machine stress graded timber.

REMILST FOR JOHN AND JANE CITIZEN
By JAMES MCGILL WEBB
As the name implies this book is written for use by the layman rather than the technician, the engineer or the scientist. This book does not include conversion tables but rather relates to metric units and their use, comparisons of size, and includes a wide range of metric information.

How big is a litre? What is a kilopascal? When will I use a centimetre? What will I buy in kilograms? Why is New Zealand going metric? If these and similar questions are causing you concern, this book will provide the answers.
