In Touch, Vol. 1, No. 11 and 12 (August and September 1974), published by In Touch Inc.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), Mrs L. Edmond, and Mrs H. B. Dick.

Hearing: 4 September 1979.

Appearances: Mr P. E. LeLoir for Comptroller of Customs.

Decision

These two magazines published in the U.S.A. are dated, respectively, August and September 1974. They define themselves as "celebrating gay awareness". They each comprise articles of general interest and of particular interest to homosexuals. There are included some photographs of naked male figures. The magazine is aimed at adult homosexuals. The content of each magazine is restrained without explicit sexual descriptions. The Tribunal does not find any overt encouragement of illegal homosexuality. These magazines are to be distinguished from In Touch for Men (Decision 919) and do not in the Tribunal's view depict or deal with matters of sex or crime in a manner that is injurious to the public good or that is offensive to current community standards in this area.

The Tribunal classifies each issue as not indecent.

Dated at Wellington this 21st day of December 1979.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs in respect of the publications:

Cream, Horror, Stiff, Cinema and the Nude, published by Top Sellers Ltd.;

Local Colour, published by Potz Press;

Mod World No. 1, published by Bedtime Book Co. Australia;

Show, Vol. 2, No. 1, published by Show Enterprises Inc.;

Private Collection, Vol. 4, No. 1, published by Jermoss Ltd.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), Mrs L. Edmond, and Mrs H. B. Dick.

Hearing: 4 September 1979.

Appearances: Mr P. E. LeLoir for Comptroller of Customs.

Decision

The first eight publications listed above (Reference No. Ind. 28/79 – 35/79 inclusive) are all picture books and are considered to be distasteful and ugly appealing only to prurience. They are entirely without literary merit and have no redeeming features among their collection of sexual photographs, captions, and text.

The Tribunal classifies each of these eight publications as indecent.

Private Collection, Vol. 4, No. 1, Jermoss Ltd., London:

While this magazine leans heavily towards the sexual, there is a balance with general—though somewhat lightweight—articles.

The Tribunal classifies this magazine as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years.

Dated at Wellington this 21st day of December 1979.

LAURENCE M. GREIG.
The two other publications were privately imported and likewise come before us on a disputed seizure. The encyclopaedia is put forward as a collection of articles on many matters relating to the history, cultivation, manufacture, identification, and use of all kinds of drugs.

Stone Age is a magazine similar in form and content to High Times which was previously considered in Decision 922.

All three publications are referred to present purposes the dominant effect when considered as a whole of approval and encouragement of the cultivation and use of drugs including cannabis, heroin, and other controlled drugs referred to in the Schedules to the Misuse of Drugs Act 1975. As a result the effect is to approve and encourage conduct which involves what is properly considered and defined in that Act as serious crime.

The Tribunal has previously considered that other publications of similar content and effect are or may be indecent because they offend against current community standards of prurit, and as they are expressed in legislation whether or not they may also describe or otherwise deal with matters of crime in a manner that is injurious to the public good. The same view has been expressed by the Tribunal about other matters in the sexual field which may encourage or approve activity treated as criminal by the community because of legislation on the subject. These matters include sodomy, homosexuality, and propaganda or information to those under 16 on contraception.

When we consider these three publications each as a whole with reference to the matters set out in section 11 we conclude that there is no, or no sufficient medical, legal, social, or scientific inference of the magazine in any of them so that on the one hand there must be some doubt as to the honesty or purpose displayed in each of them having regard to the underlying assumptions that the activities referred to are for the most part unlawful and the implicit but passing references to means of avoiding detection. There can be little doubt that among those who are likely to read these publications or any of them will be led to engage in the purchase, supply or use of controlled drugs.

Overall the Tribunal considers that the public interest requires that these publications overall and having regard to all the matters which we have to consider, be characterised as indecent.

The Tribunal classifies each publication as indecent.

Decision of the Indecent Publications Tribunal

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs in respect of the publications:

High Times (U.S.), Vol. 10, No. 8, 9, and 10 (April, May, and June 1979), published by High Times International Ltd.

Playboy (U.S.A.), Vol. 26, No. 3 (March 1979);

Playboy (U.S.A.), Vol. 26, No. 6 (April 1979);

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), Mrs L. Edmond, and Mrs H. B. Dick.

Hearing: 4 September 1979.

Appearances: Mr P. E. LeLoir for Comptroller of Customs.

Decision

The Comptroller of Customs submits these three issues of High Times to the Tribunal under section 14 (1) of the Act. The magazine is last considered in the hearing we received submissions from the applicant, the publishers, and the New Zealand distributor. We have also received a written submission from the Society for Promotion of Community Standards Inc.

The Secretary refers to specific submissions in respect of these issues but having noted that during the last 2 or 3 years some complaints have been made to the Minister for Justice it was felt desirable that the Tribunal should reassess this publication.

Each of these issues contains photographs of nude or semi-nude women and a substantial amount of serious and semi-serious text of a more general nature. The photographs do not offend against current community standards. Considered as a whole these issues now remain acceptable albeit in a restricted way.

Over the longer term there can be no doubt that community standards have changed. What was thought unacceptable by the Tribunal in its earlier years in a number of cases would not be unacceptable today especially in respect of magazines of similar general format. On television, in the cinema, and in the newspapers the nude figure in particular contexts is no longer generally offensive. We believe that even over the last 2 years there has been some change and while there may be some indication that the publishers of High Times have in some respects in advance of the threshold of offence against current community attitudes they have retained, without increasing the amount of it, a balance of non-sexual material.

The magazine is one which is widely read or distributed. Although it has a large circulation its appeal is to the adult rather than to the younger teenager. An age classification provides the basis for a limited distribution.

We have concluded that while this magazine remains on the borderline it is not unacceptable and considering each issue as a whole ought not to be treated as indecent simpliciter when considered in the special meaning of that word or in its special meaning under the Act.

The Tribunal classifies each issue of this magazine before it as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years and makes a restriction order under section 15A for a period of 2 years.

Dated at Wellington this 21st day of December 1979.

BEFORE THE INDECENT PUBLICATIONS TRIBUNAL

Messrs L. M. Greig (Chairman), Mrs L. Edmond, and Mrs H. B. Dick.

Hearing: 10 December 1979.

Appearances: Mr P. Carroll for Secretary for Justice, Mr R. A. Heron for Playboy (U.S.A.).

Decision

These three issues are submitted to the Tribunal by the Secretary for Justice. The issues are for the months of March, April, and May 1979. They are copies of the U.S.A. edition imported direct by the New Zealand publishers. They retail at $2.40 each.

The magazine has been before the Tribunal on a number of occasions, the last being in March 1972. Except for one occasion in 1967 the magazine has been classified as not indecent.

At the hearing we received submissions from the applicant, the publishers, and the New Zealand distributor. We have also received a written submission from the Society for Promotion of Community Standards Inc.

The Secretary makes no specific submissions in respect of these issues but having noted that during the last 2 or 3 years some complaints have been made to the Minister for Justice it was felt desirable that the Tribunal should reassess this publication.

Each of these issues contains photographs of nude or semi-nude women and a substantial amount of serious and semi-serious text of a more general nature. The magazine does not contain, to any extent, explicit sexual text by way of letters or advice to readers. The photographs do place emphasis on female genitalia.

In the past 7 years there has clearly been a change in community standards. Considered as a whole these issues do not offend against current community standards. Those parts which might be indecent in isolation are acceptable in the context of the magazine as a whole.

SHADOW OF THE LAND
By Ian Wards
$9
422 p. 1968.

The title for this book was provided by Nopera Panakarero, a Kaitaia chief of much influence, who, in May 1840, believed that only the “shadow of the land” had gone to Queen Victoria whilst the substance remained with the Maoris. Less than a year later he revised this opinion convinced that only the “shadow” would be the Maori portion. The author examines the British acquisition of New Zealand, the Maoris trust in the Treaty of Waitangi and their confidence that its terms would be honoured and explains it was only by accident that the Maoris were guaranteed the possession of their lands and ancient privileges. It is under these circumstances that the book considers the use of military force in New Zealand, analyses the arguments surrounding the provision of troops and concludes that, beyond any reasonable doubt there was never an attempt to govern by “moral suasion”.

New Zealand followed the normal nineteenth century British pattern of territorial acquisition. The book is an essential introduction to the Maori wars of a later date.

SHARING SOCIAL RESPONSIBILITY
N.Z. Council of Social Service
88 p. 1978 $2.75

Report of the New Zealand Council of Social Service on desirable roles and directions in social service development.

SOCIAL TRENDS IN NEW ZEALAND
Department of Statistics
193 p. 1977. $4.50

This volume, the first to be produced, examines nine major social areas, viz. demographic patterns, housing and households, education, health and medical services, social welfare and social security, crime and law enforcement, leisure, labour force participation, and incomes. While the emphasis is on trends, the descriptive text has been supplemented by tables, charts, and figures which highlight significant features. The information brought together in this volume will assist policy makers, planners, students and others who have an interest in social trends and development in New Zealand society.

SOILS AND AGRICULTURE OF PART PAPARUA COUNTY
DSIR Soil Bureau Bulletin 34
128 p. 1978. $12.75

Describes and classifies the soils of part Paparua County, an area of approximately 134 square miles west of Christchurch. A section on “land use” contains detailed accounts, with maps, of agriculture and horticulture, and notes on forestry by specialists from the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries and the New Zealand Forest Service.
