DECISIONS

These publications were imported through Auckland's Parcel Post in December 1982. The seizure has been disputed by the importer so that it is referred to the Tribunal for classification.

Sex Volume 3 is a series of short stories purported to be of true homosexual experiences. As submitted by Mr Hillman these stories are extremely graphic and they are interspersed with black and white full page photographs of nude males. It has no literary merit. It would have an appeal only for the lewd and prurient. The main objection to the publication is the fact that it is homosexually orientated. Homosexuality remains a crime in New Zealand and for that reason the publication must be classified as indecent.

Physique is presented as a pictorial history with the Athletic Model Guild. Most of the book consists of photographs of nude or near-nude males. No objection can be taken to the semi-nude photographs but the complete nudes show males in contrived or posed positions. It was submitted by Mr Hillman that the publication is similar to The Best of Sierra Domino which was ruled as indecent in Decision 974. Once again this publication would appeal to the lewd and prurient and on that account, it must be considered as injurious to the public. It is also classified as indecent.

Dated at Wellington this 13th day of September 1983.

District Court Judge W. M. WILLIS, Chairman.
In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for decision in respect of the following publications Gallery Volume 11, No’s. 5, 6, and 7.

District Court Judge: W. M. Willis (Chairman).

Messdames: H. B. Dick, L. P. Nikera.

Messrs: J. V. B. McLinden; I. W. Malcolm.

Hearing: Wellington on the 16th day of August 1983.

Appearances: Mr C. F. Hillman for Comptroller of Customs. No appearance for Importer.

DECISION

Mr Hillman informed the Tribunal that these publications had been seized from various individuals over the past 12 months. Forfeiture has not been disputed but both the Police and the Customs Department seek a classification by the Tribunal as it would be of great assistance in dealing with this type of publication. The Improvised Munitions Handbook is an official publication of the United States War Office. It was produced in 1969 and is stated to be “For official use only”.

On page 5 of this statement is made:

“The manual contains simple explanations and illustrations to permit construction of the items by personnel normally familiar with making and handling munitions”.

The book also includes methods for fabricating explosives, detonators, propellants and similar items from indigenous materials, mainly from items which are obtainable without very much difficulty by any member of the public. The Improvised Munitions Black Book Vols. 1 and 2 are in the main identical with the War Office publication and can be considered for the purpose of this decision as being identical.

Home Workshop Guns for Defence Resistance Vols 1 and 2 give illustrations in the one case for making a submachine gun and in the other for making a hand gun. Both books are printed in the United States and they contain warnings that the manufacture of arms mentioned therein could be against United Stated law. Whatever may be the position in United States of America, section 3 of the Arms Act 1958 states:

“It shall not be lawful for any person to sell, or offer to sell, or have in his possession, in the way of his business, any firearms or ammunition or manufacture for sale any firearms unless he is the holder of dealer’s licence issued to him by a Police Officer under this Act”.

Plainly therefore the manufacture of firearms is illegal. The other 3 books may well be very useful for the army but a perusal indicates quite clearly that freely available they could be used by elements of the public who are concerned with achieving their ends through violence. Bare Kills while not an official publication has been dedicated to the United States Military Armed Forces and to the United States Marine Corps. In some detail it gives complete step by step instructions on how to kill with the bare hands. It is stated to be used for United States solider and specials agents. That may well be so but once again in the hands of persons with violent dispositions it could be very dangerous.

It must be borne in mind that the word “indecent” is defined in section 2 of the Indecent Publications Act as including “describing, depicting, expressing, or otherwise dealing with matters of sex, horror, crime, cruelty or violence in a manner that is injurious to the public good”.

Publications which could very easily lead members of the public to criminal offending can properly be classified as indecent. All these books come within that classification and they are therefore declared as unconditionally indecent.

Dated at Wellington this 13th day of September 1983.

District Court Judge W. M. Willis, Chairman.
DECISION

This publication was imported privately through Wellington Parcels Post on 4 March 1983 and later seized. Forfeiture has been disputed by the importer so that the Tribunal is asked to classify the publication prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings.

The Tribunal has been told that the title translates approximately to \textit{Intimacy of the Mysterious Bedroom}. The publication consists of text all in English, and as the Comptroller's submission states, is liberally interspersed with photographs in both black and white and colour. The photographs are, in the main, all nude and semi-nude females often with male partners. A variety of sexual acts are depicted. The text is, we are told, a series of sexually orientated articles by a variety of authors on such topics as 'I can make every woman weak'; 'Cleopatra—her private parts got world fame' and 'How we react to Sex Films'. The Tribunal was invited to consider the publication as indecent.

For the vast majority of the public in New Zealand the only interest in this work would be in the photographs. Many of them are in posed or contrived positions and a number consist of more than two models. In such circumstances the publication can only be of interest to the lewd and prurient and thus injurious to the public good. It might be possible to make another classification if the text were in English. The Tribunal finds the publication as unconditionally indecent.

Dated at Wellington this 13th day of September 1983.
District Court Judge W. M. WILLIS, Chairman.

   (c) The date of the original cylinder inspection and the identification mark of the inspection authority who made the inspection.
   (d) The date of any periodic cylinder test and the identification mark of the cylinder testing station who made each test.
   (e) The cylinder test pressure.
   (f) The design charging pressure of the cylinder at 15°C.
   (g) The nominal water capacity of the cylinder.
   (h) Where required by the marking provisions of the specification to which the cylinder was manufactured, the tare weight of the cylinder.
2. That they be clearly marked or labelled to indicate that the cylinder is suitable for use with CNG.
3. That they be provided with valve threads of the form specified in British Standard BS 341 "Valve Fittings for Compressed Gas Cylinders".
4. That they be provided with a cylinder shut off valve designed for a working pressure of 16.5 MPa and capable of withstanding the test pressure of the cylinder. Cylinder shut off valves shall be fitted with a handwheel to facilitate ease of opening and closing of the valve and shall be fitted with a pressure relief device, which remains in contact with the gas contained in the cylinder whether the handwheel is in the open or closed position, comprising of a burst disc backed by fusible alloy. The fusible alloy is to have a nominal yield temperature of 100° centigrade and the burst disc shall yield at a pressure of not less than 24.75 MPa and not more than the test pressure of the cylinder. Cylinder valves shall be provided with an outlet thread of 1/4 in. NPT (female) and a stem thread compatible with the cylinder neck thread.
5. That they shall not be charged with CNG to a greater pressure than 16.5 MPa at 15° centigrade.
6. That they be tested at periods not exceeding five years in accordance with the requirements of Australian Standard AS 2337-1980 and in accordance with the periodic test requirements laid down in the specification to which the cylinder was manufactured.

5. That they shall not be charged with CNG to a greater pressure than 16.5 MPa at 15° centigrade.

6. That they be tested at periods not exceeding five years in accordance with the requirements of Australian Standard AS 2337-1980 and in accordance with the periodic test requirements laid down in the specification to which the cylinder was manufactured.

Note—The effect of this notice is to allow the continued use in New Zealand of CNG fuel cylinders imported into New Zealand prior to the introduction of the Dangerous Goods (Oass 2-Gases) Regulations 1980, and which were acceptable under previous dangerous goods requirements, but whose cylinder neck threads would disqualify them for general approval under the Traffic Regulations 1976. They are approved subject to the additional proviso that the cylinder valve thread type be clearly marked on a metal tag attached between the cylinder and the cylinder valve.

The terms of this approval do not allow the continued importation of such CNG fuel cylinders.

Dated at Wellington this 21st day of September 1983.

T. A. LISTER, Senior Automotive Engineer.

LIVING LETTERS
STATE SERVICES COMMISSION
36 p. 1980 reprint. $1.75 plus 55c p & p
One of the aims in letter writing is to get ideas across to the reader clearly and briefly. But do letters always say what is meant? Even if they are clear to the writer, will the reader understand them easily? If you are still using the old cliches of "acknowledging receipt of", "according to our records", and "enclosed please find" it is almost certainly time to change your attitude to writing Living Letters.
