DECISION

These two comics are intended for an audience well beyond the normal juvenile one: their obvious appeal is to what Americans call the college generation. Although there is some degree of emphasis on sex and violence this really takes second place to satirical comment on contemporary society. We can see no harm in their circulation to adults and to the mature teenager. This is following fairly closely a previously established conciliation of the Tribunal. In its decisions numbers 767-786 given on 14 December 1973 (New Zealand Gazette 1974, Vol. 1, p. 19-20) the Tribunal in dealing with a large group of comics was able to divide them into three groups of the third of which it was noted: “The sexual contact is minimal and lacks the blatancy of other comics in this set. Indeed there is little which could be considered harmful to the more mature reader.” The Tribunal stated that this group “could, if it were possible be allowed restricted circulation”. The Harold Hedd comics generally belong with the third group so identified on that occasion.

Their form, however, does present us with a problem. The provisions of s. 11 (3) of the Act refer to “any picture story-book likely to be read by children” and in effect require us either to give a complete clearance or to impose a complete ban—the middle ground of an application by the Secretary for Justice. Mr L. Edmond, and Miss W. M. Rolleston is of some assistance though limited to a small part of our considerations. On the other hand there is nothing in the magazines to complicate the simple, direct appeal they make to vicarious indulgence in their parade of posses and possibilities. The overall effect is to debase sex in a way which the Tribunal judges to be harmful: “Having re-examined the magazines to which decisions 798 and 816 refer and having compared them with the four magazines now before the Tribunal, we can find little difference in balance of content and tone between the two sets of magazines. The comment made in decision 816 applies equally to these four magazines. The Tribunal classifies these four magazines as indecent. Dated this 30th day of November 1976.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), D. M. Wylie, I. R. Cross, Mr L. Edmond, and Miss W. M. Rolleston.

Hearing: On the 12th and 19th days of October 1976.

Appearances: Mr P. J. Neazor and Mr P. J. Cullen for Secretary for Justice, Mr P. J. Downey for Seven Seas Publishing Pty. Ltd.

DECISION

These 4 magazines are consecutive issues of the New Zealand edition of Forum. It is published in England, Australia, New Zealand, France, and Belgium/Holland on a basis which allows a free interchange of the overseas editions appearing in any one year. The New Zealand edition is republished from English, American, and Australian editions. There is therefore very little editing in the accepted sense. The issue may be said to reflect rather the policies and ideas of the overseas editions than the New Zealand edition. The magazine has been distributed in New Zealand for about 5 years and in its present format, as a New Zealand edition, for over 4 years. It was previously considered by the Tribunal in 1972 (Decisions 518 and 519) when 2 issues of the English edition were classified as indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years. These 4 issues have been submitted to us by the Secretary for Justice and in a lengthy hearing we have heard evidence from New Zealand and United Kingdom witnesses and have received full submissions from the Society for the Promotion of Community Standards Inc. and the Concerned Parents Association.

Here we have heard and given careful consideration to the evidence presented to us we express our reservations as to the usefulness or relevance of a great deal of that evidence in making our decision. No doubt evidence can be useful and relevant in considering some of the matters listed in section 11 (1). In this case expert medical and psychological witnesses can guide us in matters of medical, social, or scientific character or importance and general evidence may be of some use in assessing the purpose and motives of the persons associated with the publication and distribution of the magazines. In the end however it is the Tribunal which must exercise its own judgment and experience in determining the character and classifying the magazines or books before it. Evidence by others as to the acceptability of the standards of the community here or elsewhere and the witnesses views as to indecency generally or in relation to the book in question are useful but the Tribunal must consider as an endeavour to replace the function of the Tribunal.

In the end evidence given by Doctors Bremer, Sparrow, and Miss Collan is of some assistance though limited to a small part of our considerations. On the other hand the evidence of Mr Hudson and the Rev. Mr Varah given as it was with little New Zealand experience is of very little value and even if the honesty of purpose of those men is not in doubt, it is the honesty of purpose of the book or magazine, which is considered to be a matter of fact (1). This is to be gathered from the magazine itself, read as a whole, rather than from what may be unexceptionable honesty of purpose in the writers or publishers.
We have of course considered each magazine separately and have been guided by the prescriptions of the Act in our consideration. In the end we have made our decision on indecency in accordance with our view of the standards of contemporary society believing that in this case there is no ground to suggest that the magazines deal with sex in a manner that is "injurious to the public good". Indeed could any other material be more restrained in purpose and tone than the "Molly Parkin" articles, which on their own are indecent, beside restrained simple articles in a popular style which could be informative and helpful. Some of the subjects and the manner in which they are presented have given the Tribunal cause for concern.

Again, as in 1972, we have had most difficulty with "The Forum" which republishes letters said to be sent from readers describing real or fantastic sexual experiences. We remain unconvinced that all these letters are "expression of genuine opinions, experiences, criticisms, or interests" as the magazine alleges. We were impressed however by the evidence of Dr Sparrow and Miss Colgan which indicated that even such fantasising can be helpful to those with sexual problems. We have no doubt that any reader of the magazine would distinguish the genuine from the spurious and would not suffer harm in the process.

Some of the articles and "The Forum" in each issue are set on the border line or on the indecent side of acceptability but taking account of the whole of each magazine in light of the matters in section 11 (1) and our view of present-day standards of the community we do not think that these magazines are indecent. We feel however that parts of each of them are unsuitable for reading by younger people who could easily buy this magazine and who might purchase the genuine and not the spurious and would not suffer harm in the process. We believe that a restriction to 18 is appropriate for these magazines.

We were requested to make a restriction order under section 15A of the Act. We refuse to do this on the basis of these 4 issues. We are entitled to make such a restriction order but we believe that this is inappropriate in this case. One of the reasons for making such an order is that a magazine has come under notice of the Tribunal on a number of occasions and perhaps because of a deteriorating standard or because it is unsuitable to avoid repeated applications to the Tribunal a restriction order is suitable to provide a standard for the future. Such a reason does not apply here. Our reason for not making a restriction order is that the magazines should be kept under review by the appropriate authorities in case there is a decline in respect of the publication of this kind or because it is undesirable to avoid repeated applications to the Tribunal a restriction order is suitable to provide a standard for the future, or drawings of the nude male figure presented in a way which is likely to be offensive to those of reasonable maturity would distinguish the genuine from the spurious and would not suffer harm in the process.

The Tribunal accordingly finds each of these issues of the Forum to be indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years of age.

MOTIONS L. M. GREIG (Chairman), D. M. Wylie, I. R. Cross, Mrs L. Edmond, and Miss W. M. Rolleston.

Hearing on the 12th and 19th days of October 1976.

Counsel: Mr P. E. Leloir for Comptroller of Customs; Mr G. Robertson for Penthouse International Ltd.; Mr W. A. Heron, and Mr N. Miller for Gordon and Gotch NZ Ltd.

DECISION

These two magazines were submitted to the tribunal by the Customs Department. They are the issues of February and July 1976 in the American edition of the magazine. Submissions and evidence were presented to the tribunal at hearings on 12 and 19 October. Since then the members of the tribunal have read and re-read the magazines and have deliberated on the determination and classification of the magazines on a number of occasions, namely, in 1966, 1969, March and October 1972, 1974, and June 1975. A distinction has been noted between

Interim Restriction Order

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference to the Indecent Publications Tribunal of Down under the Plum Trees:

Upon receiving an application from the Secretary for Justice for an interim restriction order in respect of Down under the Plum Trees a book written by Felicity Tuohy and Michael Murphy and published by Alister Taylor of Waioura, Martinborough, and upon hearing counsel for the Secretary for Justice in support of the application, I hereby grant the application and make an interim restriction order in respect of the said publication, and I further order that the said restriction order shall come into force on the 22nd day of December 1976 and shall expire on the 21st day of January 1977, unless sooner extended.

Extension of Restriction Order

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of a reference to the Indecent Publications Tribunal of Down under the Plum Trees: whereas on the 22nd day of December 1976 I made an interim restriction order in respect of Down under the Plum Trees, a book written by Felicity Tuohy and Michael Murphy and published by Alister Taylor of Waioura, Martinborough, and whereas it will not be possible for the Indecent Publications Tribunal to determine whether the book is indecent or to decide as to the classification of the book prior to the expiry of the said order, now therefore I hereby extend the term of the interim restriction order to the 21st day of March 1977 unless sooner revoked.

The kiln schedules are presented in tabular form giving wet and dry bulb temperatures and final conditioning times for various species and moisture contents. LAND USE POLICIES
STUDIES IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION: No. 21
185 p. 1976. $5

Land Use Policies is an up-to-the-minute publication resulting from the NZIPA Convention of 1975. Contributors include the Hon. D. McIntyre, now Minister of Maori Affairs and Agriculture; the Parliamentary Under-Secretary to the Ministers of Agriculture, Forests, Lands, and Science for the previous Government; the Commissioner for the Environment; the Assistant Director-General of Land; the Head of the Urban Research Unit of Canberra; and many others.

This book outlines the need for commercial machine stress grading in New Zealand. Stress grading studies carried out by the writer in 1967 on radiata pine from Kaingaroa Forest showed that machine stress grading gave better grade recoveries over visual grading hence raised the value of a considerable proportion of the sawn output in framing sizes.

The writer firmly believes that the introduction of machine grading will help overcome the present lack of stress grades in New Zealand. This lack of availability is thought to have been a major cause of timber not being much more widely used as a structural material in competition with concrete and steel.

An informative book for builders, building inspectors, and specifiers to prepare them for the introduction of machine stress graded timber.

MAORI AS HE WAS
By Elsdon Best
295 p. 1974 reprint. $6.50

Fifty years of public demand since this book was first published resulted in the need for reprints in 1934 and 1952. The text has been reproduced unchanged but the originals of some of the figures could not be traced and these have been replaced with similar illustrations. There have been many advances in our knowledge of Maori life since this book first appeared. The work of numerous ethnologists, and more recently archaeologists, has critically examined many of the earlier concepts, confirming some, disproving others, and altering others to varying degrees. No one has yet produced a comprehensive record on the use of land use policies to the pastoral and public acquisition of land for urban development. To assist readers each contribution is accompanied by a short summary. In addition most are also followed by a commentary and an edited record of the convention discussion of the paper.
