No. 53

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), D. M. Wylie, R. C. Cross, Mrs L. Edmond, Miss W. M. Rolleston.

Hearing: 15 March 1976

Appearances: P. E. Ilof for Customs Department; M. J. Neville for D. J. Doole.

Decision

This group of documents comes before us on reference from the Magistrate's Court in proceedings for condemnation under the Customs Act 1966, following disputed forfeiture by the Customs Department. We were told that the material was imported by a private importer in September 1974 for his own use and not for sale, he having purchased them from a book shop or book shops in Sydney. We were not given any explanation for the apparent delay since seizure in September 1974.

The documents are not all of the same kind and rather different considerations apply to some of them.

The magazines New Apollo, Mankind, Body, Male International Nudes and Australian Golden Boys are all entirely, or almost entirely, of photographs of young men naked and photographed so as to emphasise the penis. Era consists almost entirely of naked and partly clothed young men. There is not the same emphasis on the penis in this book and it is said in the text that it is intended as a retrospective work republishing photographs of "famous models" whose photographs had appeared in other magazines from the days before "the frontal nude type of physique pictorial". All these magazines are clearly published to appeal to homosexuals.

Stallion and CIAO are both magazines which have a considerable amount of text but with some photographs, especially in the case of CIAO, similar to the first group mentioned above. Both magazines are frankly homosexual and appeal and appear to be intended to encourage homosexual associations.

Gay and Ribald look like newspapers published in Australia by the same company. Neither are dated and we conclude from internal evidence that they are occasional publications which come within the definition of magazines. The first of these is homosexual, the latter is heterosexual. Both contain photographs, cartoons, and advertisements which are clearly indecent in themselves.

In submissions to us Mr Neville urged us to take into consideration (inter alia) a number of publications and extracts from publications which, it was alleged, were available for purchase in New Zealand in September 1974 or later. One of these, Australian Golden Boys Vol. 1, No. 1, was classified indecent in Decision 722 (New Zealand Gazette No. 80, 23 August, p. 1618). None of the others had come before us previously at least in the form presented to us at this hearing.

In all the circumstances, we believe that such material is not relevant to our consideration of the documents now before us.

We have given careful consideration to the submissions made to us and to the matters referred to in section 11 of the Act. The photographic material, the text, advertisements, and cartoons in each of the documents lead us to conclude that the dominant effect of each is objectionable and injurious to the public good. Although this is not a case of intended distribution for gain, the documents readily lend themselves to improper and harmful use.

In conclusion, we should record our sympathy for the importer who after 18 months finds himself a private importer of indecent documents, but this is not a matter which can affect our decision.

The Tribunal classifies each document as indecent.

Dated this 22nd day of April 1976.

LAURENCE M. GREIG, Chairman.

CONSERVING NEW ZEALAND'S HERITAGE
By P. H. C. LUCAS

In 1969 Mr Lucas went on a study tour of national parks and allied areas in Canada and the United States. On his return to New Zealand he wrote this report as a suggested guideline for national parks and reserves administrators.

Many of the problems experienced by older countries could be avoided by a careful study of their mistakes and with this in mind Mr Lucas has concluded each section with a summary of lessons for New Zealand.

Not only of interest to the general public but also to park administrators and planners, tourist promoters, historians, and archaeologists.
