Decision No. 10/87

Com 6/86

Before the Broadcasting Tribunal

In the matter of the Broadcasting Act 1976, and in the matter of a complaint by PETER LORIMER FRAWLEY of Auckland.

WARRANT HOLDER—Broadcasting Corporation of New Zealand (Radio New Zealand).

Chairman: B. H. Slane.

Member: Robert Boyd-Bell.

Dated the 31st day of March 1987.

DECISION

This complaint arose from the broadcast of an item in Midday Report on Radio New Zealand's National Programme on Wednesday, 5 February 1986.

The Complaint:

Mr Peter L. Frawley lodged a formal complaint with the BCNZ on 6 March 1986.

Mr Frawley complained that the item in question dealt with workers being made redundant and comment was sought from only one economist, Mr Len Bayliss.

He said Mr Bayliss was recognised as a supporter of the economic policies of the current Minister of Finance and could be described as a "monetarist".

Mr Frawley submitted that economics is not a value-free science and alleged Mr Bayliss essentially said the lay-offs were a good thing and part of the rationalisation process, which could not be considered impartial.

The Standards Act 1965—Amendment of Standard Specification

Pursuant to section 23 of the Standards Act 1965, the Standards Council, on 27 March 1987, amended the under-mentioned standard specification by the incorporation of the amendment shown hereunder.

Number, Title, and Price of Standard Amendment Specification (Post free)

(incl. G.S.T.)

Copies of the standard specification so amended may be ordered from the Standards Association of New Zealand, Wellington Trade Centre, 181-187 Victoria Street (or Private Bag), Wellington.

Dated at Wellington this 8th day of April 1987.

DENYS R. M. PINFOLD,
Director, Standards Association of New Zealand.

(S.A. 114/2/3: 1265)
He submitted that the programme makers did not satisfy the statutory requirement of balance by not presenting the views of another economist, nominating as an example Professor Bryan Philpott of Victoria University.

Mr Frawley said "the issue of the lay-offs" was of sufficient controversial public importance to justify the presentation of different points of view.

The Corporation's Response:
The Board of the BCNZ considered Mr Frawley's complaint on 30 April and the Secretary of the Corporation, Mr I. H. McLean, conveyed its decision on 14 May 1986.

Mr McLean said the complaint was considered under section 24(1)(e) of the Broadcasting Act and the principle that when controversial issues of public importance are discussed, reasonable efforts are made to present significant points of view either in the same programme or in other programmes within the period of current interest.

He noted that there had been no mention of the item of redundancies or lay-offs in the industry.

The BCNZ said Mr Bayliss was approached "for his general economic expertise and knowledge of the general tendency for companies everywhere to seek the most favourable manufacturing environment, including the movement of operations to other countries and moving them back home when conditions changed."

The BCNZ also said it was difficult to find anything controversial or supportive of the policies of the present Minister of Finance in the series of statements.

The Board did not consider there had been a breach of the Act and did not uphold the complaint.

Reference to the Tribunal:
Mr Frawley was not satisfied and referred his complaint to the Tribunal on 11 June 1986.

He reiterated his original complaint regarding lack of balance and the selection of Mr Bayliss as a commentator.

The main points of Mr Frawley's submission can be summarised as follows:

(a) The BCNZ failed to address the central issue of balancing significant points of view.

(b) Contrary to the Board's opinion, he considered the comments made by Mr Bayliss implicitly supported the policies of the present Minister of Finance.

(c) Mr Bayliss had publicly supported the Minister's monetarist economic policies.

(d) Such policies were largely responsible for the economic changes prompting New Zealand firms to shift manufacturing off-shore.

(e) The Board "entered the merits" of the dispute by apparently subscribing to the Bayliss view as self-evident truth.

(f) There was a clear lack of depth in state broadcasting financial journalism.

(g) The programme makers were too ready to assume that economics is a value-free science where non-political and impartial views are easily subscribable.

(h) No one view is right, but other significant expert views should have been sought.

The Corporation's Submission:
In its submission to the Tribunal dated 24 July, the BCNZ said it appeared that the complainant had misheard or misunderstood the news item in question. The Corporation said Mr Frawley seemed more concerned about Mr Bayliss being invited to explain a newsworthy development than with what he actually said.

The BCNZ said the item was handled in a pragmatic rather than political way with required explanation as distinct from argument. RNZ news staff did not identify the topic as having a controversial political way which required explanation as distinct from argument.

In a detailed analysis of specific elements in the complaint the Corporation said:

(a) Redundancies, lay-offs and rationalisation were not mentioned in the item.

(b) Mr Bayliss' comments were basically in the nature of a common-sense factual exposition which, they said, pointed out:

(i) The fact that companies were moving activities off-shore was noted as not being something new.

(ii) The economy was going through a process of change and off-shore movement could be accelerating.

(iii) The overseas movement took advantage of cheaper labour there.

(iv) In the long run this did not necessarily mean fewer jobs in New Zealand, companies grew and provided more jobs as they expanded.

(v) Though there were direct benefits of off-shore locations, the profits came back to New Zealand so the country could well benefit from the move.

The item was regarded as "embracing non-political expert comment (a brief one, at that) on a matter of public interest at the time, but hardly controversial, and certainly not covering the ground which Mr Frawley alleged."

The Corporation added:
"The debate about economic change has been aired continuously since the change of Government in 1984 and it is submitted that the item in question was not an appropriate topic on which to explore further elements of that debate. As already indicated, it was a look at the fundamentals of a given manufacturing situation."

The Report:
The Tribunal was supplied with a full transcript of the item as broadcast, together with news reports from the previous day of the PDL decision to move some production off-shore.

The Tribunal invited Mr Bayliss to comment on whether the interview as broadcast was a fair and reasonable representation of his views.

Mr Bayliss advised the Tribunal that the report was a "heavily edited and shortened version of the interview."

He went on to say that those who make public statements face varying qualities of reports being made. They have to take the rough with the smooth and, by and large, he was happy with the quality of reports made.

DECISION
The Tribunal accepts the point made by the complainant that economics is not a value-free science.

As reported and edited some of the comments made by Mr Bayliss were, at the least, debatable. The changes in the New Zealand economy were and are matters of political and public controversy.

The Tribunal also accepts the Corporation's submission that Mr Bayliss appears to have misheard or misunderstood some parts of the item; that he ascribed statements and views to Mr Bayliss which were not so expressed in the report; and that the debate about economic change has been widely aired.

Nevertheless, the Tribunal considers there are real dangers in conducting interviews on major economic changes and presenting heavily edited versions as "non-political expert comment" or "common-sense factual exposition".

The reporter explicitly sought opinions rather than factual explanations in the questions posed to Mr Bayliss:
"Does New Zealand just have to sort of grin and bear it?"

and
"In the long term, is there any advantage to the country in New Zealand firms going off-shore to produce?"

But section 24 (1) (e) of the Broadcasting Act refers to:
"The principle that when controversial issues of public importance are discussed, reasonable efforts are made to present significant points of view either in the same programme or in other programmes within the period of current interest."

The Tribunal considers that "Radio New Zealand news people" and the Corporation were in error in considering that the topic was not controversial.

While the terms "lay-offs" and "redundancies" were not used in the item as Mr Frawley alleged, the reporter's questions referred to "fewer jobs", Mr Bayliss mentioned "job creation" and "jobs terminating". It would be narrowly semantic to assert that the issue of continued employment was not present in the report.

As for the question of economic change being related to Government policies, both the previous day's reports from PDL industries (so far as they are relevant to this complaint) and the introduction to the item explicitly referred to the inflation effect of devaluation, the float of the dollar, high interest rates, and the instability of the de-regulated economy.

Insofar as the item was about a particular instance of change in manufacturing, the defence that "the debate about the economic change has been aired continuously since the change of Government in 1984" is not relevant.

Insofar as the item purported to explore "the fundamentals of a new manufacturing development", it moved into the area of political and economic controversy and falls within the ambit of section 24 (1) (e) of the Act.
The Corporation presented no evidence that reasonable efforts had been made to present significant points of view within the period of interest.

Further, while Mr Bayliss did not use the term “rationalisation” as Mr Frawley alleged, he did say “we’re concentrating on those things we’re good at”. The Tribunal finds it difficult to distinguish between that process and rationalisation.

The Tribunal finds that, while Mr Frawley over-stated his case, he did have some grounds for complaint.

The topic was controversial and should have been identified as such.

Mr Bayliss had opinions on the topic, which were sought and broadcast.

Some, at least, of those opinions as broadcast are open to challenge. For example, the unequivocal statement that “we (New Zealand) benefit” from such off-shore manufacturing and that profits or dividends are remitted back to New Zealand.

(Examples Mr Bayliss himself used of Fisher and Paykel and Allflex as successful “new life in the Corporate field” both developed under a regime of some economic protection different from current economic policy.)

Other significant opinions ought also to have been presented within the period of current interest.

The complaint is upheld.

In so ruling, the Tribunal does not endorse all the comments which Mr Frawley made regarding Mr Bayliss. The issue in essence is one of balance under section 24 (1) (e).

Co-Opted Members:

The Tribunal co-opted Mr Stephenson and Professor Schmitt as persons whose qualifications and experience were likely to be of assistance in dealing with this complaint. They took part in the deliberations of the Tribunal but the decision, in accordance with the Act, is that of the permanent members.

Signed for the Tribunal.

B. H. SLANE, Chairman.

Transcript of Interview Broadcast on Radio New Zealand—Complaint 6/86

Wednesday, 5 February 1986.

Presenter: Following a report that PDL industries are moving their heater manufacture offshore because of currency changes and high costs, the export industry has warned that there could be an exodus of exporters because of the instability of the deregulated economy. However economist, Len Bayliss, says there’s nothing new in the trend of establishments moving on and offshore.

Len Bayliss: To some extent, it seems to be accelerating because our economy is going through a process of change and we’re concentrating on those things we’re good at. Some of those things which the manufacturers or the firms concerned are setting up overseas subsidiaries … others of them have a very high labour cost and depend upon exports to some extent and are moving over to where the labour costs are cheaper so that they can survive.

Bayliss: Well, of course, not necessarily. I think the process of job creation is going on all the time. I mean, there are jobs terminating and firms going bankrupt, or winding down, or so on — and there are new … there’s some new life in the corporate field. For instance, there are firms like Fisher and Paykel, for instance, which 40 years ago was a relatively small firm. It’s now a very large and very efficient firm. Allflex, the ear-tag makers, started off with no staff 20 years ago and now has hundreds of employees in Palmerston North.

Bayliss: Well, by and large, the straight answer to that question is yes — and presumably a firm is going overseas because it is profitable to it and because it sees better business opportunities. Obviously there are direct benefits to Singapore and Australia in terms of new factories and new jobs and so on. But these firms will be remitting profits or dividends back to New Zealand. So we benefit.

Presenter: Economist, Len Bayliss, talking to Peter Minson.

M. No. 395/86

In the Matter of The Charitable Trusts Act 1957, and in the Matter of a trust fund held by The Perpetual Trustees Estate and Agency Company of New Zealand Limited, pursuant to the terms of the will of the late John Macmillan Brown, deceased; between The Perpetual Trustees Estate and Agency Company of New Zealand Limited, a duly incorporated company having its registered office at Dunedin and carrying on business there and elsewhere as a trustee and executor (plaintiff) and Her Majesty’s Attorney General for New Zealand (defendant):

Notice is hereby given pursuant to section 54 of the Charitable Trusts Act 1957, The Perpetual Trustees Estate and Agency Company of New Zealand Limited, had approved, on 22 October 1986, by the High Court at Christchurch, a scheme for disposition of a certain trust fund held by the said company under the terms of the will of the late John Macmillan Brown, deceased.

The said scheme provides for the trust fund to be held upon the following conditions and in substitution for certain terms contained in the said bequest:

(i) To provide each year a short course of lectures in any one or more of the books or the themes of books written by the late John Macmillan Brown, such lectures to be delivered by persons of eminence in the topic or topics to which the books selected belong. The council of the University of Canterbury shall from time to time appoint such lecturer or lecturers who in turn may choose the university centre in which they will deliver their course of lectures.

(ii) To expend annually such sum as may be necessary, being at least $600 per annum, to keep the Macmillan Brown collection being part of the library of the University of Canterbury up to date and in good condition by the purchase of books, magazines, papers, pamphlets, documents and such other materials as may be deemed necessary by the council for the conduct of the centre.

(iii) (a) To establish and maintain in the University of Canterbury the Macmillan Brown Centre for Pacific Studies, the function of which will be to encourage and facilitate the sympathetic and critical study of the history, traditions, customs, laws and ideas of the peoples of the Pacific generally and more especially of the indigenous peoples of New Zealand, its islands, Polynesia and adjacent islands.

(b) The university shall as soon as may be upon the scheme being approved, appoint upon such conditions for such term and upon such notice as it thinks fit, a director who shall be responsible to the council for the conduct of the centre.
(c) The council may from time to time appoint visiting fellows to the centre being scholars of repute in any field of studies relevant to the purpose for which the centre is established.

(d) The council may from time to time appoint resident scholars and associates to the centre upon such terms as it thinks fit.

(e) The council may, from time to time, upon such terms and conditions as it thinks fit, publish or make grants to assist the publication of research work by the director, visiting fellows, resident scholars or associates of the centre.

(f) The university and/or the trustee may from time to time upon such terms as it thinks fit pay or make grants towards the cost of travel expenses incurred by the director, visiting fellows, resident scholars and associates incurred pursuing research in any field of studies from time to time pursued at the centre.

(g) The council may from time to time make or revoke such rules not consistent with the provisions of this scheme as are necessary for the proper administration of the centre.

A copy of the said scheme has been deposited in and may be inspected at the registry of the High Court at Christchurch.

Messrs R. A. Young Hunter and Company, 79–83 Hereford Street, Christchurch are the solicitors, for the Perpetual Trustees Estate and Agency Company of New Zealand Limited.

This notice has been given by the Registrar, High Court, Christchurch.

Dated this 24th day of March 1987.

P. R. FANTHAM, Registrar.

New Zealand atlas of coastal resources

Edited by Philip Tortell

Encased in its own sturdy and attractive cylinder, the Atlas will be of interest to all those who use the coast to work and play, and of particular value to students and teachers, engineers, planners, scientists, fishermen, boat owners, divers, marine farmers, and many other people interested in coastal resources.

Manpower Planning in Public Administration

State Services Commission

51 p. 1981. Discussion Paper No. 1. $3.95 plus 80c & p

‘Manpower planning’ is a term which has a wide and rather ill-defined meaning. This report, addressed to the central question: “What is manpower planning?”, opens with the philosophy of manpower planning, what it is, its aims and objectives. This is followed by a discussion of what is involved in forecasting the supply and demand for people and skills in the public service. The essentials of departmental manpower is then discussed followed by a chapter devoted to the practice of career development and concluding with a statement on the future development of manpower planning in the public service.

The Surrender and Occupation of Japan

Edited by Robin Kay

Department of Internal Affairs

1782 p. 1982. $75.00 plus $6.50 & p

This is the second of a series of three volumes of documents on New Zealand’s external relations: the first, “The Australian-New Zealand Agreement 1944”, this volume “The Surrender and Occupation of Japan” which covers six divisions of the period, selected by topic but dealt with chronologically within topics, and reveals the growing awareness amongst those responsible for a New Zealand policy of what New Zealand’s interest actually were; the third volume, “The ANZUS Pact and the Treaty of Peace With Japan” will show something of the new order of things in the Pacific and the difficulties in the role of a small, though articulate, power in the formation of what in fact were Great Power policies.

The Boat Owner’s Guide to Corrosion

By L. H. Bolton

Department of Scientific and Industrial Research

Much has been written about marine corrosion and its mitigation and yet the same problems and many old misconceptions still seem to persist. This booklet aims to assist the boat owner to identify the basic types of metallic corrosion, to understand their causes and the procedures that should be followed to avoid corrosion situations from developing in the first instance.

The Path to Reform

Edited by C. Burns

219 p. 1982. $15.75 plus $2.00 & p

The Path to Reform, derived from the 1981 Convention of the New Zealand Institute of Public Administration is about the path to administrative reform in the State Services in New Zealand. It continues the exploration of the States Services begun in “State Servants and the Public in the 1980’s” and continued in the “Accountability of Executive”. Like its predecessors “The Path to Reform” reads like a Who’s Who of New Zealand public administrators.
PEOPLE LIKE US
Celebrating Cultural Diversity

EFFECTIVE MANAGEMENT: For Busy Managers
STATE SERVICES COMMISSION
114p. 1974. $4.95 plus $0c p & p
Management has been described as "what managers do". But what is that? Getting things done? Getting other people to do them? Using resources economically? And what does the "effective" manager do? This book looks at answers to such questions. It has been written as an introduction to the subject, especially for New Zealand managers who want to manage their organisation better.

PROFESSIONALLY SPEAKING
25p. 1983. $3.25 plus $0c p & p
"Speech is power; speech is to persuade, to convert, to compel", said Emerson. Ignorance is the biggest stumbling block in the path of the aspiring public speaker. Your purpose in speaking must be that you have something to say, rather than that you have to say something. This inexpensive booklet will help the person who has to speak professionally.

ABOUT SUPERVISION
23p. 1979. $1.50 plus $65c p & p
You may be anxious about your new duties and responsibilities on your first job as a supervisor. This booklet will introduce you to some ways of making those duties and responsibilities easier to cope with.

AN INTRODUCTION TO TRAINING METHODS
STATE SERVICES COMMISSION
26p. 1978. $1.10 plus $65c p & p
This booklet is an introduction to training methods and summarises much of the content of a teaching methods course. It should prove helpful to people who have not had any formal training in teaching methods.

FACSIMILES OF THE TREATY OF WAITANGI
1976.
A valuable volume of old New Zealand records comprising:
- The Declaration of the Independence of New Zealand.
- The original draft of the Treaty by Governor Hobson.
- A series of copies of the Treaty itself as finally adopted and signed by the chiefs and witnesses.

The facsimiles are reproduced from lithographic originals first printed 1877. (Government Printer.)

SBX PLAN
ROYAL CANADIAN AIR FORCE
$5.95 plus $1.50 p & p
The five basic exercises (SBX) Plan is designed to show how to develop and hold a high level of physical fitness. The scheme is not dependent on elaborate facilities or equipment. The exercises require only eleven minutes a day and can be done in the house or office. The Plan is scientifically designed to develop personal fitness at a rate set by yourself, to your required level, without getting stiff or sore muscles. It is self measuring with charts for age groupings, along with graduated standards for checking progress. The programmes are designed for varying age groups of males.

NEW ZEALAND FOREST PARKS
Geoffrey Chavasse and John Johns
$24.95 plus $3.75 p & p
New Zealand Forest Parks is one of those books that you will reach for time after time to simply enjoy or to relive visits made, to plan visits to come. Each forest park is described in a separate chapter with photographs, text, maps, and charts to illustrate our nineteen forest parks, perhaps unrivalled for diversity and interest anywhere else in the world.

THE NEW ZEALAND WARS
By James Cowan
$69.50 plus $6.50 p & p
This book was first published in 1922 and reprinted without amendments in 1955. It has been out of print for many years. This edition has a new and perceptive introduction by Michael King and in addition the original seven page index has been replaced by a substantial and comprehensive index. This 1983 edition is called a facsimile edition because it is being reproduced from the original text. However, the introduction, index and illustrations include alterations and improvements on the original.

THE LONG YARN OF THE LAW
By Fiona McMorrin
$6.95 plus $1.50 p & p
Told through prose, verse, extracts from newspapers and diaries, and policemen's recollections, the book takes the reader from those early colonial days to the modern police force of today. This inexpensive and easy to read history is a valuable aid for teachers and a source of continuing interest for children.

FLORA OF NEW ZEALAND SERIES
Volume I of Flora of New Zealand was the first major reference work on native plants in New Zealand to be published before 1925. It contains a comprehensive account of all the indigenous ferns and their allies, and the dicotyledonous flowering plants.
1133p. 1982 reprint. Hardcover: $45.00 plus $3.75 p & p
Volume II is a continuation of Volume I. The main descriptive text is similarly concerned with indigenous plants, including the monocotyledons.
Volume III, which concerns the 'weed' flora describes the introduced wild plants belonging to the rush, lily, iris, arum, and related families.
254p. 1980. Hardcover: $18.50 plus $2.00 p & p
Flora of New Zealand Lichens is primarily an identification manual for the serious lichenologist. It also contains much information useful to the general botanist, student, and interested amateur.

PARLIAMENTARY PRACTICE IN NEW ZEALAND
David McGee
$39.95 plus $3.75 p & p
Parliamentary Practice in New Zealand is a comprehensive and thorough documentation of the procedures and rules governing the way parliament operates. Parliamentarians, lawyers, academics, and citizens with an interest in the institution that governs this country will find Parliamentary Practice in New Zealand an informative and enlightening book—one that answers the often-asked questions about the practices of New Zealand's Parliament.

WHAKAREWAREWA FOREST PARK

Edited by John Boyd
$6.00 plus $1.50 p & p

This handbook is a guide to the recreational facilities, forestry operations, history and wildlife of the park, unique in that it borders on a large city, just 5 kilometres from the city centre of Rotorua. Visitors to the park may stroll midst trees and ferns; study trees, shrubs and ferns; watch birds; look for insects; picnic in shady glades; cycle or ride a horse on old logging tracks.

GUIDELINES FOR AUTHORS: Preparing Manuscripts for Publication

Edited by Paula J. Wagemaker
$7.50 plus $1.50 p & p

This booklet sets out to: describe New Zealand’s Constitution; show in a reasonably simple way how it works; give an account of where it came from and how it developed; and define (in a glossary) a number of terms that are used in connection with these matters.

PUBLIC AND PRIVATE ENTERPRISE IN NEW ZEALAND

Edited by R. C. Mascarenhas
$15.00 plus $2.00 p & p

This volume is the result of a conference “Public enterprise and Private enterprise: Protagonist or Partners?” sponsored by the New Zealand Institute of Public Administration. The conference took place from 23–25 August 1982, at Dunedin, and its purpose was to examine the relative roles of the public and private sectors and to identify the social and political issues which are likely to have significant implications for public administration.

WHERE TO START

By Vincent Burke

DEPARTMENT OF INTERNAL AFFAIRS

$5.95 plus $1.50 p & p

This publication has been designed to help New Zealanders in the initial stages of getting a job, group, or organisation off the ground. The information it contains will be of assistance to a wide variety of different community groups, sporting, cultural, and recreational clubs. Included are suggestions for various administrative works; legal structure, meetings, public relations, finance, and the constitution of the organisation.
