This allegation pursuant to section 950(1)(a) of the Broadcasting Act 1976 is that from 8 November 1983 the Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand ("BCNZ") breached the condition of its warrants for stations 1ZM, 2ZM, and 3ZM which required the programming of those stations between midnight and 6 a.m. to "be directed predominantly towards minority modern music interests."

The complainants say that while the music being played was modern, the requirement that it should have minority rather than mass appeal, was ignored. The complaint was heard by the Broadcasting Complaints Committee (Decision 1/84) which in its report has referred the matter to this Tribunal for consideration and decision.

The background to this matter is as follows.

The BCNZ applied for an extension to its warrants for 1ZM, 2ZM and 3ZM to enable broadcasting to take place for a full 24 hours a day—previously they had broadcast 18 hours a day from 6 a.m. to midnight. The Tribunal, by its decision of 29 May 1980, granted the warrants applied for on the condition mentioned above, and accordingly Radio New Zealand ("RNZ") began to broadcast between midnight and 6 a.m. The ZM All Night programme called the "ZM Allnighter".

The complainants, Mr Jenkin and Mr Congdon, were engaged on contract by RNZ to present this programme. The relationship between RNZ and the presenters became strained because, among other reasons, RNZ was unhappy with the type of music being played on the "Allnighter". As a result, their contracts were terminated by RNZ, new presenters were engaged, and the "Allnighter" continued.

Messrs Jenkin and Congdon then complained to the Broadcasting Complaints Committee about the music being played on the programme after their departure. In its report, that committee has traversed the detail of the complaint and we do not go over it all again here as relevant factors were taken into account.

In concluding its report, however, the Broadcasting Complaints Committee stated:

"The Tribunal has made it a condition of the warrant that the programmes should be directed predominantly towards minority music interests. I find it impossible to determine whether or not there has been a breach of the warrant because I do not have in mind just what the Tribunal meant when it used those words. The proper course before me is I think to refer the matter to the Tribunal for its consideration and this I do."

Like the committee, the Tribunal has had the opportunity of studying some logs and hearing a selection of tapes of programmes Messrs Jenkin and Congdon presented and of programmes presented after they left.

There is no doubt that Messrs Jenkin and Congdon's tapes were overwhelmingly of punk rock music with the occasional top-40 recording included. But what Messrs Jenkin and Congdon played when they were away from the studio was not the impression one had before us. Those programmes are relevant only to the extent that they provide one particular comparison with the programming under review. Nor was it concerned with matters arising out of their engagement by RNZ, including the way they fulfilled their contracts, and the termination of those contracts. There was considerable media comment at the time and petitions were signed. Again, these can only be of limited relevance.

For it is with the music as recorded on the tapes for the ZM "Allnighter" programmes after the complainants left RNZ, that we are concerned. A review of the musical items played in the period up to May 1984 shows that between one-quarter and one-third of them can be described as falling into the top-48 mass-appeal category of the time. But the balance of the tracks played, two-thirds to three-quarters, were clearly minority in their appeal in that they were overwhelmingly by then relatively little known groups and the music was new and different from the mainstream. They were not top-40 items at that time nor we believe were they being played by other stations with modern music formats.

It is for RNZ and not the Tribunal, to determine the means of implementing the condition imposed in programme terms. As the condition the Tribunal imposed was that the programming predominantly cater for minority modern music interests, the fact that one-third to one-quarter of top-40 items was being screened did not represent a breach of the condition. In this regard, it may be that the complainants' criticism was in part based on a misunderstanding—for the programmes to contain an element of mass-appeal music did not constitute a failure to meet the condition. To assert that would be to misread it.

In addition, the condition required that such minority interests generally be served, rather than a particular interest and it appears to the Tribunal that, in the context of the music of the time, these were the interests that were being served in the ZM programme under review. There was no requirement that the programming should serve exclusively those almost exclusively one such interest.

Further, that some of the groups being played on the programme later become popular is not indicative of a breach of the condition. Other groups whose music was played have remained of interest only to a minority, if that; in any event, we have tried to examine the programming in the context of the tastes and perceptions of the time it was played.

Accordingly, we find that the condition was not breached and the allegation is accordingly not upheld.

The related complaint was that there has been unjust and unfair treatment of minority, alternative rock music in programmes broadcast by the BCNZ. This complaint was made under section 950(1)(b)(i). In the Tribunal's view, the Broadcasting Complaints Committee was correct in not dealing with the issue as a complaint under that subsection because the subsection relates to the unjust and unfair treatment of people, not music, in programmes. (Indeed, section 950(2) prohibits the committee from entertaining complaints which do not fall within subsection (b)(i).)

However, even if the complaint had been of unjust and unfair treatment of the people of those groups, it would not have been relevant to the programme as the condition did not represent a breach of the condition.

The Tribunal co-opted Mr R. M. Carter and Mr Ray Columbus as permanent members.

Dated this 8th day of December 1986.
Signed for the Tribunal:

B. H. SLANE, Chairman.

Notes:
(1) Sizes are recorded first by reference to cross section and secondly by rim diameter e.g. 8.15-15: Cross section 8.15", Rim diameter 15".
(2) Tyres are listed to show the primary size designation as well as alternative markings. Size designations with letters e.g. R or RH, immediately in front of the rim diameter are alternative size markings.
(3) Tyre flaps are deemed to relate to the tyres concerned wherever applicable.

GENERAL PUBLICATIONS

THE ASTRONOMICAL KNOWLEDGE OF THE MAORI
Eldson Best
80 pp. 1986 reprint $5.95 plus $1.50 p & p
This is one of a series of monographs prepared by Eldson Best, who spent many years in close contact with the Maoris of the Urewera, and has prepared studies based on wide knowledge and insight. This particular monograph studies the Maori systems of astrology, astronomy and natural astrology, plus other natural phenomena. It has been reprinted without any changes because, though first published in 1922, it still provides the student and general reader with good source material.

MAORI DIVISION OF TIME
Eldson Best
52 pp. 1986 reprint $5.95 plus $1.50 p & p
This monograph, reprinted without revision, provides a record of the Maori division of time as well as references to other Polynesian systems. The Maori year, the months of the Maori year, and the nights of the moon are examined. The names of seasons, terms employed to denote time and miscellaneous notes are also included, making this a fascinating and comprehensive source document.

FISHING METHODS AND DEVICES OF THE MAORI
Eldson Best
264 pp. 1986 reprint $29.95 plus $3.75 p & p
This book is one of a series of bulletins prepared by Eldson Best and reprinted without revision. This bulletin remains the only comprehensive account of most aspects of Maori fishing. The emphasis is upon inland and estuarine techniques, as these are the techniques Best was able to observe most closely. The detailed fishing methods are accompanied by descriptions of the artifacts used, together with associated chants, magic formulae, special observances, and fishing lore. This comprehensive book provides a wealth of information for the student and general reader.
HAIRDRESSING: A PROFESSIONAL APPROACH

David Bendell

352 pp 1986

$39.95 plus $3.75 p & p

This text book has been especially prepared for New Zealand hairdressing apprentices. The three major sections relate to first qualifying, second qualifying, and advanced Trade Certificate.

It contains clearly illustrated, step by step instructions, information on health and safety regulations for New Zealand conditions, plus a chapter on the history of hairdressing in New Zealand. This book will also be a good reference book for qualified hairdressers and anyone else with an interest in hair care.

THE HISTORY OF POLICING IN NEW ZEALAND

Vol 1. Policing the Colonial Frontier, Parts 1 and 2

Richard Hill

70.00 plus $6.50 p & p

This is the first of a three volume set which traces the history of New Zealand Police from first European contact through to the present day.

The central theme of volume 1 is the growth and operation of the Police from 1767 to 1867. Social influences and the philosophy surrounding the need for a police force are examined.

The book is both a well researched, balanced historical document and a fascinating look at an important part of New Zealand history.

THE HOME FRONT VOL. 1 AND VOL. 2

Nancy Taylor

800 pp. 1986.

$99.50 (set) plus $6.50 p & p

This is the final volume of the Official History of New Zealand in the Second World War, 1939-45. It focuses on New Zealand society in these years, describing the attitudes and activities of those who remained. The reactions to international political events, attitudes of political parties, the war efforts of New Zealand, and the political movement away from Britain towards Australia and the United States are described. It is an historical and sociological portrayal of how New Zealanders reacted, collectively and individually, to the war situation.

TOWARDS A STRATEGY FOR NEW ZEALAND AGRICULTURE

Rowland Woods, Ken Graham and Peter Rankin

$24.95 plus $3.75 p & p

For 100 years, agriculture has been the driving force of the New Zealand economy. It is tempting to assume that this will always be the case, but it is important to realise that the future of New Zealand agriculture is not certain. It is, in fact, effected by economic, political and cultural events and trends. This report addresses the agricultural problems facing New Zealand farmers and business people.

It sets out guidelines for future planning, and offers advice for agricultural management.

EFFECTIVE MANAGEMENT: For Busy Managers
STATE SERVICES COMMISSION
$4.95 plus 80c p & p
Management has been described as "what managers do". But what is that? Getting things done? Getting other people to do them? Using resources economically? And what does the 'effective' manager do? This book looks at answers to such questions. It has been written as an introduction to the subject, especially for New Zealand managers who want to manage their organisation better.

PROFESSIONALLY SPEAKING
$3.25 plus 80c p & p
"Speech is power; speech is to persuade, to convert, to compel", said Emerson. Ignorance is the biggest stumbling block in the path of the aspiring public speaker. Your purpose in speaking must be that you have something to say, rather than that you have to say something. This inexpensive booklet will help the person who has to speak professionally.
This book is a guide to your role in public relations and covers techniques that will help you establish good relations between your organisation and the public.

You may be anxious about your new duties and responsibilities on your first job as a supervisor. This booklet will introduce you to some ways of making those duties and responsibilities easier to cope with.

The book is a style book for typed correspondence. It is intended for use by typists and by people who prepare letters, memoranda and reports for typing.

'Training Ways' is the third and last book in the series of Advisory Aid Books. Like 'Way with Words' and 'Visual Aids' it is a book that will help the supervisor, training manager, the tutor and the extension worker provide a successful training programme and a learning experience for adults.

This is an easy-to-read handbook for home gardeners. It is an essential tool for anyone growing nuts, or interested in the cultivation of trees. This book covers a selection of the more common and informative to all readers, irrespective of their botanical knowledge.

Using Maori protocol as a basic structure, Seven Maori Artists presents interviews with, and the work of, seven contemporary Maori artists. It is in essence a marae, where the reader is invited to sit down and meet the artists, who speak about their work and the influences they have experienced.

This well-known book has been revised to include a new identification key and four more cereals. It covers a selection of the more commonly grown, and informative to all readers, irrespective of their botanical knowledge.

This monograph, reprinted without revision, studies the objects, methods, and ceremonial side of the Whare Wanaga, or Maori school of learning. It is rich in its store of material, and is indispensable for today's students.
GROWING TAMARILLOS

W. A. Fletcher

27 pp. 1979. $1.50 plus 65c p & p

The tamarillo, or tree tomato, is a native of Peru and is grown in many parts of the world. However, the fruit is grown on a commercial scale only in New Zealand, where certain localities are particularly suitable for its propagation. This small book is crammed with information on growing the fruit. General requirements for growing, varieties, soil preparation, pest and diseases, harvesting, grading, packing, and storage are all covered.
