

to do so immediately, it may be prepared to enter into negotiations with Fifeshire for that purpose.

In deciding its future course the corporation may well take account of the unusual delay in the tribunal completing this decision which has given the corporation a continuation of its commercial radio monopoly. The delay was not due to any such consideration but the resulting windfall for the corporation may enable it to advance the establishment of the FM Concert Programme.

We are sure the corporation will examine the situation positively.

The following conditions will apply:
