Declaration Terminating the State of Civil Defence Emergency for the Southland Region

IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications:

Chic, Volume 8, No. 1 (November 1983), LFP (Inc.) Los Angeles, U.S.A.

First Hand, Volume 3, No. 2 (October 1983), First Hand Limited, New Jersey, U.S.A.

Numbers, Volume 65 (September 1983), Blueboy Inc., New York, U.S.A.

Mandate, Volume 9, No. 7 (October 1983), Modernismo Publications Ltd., New York, U.S.A.

Stallion, Volume 2, No. 7 (October 1983), Stallion Publications (Inc.), Derby, U.S.A.

Chairman: District Court Judge Willis.

Hearing at Wellington on the 13th day of December 1983.

Appearances: Written submission by importer, Mr A. B. Fairbairn, Dunedin. Mr C. Hillman for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

Single copies of these publications were imported privately through Auckland Airport and were seized in September 1983. Forfeiture has been disputed prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings.

Chic is published in the United States of America and as Mr Hillman has pointed out is a sexually orientated magazine consisting of photographs and written material. Many of the photographs are of females in highly contrived positions so as to expose genitalia. In October 1982 (Decision 1040) an earlier edition of Chic was classified as indecent. This publication is little different from that earlier considered by us and has some resemblance to Hustler which is subject to a two year restriction order (Decision 1053).

First Hand, Volume 3, No. 2 is published in the United States of America and is clearly directed towards the male homosexual. It consists of stories and articles which lack artistic or literary merit. They are crude in content and deal with homosexual activities. There are some photos and some drawings all of a homosexual nature.

Numbers and Blueboy each come from the same publishing house in the United States of America whilst Mandate and Stallion come from a different house in the United States. Earlier copies of these publications have been considered by the Tribunal (Decision 855 of April 1976—Stallion; and Decision 1065 of June 1983—Blueboy, Numbers and Mandate).

These publications are similar in content to the other copies. Mr Fairbairn made written submissions which we quote in full:

1. "The freedom of the individual to read publications of ones own choosing, purchased overseas or anywhere should not be controlled by an Act of Parliament. It consists of stories and articles which lack artistic or literary merit. They are crude in content and deal with homosexual activities. There are some photos and some drawings all of a homosexual nature."

2. "All publications were purchased at normal bookstalls including the Honolulu Airport Bookstall where they were on full display to the public."

3. "With so many New Zealanders travelling overseas frequently and able to purchase without question reading matter of their own choosing it is difficult to understand why any publication when returned to New Zealand with the reader becomes indecent on arrival."

4. "United States Law, for example has now accepted that the purchaser has the final decision in choosing reading material."

5. "The Indecent Publications Act 1963 is obviously outdated and should be revised with today's many alternative life styles and normal overseas attitudes."

6. "We cannot remain for ever protected from ourselves by an Act of Parliament".

Some of the observations we can accept and we are well aware that some publications banned in New Zealand are freely available overseas. We are well aware also that there is a body of opinion in New Zealand which regards the censorship of books and magazines as being unnecessary. By the same token there is a strong body of opinion which would not only approve this censorship but would like to see censorship more strict. It is not this Tribunal's function to take one side or the other. Its duty is to carry out its function in accordance with the statute. Because of the view taken in earlier decisions we have no hesitation in classifying each of these publications as indecent.

Dated at Wellington this 10th day of February 1984.

W. M. WILLIS, Chairman.

Hearing at Wellington on the 13th day of December 1983.

Appearances: No appearance of importer, Mr A. Louis, Wellington.
C. Hill for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

These publications were imported through Wellington in October 1982 and were seized. Unfortunately the publications were not reported to the Tribunal until October 1983. Forfeiture has been disputed by the importer before the commencement of condemnation proceedings.

The Soho Studios is published apparently somewhere in North America. There is no text as the publication consists entirely of photographs of 2 models. In some photographs genitalia is exposed and in others clearly homosexual acts are portrayed. The publication has no literary merit, is patently offensive and is oriented towards the promotion of homosexual behaviour between males. It has some resemblance to Men Loving Themselves classified as indecent in Decision 1071. It is classified as indecent.

The Le Salon is an 8 page booklet advertising a range of vibrators, homosexual magazines, sex aids and genital restraints. A similar publication The Beat was considered in Decision 1061 and was classified as indecent. For the reasons given in that decision this publication warrants a similar classification.

Coming with the Le Salon catalogue were advertising pamphlets. These pamphlets are not dissimilar to others considered earlier (Decisions 1035, 1039 and 1065) and for reasons there given we consider these pamphlets should also be classified as indecent.

(Ref. No. IND. 28/83)

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for decision in respect of the following publication:

The Secret Fire, Grove Press Inc. U.S.A.
Chairman: District Court Judge Willis.

Hearing at Wellington on the 13th day of December 1983.

Appearances: No appearance of importer, Pilgrims South Press, Dunedin. Mr C. Hillman for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

This publication was commercially imported through Dunedin and seized in August 1983. Forfeiture has been disputed by the importer before the Tribunal. It has been referred for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings.

The Secret Fire is written by Rosemarie Santini and is subtitled How Women Live their Sexual Fantasies. It is produced by Crown Press Inc. of New York. It bears a faint resemblance to the Hite Report on Female Sexuality with this difference. Whereas the Hite Report appears to have been the result of some proper research, the Tribunal gains the impression that such is not the case with this publication. However, it is not without literary style and in the main the description of the sexual activities is not graphic. It is not dissimilar to Men In Love which received a restricted classification in May last year (Decision 1062). Mr Hillman drew our attention to Decision 873 of July 1976 (My Secret Garden) where that book was held to be not indecent. In our view this book requires an age restriction so that it is classified indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18.

Decision No. 5/84
(Ref. No. IND. 24/83)

Before the Indecent Publications Tribunal

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for decision in respect of the following publication:

Dirty Movies, Chelsea House, Publishers, New York, U.S.A.
Chairman: District Court Judge Willis.

Hearing at Wellington on the 13th day of December 1983.

Appearances: No appearance of importer, Waverley Publishing Co: Mr C. Hillman for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

Dirty Movies is an illustrated history of the Stag film 1915-1970. It was published in 1976 and was commercially imported through Auckland Parcels Post in July 1983. The importer disputes forfeiture so that it is before the Tribunal for classification prior to condemnation proceedings commencing.

The book contains 160 pages of text and photographs. The text includes the introductory essay by Kenneth Tynan entitled, "In Praise of Hard Core". The book is hard backed and in addition to the text there are sepia coloured photographs taking clips from various movies produced mostly for male audience and which could be classified as "Blue Movies". It was submitted by Mr Hillman that the publication can be considered similar in format to 100 Years of Erotica. This is classified as indecent in the hands of persons under 18 years of age in Decision 1060 of April 1983. It was suggested that because of the content the publication could be considered as indecent. The presentation is indeed similar in most respects to 100 Years of Erotica as it contains frank and explicit photographs showing the actual sexual act. However, the Tribunal views this publication in much the same way as for the previous decision recognising the pornographic content but also realising that there is an expert segment of society which should if it wishes have access to the book—film critics, film society members, photographers. The Tribunal therefore has decided to place an age restriction on the publication rather than to rule it as unconditionally indecent. It is classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18.

Chairman: District Court Judge Willis.

Hearing at Wellington on the 13th day of December 1983.

DECISION

These publications are sample copies commercially imported through Auckland parcel post. The majority have been seized and because the importer has inconsistently classified them have been forwarded to the Tribunal for classification. The balance have been referred at the importer’s request.

A large number of these publications can be dealt with en masse. They are: Skirt, Volume 2, No. 13; Votter, Volume 3, Nos 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, Crazy Times, Nos 15, 17, 19, Clo, Nos 12 and 13; Kiss, Volume 2, Nos 12, 13, Volume 3, Nos 14, 16, 18, Jess, No. 3, Mirtam, No. 10, Sun Set Girls, Nos 1, 2, and 3; Jet Set Girls, No. 6.

All of these magazines are published in West Germany and in our view can properly be classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. These magazines would attract a similar classification.

Busen Exclusiv, Nos 11, 13, and 19 are also West German publications and once again they are similar to Look and Tabu, except that there is an emphasis in these publications on larger breasted models. They are not so gross as others of a similar type and in our view can properly be classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18.

Isabella is also a West German publication and different from the others we have already mentioned because of a sequence entitled Flare and Olaf. Were it not for this sequence a similar classification would attach to Isabella. While it might be suitable for a sex manual we feel that the title to these publications, which they are noted for, have an appeal for the lewd and prurient and be injurious to the public good. It is classified as indecent.

No submissions were made by the importer in respect of the other publications.

Christina’s Secret is a novel of some 236 pages and it is a series of accounts of the sexual adventures of Christina. There is a tenuous plot to link these encounters but the descriptions are, as Mr Hillman stated, graphic so as to contain a wide range of sexual activities. This publication is better printed and is better than the books which we had to deal with in Decision 1083. Apart from that factor it bears a very strong resemblance to that particular set of books. In our view it must be classified as indecent, and it is classified accordingly.

Ecstasy comes from the Playboy Press and consists of photographic sequences, each accredited to different female photographers. These sets of photographs are related to heterosexualism, cunnilingus and group sex. In Decisions 1053 and 1054 of March 1983 photographs of this nature were not acceptable in Penthouse even when balanced by text. Apart from details concerning the photographers there is no text to balance the photographs. The publication is classified as indecent.

Bizarre, Volume I, No. 2 is a catalogue of Exotic Boots and Shoes. The publication is used to show variety of photographs of females and males in bondage equipment and in rubber or leather attire. Because of the fact that items used for bondage could be dangerous in the wrong hands the Tribunal has been consistent in classifying books of a similar nature as indecent. This publication contains illustrations of items used for bondage which in the wrong hands would be highly dangerous. It is classified as indecent.

The Ecstasy of Sex, The Marriage Bed.

These two publications all come from the Publishing House, Probe Publications Ltd., London. They are not dissimilar to the sex manuals which we have had to consider over the past two or three years. There can be no doubt that there are other manuals which are of better quality but although the text is somewhat more graphic than other manuals they are not significant to warrant a classification of indecent. They are classified as indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18.

Adventures in Oral Sex has a text suitable to the subject matter. There are also photographs—black and white and coloured—plus some reproductions of old drawings. In considering the publication we have perused the majority judgment of the full Court in Penguin Books Ltd. v. M. L. Camero (unreported Wellington M496/79). The publication then under review was Make it happy—what sex is all about. That book dealt with sexual activity of all kinds including oral sex. In the course of its judgments the majority of the Court pointed out that in some circumstances oral sex might amount to an offence under section 134 of the Crimes Act 1961. The passage in the book dealing with oral sex occupied about one page which drew the following comment from the Court:

“It is true ev’ry reader will be better acquainted with a new phase of vice which is made public only very a small part of the publication as a whole. The section on “Beautility” covers only five lines: the one on “Homosexuality” covers some two-thirds of a page: and that on “Oral Sex” about one page. However the effect of such passages upon impressionable young persons may have influence far greater than the brief passages themselves might suggest and photographs to which the book becomes tainted with indecency in terms of the Act.”

It seems implicit in such remarks that a book dealing solely with oral sex is tainted with indecency. The text is crude and unrestrained. Some modesty would have helped. The illustrations could probably be thought unnecessary having regard to the text and could be seen as having an appeal for the lewd and prurient. The publication is very much the borderline and had the text and illustrations been more sensitive a different classification could possibly follow. In the circumstances we feel the book is injurious to the public good and therefore must be classified as indecent.

The Lesbian Book of Love has given us a great deal of concern. We accept that the book would have helped. The illustrations could probably be thought unnecessary having regard to the text and could be seen as having an appeal for the lewd and prurient. The publication is very much the borderline and had the text and illustrations been more sensitive a different classification could possibly follow. In the circumstances we feel the book is injurious to the public good and therefore must be classified as indecent.

The Photomanual of Group Sex and Sex Variations

These books are also published by Probe Publications Ltd. and contain photographs and text. The first book as its name implies contains pictures of groups sexually active while the second has some sequences of group sex and some showing bondage scenes. We have on other occasions indicated that books illustrating group scenes and bondage are not acceptable. These are no exceptions and they will be classified as indecent.

NOTES TO THE ACCOUNTS

1. BASES OF ACCOUNTING

These accounts have been prepared in accordance with historical cost concepts.

The following significant accounting principles have been applied.

(a) Amortisation of premiums and discounts on investments—Premiums and discounts on New Zealand Government and local authority securities are amortised from the date of purchase to maturity on a straight line basis.
We are of the opinion that proper accounting records have been kept by the company, that the balance sheet and profit and loss account give the information required by the Companies Act 1953, in the manner so required and that they give, on a historical cost basis, a true and fair view of the state of affairs as at 30 September 1983 and of the results of its business for the year ended on that date.
