Termination Notice: Countervailing Investigation Edible Rapeseed Oil

Notice was given in the New Zealand Gazette of 24 May 1988 of the initiation by the Comptroller of Customs of an investigation under section 186H of the Customs Act 1966 in respect of a complaint from South Oil Ltd. that edible rapeseed oil exported or intended to be exported to New Zealand from the Federal Republic of Germany, Canada and the Netherlands was being subsidised.

South Oil Ltd. had claimed that the allegedly subsidised imports had caused material injury in the form of; loss of sales and marketshare, under-utilisation of production capacity, actual and potential decline in profits, price suppression and depression and loss of employment.

Interested parties were invited to make written submissions to Customs.

Information and evidence was submitted by the Governments of Canada, the Federal Republic of Germany, the Commission of the European Communities, several overseas exporters, New Zealand importers and various end users of the product.

Section 186I of the Customs Act 1966 and Article 2 (12) of the GATT Code on Subsidies and Countervailing require that an investigation shall be terminated where the Comptroller is satisfied that—

- (a) there is insufficient evidence of subsidising to justify proceeding with the investigation; or
- (b) there is insufficient evidence that material injury to a New Zealand industry has been or is being caused or threatened by means of the subsidising.

The Comptroller is satisfied, on the information available, that subsidies are paid to the vegetable oil industry in Canada, the Federal Republic of Germany and the Netherlands (the latter two by virtue of the European Economic Community Common Agricultural Policy).

However after analysis of all the relevant information the Comptroller considers that no causal link exists between the subsidised imports and the injury being experienced by the New Zealand industry.

Accordingly the Comptroller has terminated investigations into the complaint.

Dated this 1st day of August 1988.

M. W. TAYLOR, Comptroller of Customs.
