Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.
Hearing: At Wellington on the 29th day of March 1985.

Appearances: No appearance by the importer, Milford House Ltd. K. Wild for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

ALL of these publications were commercially imported through the port of Dunedin. The importer, acting responsibly, requested the Comptroller of Customs to refer the publications to the Tribunal for classification.

The Comptroller of Customs was the only person represented at the hearing and a submission was presented on his behalf by K. W. Wild. As indicated there was no representation on behalf of the importer nor were there any submissions tendered on its behalf.

The Boudoir is claimed to be a reprint of a Victorian periodical of the same name and is a collection of stories, poems and miscellaneous items. A great deal of the material contained in this publication is of a most explicit and coarse sexual nature. The book appears to the Tribunal to be a device for describing a number of sexual episodes of a kind which are as portrayed clearly indecent.

Aphro-Dizza, Crimson Hairs, Oh Wicked Country and The Crusader Books I to IV are all similar in that they are dominated by vividly descriptive sexual episodes. None of the books in our view can claim to have any literary merit and we agree with the submission made by Mr Wild on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs that they have weak story lines and little to commend them. These books are clearly in the view of the Tribunal indecent.

The Sign of the Scorpion is, in our view, on a somewhat higher literary plane than the books referred to in the previous paragraph but like them it too has a dominant theme of explicitly descriptive sexual activities. We agree with the Comptroller of Customs that the book submitted for examination through Mr Wild has submitted that the predominant theme of the book written in a graphically descriptive way is such to outweigh any of the book's redeeming features and again in the Tribunal's view is clearly indecent.

Birch in the Boudoir although described as a Victorian novel is, according to its introduction, a collection of intimate letters said to be written by Harriet Daimler. Unlike most of the other books considered in this particular application it is of modern origin. The book, although slightly better written than most of the others considered in this decision, is nevertheless one of little literary merit being most explicit in describing sexual encounters and containing a number of descriptions of violent sexual episodes. In the view of the Tribunal this book too is clearly indecent.

Dated at Wellington this 25th day of July 1985.

Judge R. R. KEARNEY, Chairman.
IN the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publications:

The Ecstasy of Sex and the Marriage Bed referred to in decision number 6/84. The Tribunal in the case of this publication finds it to be indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18.

Dated at Wellington this 26th day of July 1985.

Judge R. R. KEARNEY, Chairman.

IN the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication:

In Touche For Men Issue number 33 was considered indecent in decision 919 of 12 April 1979 and issues 39 to 43, 45 to 49, 57 to 60, 62 to 68 and 71 were likewise classified as indecent in decision 1065 of 7 June 1983. This particular edition which the Tribunal has for consideration differs from the previous issues—in that, it being a celebratory issue, it featured considerably more photographs of naked men at the expense of literary content. The photographs in many cases concentrated on the male genitals and the Tribunal reached a clear view that the publication has little to commend it and a great deal to condemn in the manner of presentation and a clear emphasis towards homosexual activity of a kind which is illegal.

The Tribunal finds this publication indecent.

Sexual Positions: A Photographic Guide to Pleasure and Love.

Dated at Wellington this 11th day of July 1985.

Judge R. R. KEARNEY, Chairman.

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Hearing: At Wellington on the 11th day of July 1985.

DECISION

These publications are sample copies imported through the Port of Auckland in February 1985. Following their seizure as being indecent the Importer disputed forfeiture and they have been referred to the Tribunal prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

The three publications purport to be sex manuals. They in the main consist of photographs of couples indulging in simulated or actual oral or sexual intercourse with an accompanying text and in some cases some short pieces of fiction.

Neither The Complete Guide to Sexual Variations nor Sex in Marriage gives any indication as to the publisher or author of the publications, but we accept the submission of Mr Wild on behalf of the Comptroller that they are probably publications from Anne Summers Publishing the publishers of the third of the publications under this application. In the Tribunal's view none of these publications justify a finding that there is an honesty of purpose in the presentation of the photographic and other material. The Tribunal is in fact satisfied that there is a dishonest purpose in the publications, that being to pand to a market not being that of persons who might need sexual help from sexual manuals of the kind which we have this day determined as being indecent in the hands of persons under the age of 18 years. The publication Sexual Positions, A Photographic Guide to Pleasure and Love.

The Tribunal classifies these three publications as indecent.

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication:

The Link Catalogue, published by The Link Leatherwear Pty. Ltd.

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Hearing: At Wellington on the 29th day of March 1985.

Appearances: No appearance by the importer, R. Somerville, K. Wild for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

The Comptroller of Customs advised us that this was a single copy of a private importation seized at Auckland in October 1984. As the importer disputed forfeiture the Customs Department referred the publication to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

The material we are asked to examine consists of some 27 looseleaf A4 sized pages, most of which carry advertisements for accessories used in male homosexual practices. The 27 pages are loose. There have been no holes punched in the paper by which the pages could be bound together nor have they been stapled or affixed to each other in any way. The pages are together by means of a cardboard folder which has a pocket running along its bottom inside edge. The pages are stored in this pocket.

The outside of the folder, which is good quality glossy white cardboard has the words The Link Catalogue printed on it.

In the context in which this material has been submitted to us, it should be noted that the Tribunal has jurisdiction only over books. It seems to us that the Comptroller is in some difficulty in arguing that this publication is a book, because of its looseleaf nature.

In relation to the material definition of book in The Shorter Oxford English Dictionary:

A collection of sheets of paper or other substances, blank, written, or printed, fastened together so as to form a material whole; esp. such a collection fastened together at the back, and protected by covers; also, a literary composition long enough to make one volume, as dist. from a tract, pamphlet, essay etc...

As already stated, there is no fastening or binding to keep the pages together in this case. We think in those circumstances that it would be straining the ordinary meaning of book to hold that we have jurisdiction to impose a classification.

Recently we had occasion to consider material bearing some similarity to the items the subject of this decision. This was in decision No. 1/85 where the Comptroller sought a decision from the Tribunal in respect (inter alia) of 9 mail order forms to Swish Publications Limited. In that case the Comptroller asked the Tribunal to consider the material on the basis that although it was accepted that mail order forms were not specifically included in the definition of book, the Tribunal had been prepared to classify catalogues on previous occasions.

Our conclusion in that case was:

We think that the single page mail order forms could not be classified as books although they obviously may be documents. In that regard we note in passing that Police v Brian (1971) NZLR 119 J. Roper held that a book displaying a single page could constitute a document.

It should also be noted that in Decision 1028 we refused to classify a publication called Spunky 1981 Calendar as a book for reasons which we feel are also applicable to the present case.

Although we have accepted jurisdiction over numerous sex aid catalogues in the past (e.g. see Decision Nos. 999, 1039 and 1061) they were clearly different in format. In these cases the catalogue pages were bound together so that the publication could be referred to as a book within the ordinary and natural meaning of that word.

For the above reasons we rule that The Link Catalogue is a document or collection of documents and not a book, and as such the material is not within our jurisdiction. In circumstances where the material may be considered by the District Court we feel that it is inappropriate to make any comment on whether in our view the material would have been considered indecent if the Tribunal had had the jurisdiction to consider it.

J. Brian 1984 Catalog

J. Brian The New Golden Guys No. 6 Published by J. Brian.

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Hearing: At Wellington on the 11th day of July 1985.

Appearances: No appearance of importer, T. Katavich, K. Wild for Comptroller of Customs.

DECISION

These two publications were seized following their commercial importation through the port of Auckland in September 1984 as being indecent. The commercial importer having disputed forfeiture, they have been referred to the Tribunal for classification prior to the commencement of condemnation proceedings pursuant to the Customs Act 1966.

On behalf of the Comptroller of Customs, Mr Wild submitted that the J. Brian 1984 Catalog was a collection of various nude and partly nude male models posing mainly in unnatural positions so as to give maximum emphasis to the male genitals. He pointed out that there were brief descriptive paragraphs about the various models and that the publication was completed with a brief section advertising various sex aids, magazines, and video tapes, mostly of a homosexual nature. The Tribunal is satisfied that this publication is intended to promote homosexual activity of an illegal kind, that there is in any event a coarseness in the pictorial displays and no redeeming features in the publication. For these reasons the Tribunal finds this publication indecent.

The second publication The New Golden Guys No. 6, again contains photographs all depicting nude males and the Tribunal agrees with Mr Wild on behalf of the Comptroller of Customs that the poses are, in the main, contrived and that several of them do indeed feature simulated homosexual acts. The Tribunal finds that this publication also clearly promotes homosexual activity of a kind which is illegal and that in addition, there is in any event a coarseness in the display of genitals and no redeeming features to the publication at all.

For these reasons the Tribunal finds this publication indecent.

In the matter of the Indecent Publications Act 1963, and in the matter of an application by the Comptroller of Customs for a decision in respect of the following publication:

300 Young Darlings No. 4, published by Briarwood Corporation, USA.
Flaming Pussies Vol. 1 No. 1, published by Academy Press, USA.
Oriental Delight No. 13, published by Briarwood Corporation, USA.

Chairman: Judge R. R. Kearney.

Hearing: At Wellington on the 29th day of March 1985.

DECISION

These magazines were privately imported through the port of Auckland and seized by the Customs Department. The importer subsequently disputed forfeiture of the magazines and the Comptroller of Customs has accordingly referred them to the Tribunal for classification. 300 Young Darlings, consists entirely of photographs of nude, or semi-nude females. Hot Wet Passys, consists almost entirely of like photographs, with occasional text of a lewd and coarse nature. Oriental Delight, again consists mainly of photographs accompanied by text, which is again largely of a coarse and crude nature. The photographs in all three publications are almost entirely representations of contrived poses of female models. In addition, the models in 300 Young Darlings and Oriental Delight are presented as being depictions of young girls, which adds to the offensiveness which is already patently present in the publications.

Flaming Pussies, which features both male and female models, has a similar coarse, lewd and offensive text, but is comprised chiefly of photographs featuring sexual intercourse, sodomy, group sex, lesbian sex and oral sex.

Flaming Pussies, has absolutely no redeeming features and is clearly of that class of material which is best described as hard core pornography. The other three publications are likewise predominantly concerned with the lewd and prurient aspects of sex and their subject matter is described or expressed in a patently offensive manner and in no way could it ever be argued that they have any literary or artistic merit, or are otherwise redeemed by other characteristics. All four publications are, in our view, of a corrupt nature and are injurious to the public good and are classified as indecent.

MANPOWER PLANNING IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION
STATE SERVICES COMMISSION
'Manpower planning' is a term which has a wide and rather ill-defined meaning. This report, addressed to the central question: "What is manpower planning?" opens with the philosophy of manpower planning, what it is, its aims and objectives. This is followed by a discussion of what is involved in forecasting the supply and demand for people and skills in the public service. The essentials of departmental manpower planning is then discussed followed by a chapter devoted to the practice of career development and concluding with a statement on the future development of manpower planning in the public service.
